Future is Tomorrow Martinus Nijhoff, 1987-08-31 The European Cultural Foundation has conceived an ambitious project by means of interdisciplinary studies on an international basis it is setting out to forecast the future of Europe in the year 2000 in four major fields of human development education industrialization urbanization and the transformation of rural society In this sense forecasting implies defining what is inevitable in the future of this civilization and identifying the choices open to Europeans in so far as they are free to exert their collective will to influence the future I should like here to pay due tribute to the Secretary General of the Foundation Mr George Sluizer who had the boldness to launch this initiative the drive and perseverance to mobilize sufficient funds to carry it into effect and the clear sightedness to devise bodies and procedures that could serve as a flexible and effective framework for the development necessarily aleatory of such a large scale project A udaces fortuna juvat Our friend Sluizer must often have modelled his attitude on that of his great compatriot William the Silent thinking to himself It is not necessary to hope in order to act nor to succeed in order to persevere If this maxim was good enough to forge a nation it can also serve our purposes to day Phenomenology of Feeling Stephan Strasser, 1977
