

A photograph of a young couple lying in bed with their newborn baby. The woman, on the left, has dark hair and is smiling down at the baby. The man, on the right, has a beard and glasses and is also looking at the baby. The baby is sleeping peacefully in the center, wearing a white onesie with a small pattern. The background shows a brass bed frame and white pillows.

Infertility To Family One Mans Story:

Infertility to Family Rocky A. De Lorenzo, 2006-05 This book describes one couples struggle with infertility from the mans perspective After going through various unsuccessful treatments the couple finally embraces the idea of adoption and turns to China because of the many abandoned female babies resulting from Chinas one child population control policy The book provides a candid view of the physical and psychological struggles of an infertile couple and an inspiring story of perseverance and hope

Infertility and its treatments: a review of psycho-social issues , God, Family and Sexuality David W. Torrance, 2011-09-22 This timely book addresses the problem of the family in crisis and challenges us to look at family values from a biblical perspective Some of these are hard questions and we will not all agree on how to tackle them but God Family and Sexuality is a wonderful place to start Linden Bowing CARE Christian faith should be marked by a distinctive lifestyle Nowhere in our culture is that distinctiveness being challenged more than in the area of sexuality This book is a very welcome contribution from a range of well qualified people who argue convincingly that the future of the church and our civilization are at stake Bill Wallace Convener Church of Scotland Board of Social Responsibility a series of well informed and responsible engagements with questions relating to human sexuality a serious attempt to hear God s word speaking amidst the Babel of voices clamoring for attention on these topics should be read widely within and outside the Christian community in the interest of a genuinely plural and balanced public dialogue Trevor Hart Professor of Divinity University of St Andrews

Deviant Bodies Jennifer Terry, Jacqueline L. Urla, 1995-12-22 the papers in Deviant Bodies reveal an ongoing Western preoccupation with the sources of identity and human character Times Literary Supplement Highly recommended for cultural studies The Reader s Review It would be useful for upper level undergraduate and graduate courses in the sociology of the body the history and sociology of science and medicine and women s studies courses particularly those exploring the feminist critiques of science and medicine Contemporary Sociology a powerful deconstruction of the scientific gaze in configuring bodily deviance as a means of legitimating the social order within multiple historical and social contexts the many excellent selections will make for compelling reading for students of medical anthropology and the history of science American Anthropologist Deviant Bodies reveals that the normal healthy body is a fiction of science Modern life sciences medicine and the popular perceptions they create have not merely observed and reported they have constructed bodies the homosexual body the HIV infected body the infertile body the deaf body the colonized body and the criminal body

Toxic Injustice Susanna Rankin Bohme, 2015 The pesticide dibromochloropropane known as DBCP was developed by the chemical companies Dow and Shell in the 1950s to target wormlike soil dwelling creatures called nematodes Despite signs that the chemical was dangerous it was widely used in U S agriculture and on Chiquita and Dole banana plantations in Central America In the late 1970s DBCP was linked to male sterility but an uneven regulatory process left many workers especially on Dole s banana farms exposed for years after health risks were known

Susanna Rankin Bohme tells an intriguing multilayered history that spans fifty years highlighting the transnational reach of corporations and social justice movements Toxic Injustice links health inequalities and worker struggles as it charts how people excluded from workplace and legal protections have found ways to challenge power structures and seek justice from states and transnational corporations alike

Swimming Aimlessly Jon Waldman,2021-03-30 Using his own journey as inspiration writer Jon Waldman offers this heartfelt and funny guide for men and couples struggling with infertility Take a moment to scroll through the contacts on your phone or your friends on Facebook One in six of them is struggling with infertility The affected women have most likely reached out to family close friends support groups or online communities They ask for the help they need and often get it on behalf of themselves and their partners But men don t always handle infertility well Regardless of the underlying cause the inability to conceive naturally can be extremely painful The resulting feelings of inadequacy shame and isolation can change how a man acts towards those closest to him But Jon Waldman wants to change that In Swimming Aimlessly Waldman shares his family s infertility story a years long crazy expensive physically and emotionally exhausting ride He also speaks with other couples doctors and fertility experts providing not only the latest science but more intimate advice about the ups and downs of trying to conceive keeping the partnership healthy and dealing with the inevitable losses that come even when the journey ends in a baby The New Arab Man Marcia C. Inhorn,2012-03-25 Middle Eastern Muslim men have been widely vilified

as terrorists religious zealots and brutal oppressors of women The New Arab Man challenges these stereotypes with the stories of ordinary Middle Eastern men as they struggle to overcome infertility and childlessness through assisted reproduction Drawing on two decades of ethnographic research across the Middle East with hundreds of men from a variety of social and religious backgrounds Marcia Inhorn shows how the new Arab man is self consciously rethinking the patriarchal masculinity of his forefathers and unseating received wisdoms This is especially true in childless Middle Eastern marriages where contrary to popular belief infertility is more common among men than women Inhorn captures the marital moral and material commitments of couples undergoing assisted reproduction revealing how new technologies are transforming their lives and religious sensibilities And she looks at the changing manhood of husbands who undertake transnational egg quests set against the backdrop of war and economic uncertainty out of devotion to the infertile wives they love Trenchant and emotionally gripping The New Arab Man traces the emergence of new masculinities in the Middle East in the era of biotechnology

Reproductive Losses Christa Craven, 2019-05-30 Although there are far more opportunities for LGBTQ people to become parents than there were before the 1990s attention to the reproductive challenges LGBTQ families face has not kept pace Reproductive Losses considers LGBTQ people's experiences with miscarriage stillbirth failed adoptions infertility and sterility Drawing on Craven's training as a feminist anthropologist and her experiences as a queer parent who has experienced loss Reproductive Losses includes detailed stories drawn from over fifty interviews with LGBTQ people including those who carried pregnancies non gestational and adoptive parents and families from a broad range of racial ethnic socio economic and religious backgrounds to consider how they experience loss grief and mourning The book includes productive suggestions and personal narratives of resiliency commemorative strategies and communal support while also acknowledging the adversity many LGBTQ people face as they attempt to form families and the heteronormativity of support resources for those who have experienced reproductive loss This is essential reading for scholars and professionals interested in LGBTQ health and family and for individuals in LGBTQ communities who have experienced loss and those who support them See additional material on the companion website www.lgbtqreproductiveloss.org

Appealing to God or Man Nicholas J. Campbell, 2025-03-31 Appealing to God or Man Contrasting Barrenness and Family Death Narratives in the Hebrew Bible and Ancient Near East argues for a reevaluation of barrenness type scenes in the Hebrew Bible and ancient Near East More specifically the argument is for a distinction women in family death narratives appeal to men while women in barrenness narratives appeal to God Even the male centric epics of the ancient Near East show that women interact with the divine more during barrenness crises e g the wife s prophetic dream in the Etana myth than during family death crises e g male divine narratives in Kirta and Aqhat This distinction not only clarifies the narrative tropes but emphasizes the role of women in these crises and intersects with discussions of household roles in the ancient Near East Male and female roles in marriage and fertility drive the responses of characters in these idealized narrative worlds especially in family death and barrenness narratives
