The Inflatable Woman Rachael Ball, 2015-10-22 A Guardian Best Graphic Book of 2015 Iris or balletgirl 42 as she is known on the internet dating circuit is a zookeeper looking for love when she is diagnosed with breast cancer Overnight her life becomes populated with a carnival of daunting hospital characters Despite the attempts of her friends Maud Granma Suggs Larry the Monkey and a group of singing penguins to comfort her Iris's fears begin to encircle her until all she has to cling to is the attention of a lighthouse keeper called sailor_buoy_39 The Inflatable Woman combines magic realism with the grit of everyday life to create a poignant and surreal journey inside the human psyche Show Me Where It Hurts Monica Chiu, 2023-12-12 In Show Me Where It Hurts Monica Chiu argues that graphic pathography long form comics by and about subjects who suffer from disease or are impaired re vitalizes and re visions various negatively affected corporeal states through hand drawn images By the body and for the body the medium is subversive and reparative and it stands in contradistinction to clinical accounts of illness that tend to disembody or objectify the subject Employing affect theory spatial theory vital materialism and approaches from race and ethnic studies women and gender studies disability studies and comics studies Chiu provides readings of recently published graphic pathography Chiu argues that these kinds of subjective graphic stories by virtue of their narrative and descriptive strengths provide a form of resistance to the authoritative voice of biomedicine and serve as a tool to foster important change in the face of social and economic inequities when it comes to questions of health and healthcare Show Me Where It Hurts reads what already has been manifested on the comics page and invites more of what demands expression Pathbreaking and provocative this book will appeal to scholars and students of the medical humanities comics studies race and ethnic studies disability studies and women and gender studies

Researching Language and Health Zsófia Demjén, Sarah Atkins, Elena Semino, 2023-07-10 Researching Language and Health explores key topics in illness and healthcare contexts through multiple linguistic lenses This book highlights key themes guides readers through the design stages of research and the ethical considerations specific to linguistic health research and brings methods and methodologies to life by demonstrating how these can be applied to specific issues in context Covering a wide range of health conditions healthcare contexts and data types with an emphasis on those most accessible to students and new researchers the authors foreground the so what of research and the impact that linguistic studies can have Both a guide to key elements of the research process and a holistic view of research projects that have been successful insightful and impactful in different contexts this is an essential text for advanced students and researchers in healthcare communication and applied linguistics Visual Metaphor and Embodiment in Graphic Illness Narratives Elisabeth El Refaie, 2019 Metaphors help us understand abstract concepts emotions and social relations through the concrete experience of our own bodies Conceptual Metaphor Theory CMT which dominates the field of contemporary metaphor studies is centered on this claim According to this theory correlations in the way the world is perceived in early childhood e g happy good is up understanding is seeing persist in our conceptual system influencing our thoughts throughout life at a mostly unconscious level What happens though when ordinary embodied experience is disrupted by illness In this book Elisabeth El Refaie explores how metaphors change according to our body's alteration due to disease She analyzes visual metaphor in thirty five graphic illness narratives book length stories about disease in the comics medium re examining embodiment in traditional CMT and proposing the notion of dynamic embodiment Building on recent strands of research within CMT and engaging relevant concepts from phenomenology psychology semiotics and media studies El Refaie demonstrates how the experience of our own bodies is constantly adjusting to changes in our individual states of health socio cultural practices and the modes and media by which we communicate This fundamentally interdisciplinary work also proposes a novel classification system of visual metaphor based on a three way distinction between pictorial spatial and stylistic metaphors This approach will enable readers to advance knowledge and understanding of phenomena involved in shaping our everyday thoughts interactions and behavior

A Good Day's Work Sheila Hollins, Shirley-Anne Wheeler, Wayne McGregor, 2018-07-26 Work is a big part of life for both John and Daisy They get some very important benefits from work like friendship and money to spend on the things they want There are responsibilities too like being on time following policies like health and safety and working well as a team A Good Day's Work shows John and Daisy taking pride in their jobs and understanding their responsibilities well so that they can sort out problems when they crop up The stories can be read together or on their own to help someone think about what the day to day reality of having a job is like or to talk about their own situations and responsibilities and how they can make sure they are getting the most from their job This book is part of a mini series about moving towards work for people with intellectual disabilities UK Feminist

Cartoons and Comics Nicola Streeten, 2020-01-28 This book demonstrates that since the 1970s British feminist cartoons and comics have played an important part in the Women's Movement in Britain A key component of this has been humour This aspect of feminist history in Britain has not previously been documented The book questions why and how British feminists have used humour in comics form to present serious political messages It also interrogates what the implications have been for the development of feminist cartoons and for the popularisation of feminism in Britain The work responds to recent North American feminist comics scholarship that concentrates on North American autobiographical comics of trauma by women This book highlights the relevance of humour and provides a comparative British perspective The time frame is 1970 to 2019 chosen as representative of a significant historical period for the development of feminist cartoon and comics activity and of feminist theory and practice Research methods include archival data collection complemented by interviews with selected cartoonists Visual and textual analysis of specific examples draws on literature from humour theory comics studies and feminist theory Examples are also considered as responses to the economic social and political contexts in which they were produced

Wolf Rachael Ball,2018-10-18 It is the long hot summer of 1976 Hugo the youngest child of three is walking with his father in the woods There he comes face to face with a wolf and from that moment on his life will never be the same again Soon after a tragic accident leaves Hugo desolate and disoriented The family now grieving and incomplete moves to a new home Among Hugo s new neighbors is the Wolf Man a dangerous recluse according to the boy next door Spellbound by the movie The Time Machine and desperate to return to the days before the accident Hugo draws up plans to build a contraption that will turn back time But only the Wolf Man has the parts Hugo needs to complete his machine and that will mean entering his sinister neighbor s house Beautifully illustrated in pencil Wolf is a captivating and poignant graphic novel about confronting childhood grief and overcoming the loss of a loved one A Sackful of Quarters L.M. Favier,2007-06-07 A SACKFUL OF QUARTERS is a collection of short stories set throughout the twelve months of the year Each story is a seasonal account of one particular character s life experience The glue that holds them all together is that each woman or girl originally perceives herself through familial or societal eyes and comes to a better understanding of who she really is as a result of the incidents that occur within the story January FRESH SLATE USED CHALK This story recounts the liberation of the abused wife of a prominent doctor and how she leaves him only to discover that she is immediately drawn to an individual who although outwardly the complete opposite of her husband has the potential to do her harm How she deals with the revelation establishes the foundation for a new life filled with promise FEBRUARY ETUDE FOR A WINTER S AFTERNOON A fifth grade girl spends the Valentine season learning about unselfish love and class prejudice in this fifties piece set in Chicago neighborhood The great melting pot is not as advertised The reflection she sees in the mirror is not necessarily how others view her and she has miles to go before she sleeps MARCH ERIN GO BRAUGH A prostitute in a seedy motel considers how she came to such an end She recalls how she started out with high expectations and remembers her first real love a mechanic in the town garage She comes to terms with her past finally resolving the conflicts that caused her fall APRIL GOT THOSE AIN T WHERE YOU ARE PARK BENCH BLUES Once great blues singer Jonna Knight finds herself past seventy penniless and at the bottom of the barrel living homeless on the streets of New York City After spending the night under a blanket of newspapers on a Central Park bench she encounters aspiring songstress Mona The young Jewess joins her after dropping her portfolio scattering its invaluable contents in the early morning wind Mona vents her frustrations almost oblivious of the old black woman who seems most interested in her diatribe She s tired of paying her dues exhausted from daily rejections from prospective employers more concerned with her obvious ethnicity than her talent and depressed enough to call it quits and retreat to the comfort of her affluent home A morning chat with the legendary vocalist teaches her an invaluable lesson and earns her a surprise to boot MAY BLOSSOM TIME FOR MAUDE ROSE Maude Rose a spinster who spent the fruitful years of her twenties and thirties traveling the globe with her widower father enjoys an early summer evening on the porch with her gentleman caller They sip lemonade She offers him cookies shares gossip and makes observations about the flawlessly beautiful but barren apple tree in her front yard Her caller never speaks but as Maude Rose rambles on his silence reveals some meaningful insights about herself and others in their small Southern community JUNE GEMINI WITH SCORPIO RISING Twins one plain and one fair come to terms with their individuality in the liberated seventies They are both dating the same man who is equally attracted to them for different reasons As the story unfolds the plain sister falls deeply in love and her beautiful counterpart learns something about her own emergent sexuality that she is both frightened and eager to share with her twin JULY AN ANATOMY OF THE AMERICAN DREAM GONE ASKEW A newlywed in June pregnant in July and far too soon for a yuppie husband who has their storybook life planned down to the last white picket in the fence that will surround their custom built house But times have changed and she s come a long way baby to where

River Meets the Sea Rachael Moorthy,2023-05-30 A spellbinding spirited tale of two men exploring masculinity race and belonging in a desperate search to feel at home in their own skins An enthralling nautical epic River Meets the Sea traces the dual timelines of a white passing Indigenous foster child in 1940s Vancouver and a teenage immigrant in the suburbs of Nanaimo in the 1970s A natural born storyteller Ronny is a left handed alley mutt without a birth certificate who searches for his mother everywhere most powerfully he hears her voice in the surging St l River Born in the middle of the ocean on a merchant ship departing Sri Lanka Chandra is a Tamil boy with skin like a charred eggplant who finds his haven from the pressure to assimilate by swimming and surfing in the Salish Sea Moving gracefully between these parallel stories like a wave the novel traces the seemingly separate lives of these sensitive young men and their everlasting connections to water When their troubled paths inevitably cross they form a sacred bond based on the mutual understanding of what it means to be othered illuminating the interconnectedness of humanity and our innate relationship with the natural world

Infertility Comics and Graphic Medicine Chinmay Murali,Sathyaraj Venkatesan,2021-07-13 Infertility Comics and Graphic Medicine examines women s graphic memoirs on infertility foregrounding the complex interrelationship between women s life writing infertility studies and graphic medicine Through a scholarly examination of the artists use of visual verbal codes of the comics medium in narrating their physical ordeals and affective challenges occasioned by infertility the book seeks to foreground the intricacies of gender identity embodiment subjectivity and illness experience Providing long overdue scholarly attention on the perspectives of autobiographical and comics studies the authors examine the gendered nature of the infertility experience and the notion of motherhood as an ideological force which interpolates socio cultural discourses accentuating the potential of graphic medicine as a creative space for the infertile women to voice their hitherto silenced perspectives on childlessness with force and urgency This interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to scholars and students in comics studies the health humanities literature and women s and gender studies and will also be suitable for readers in visual studies and narrative medicine
