Great Qing Painting In China 1644 1911:

Great Qing Claudia Brown, 2020-02-04 Addressing the previous lack of a comprehensive English language study of Qing painting art historian Claudia Brown's account ranges from the tumultuous Ming Qing transition to the end of imperial rule. In response to omissions in previous treatments she examines major influences shaping the period and explores the relationship between painting and mapmaking the role of patrons and collectors printmaking and publishing religious themes and Western influences. With more than two hundred color illustrations Great Qing highlights fine examples of Qing painting in American museums works from all regions of China and paintings by women. Imperial China, 1350-1900 Jonathan Porter, 2016-02-04 This clear and engaging book provides a concise overview of the Ming Qing epoch 1368 1912. China's last imperial age. Beginning with the end of the Mongol domination of China in 1368 this five century period was remarkable for its continuity and stability until its downfall in the Revolution of 1911. Viewing the Ming and Qing dynasties as a coherent era characterized by the fruition of diverse developments from earliest times Jonathan Porter traces the growth of imperial autocracy the role of the educated Confucian elite as custodians of cultural authority the significance of ritual as the grounding of political and social order the tension between monarchy and bureaucracy in political discourse the evolution of Chinese cultural identity and the perception of the barbarian and other views of the world beyond China. As the climax of traditional Chinese history and the harbinger of modern China in the twentieth century Porter argues that imperial China must be explored for its own sake as well as for the essential foundation it provides in understanding contemporary China and indeed world history writ large. The Borders of Chinese Architecture Nancy Shatzman Steinhardt, 2022-03-22 Chinese architecture is astonishingly uniform. Dominic Lieven's expansive book explores strengths and failings of the human beings who held those empires together or let them crumble. He projects the power terror magnificence and confidence of imperial monarchy tracking what they had in common as well as what made some rise to glory and others fail spectacularly and at what price each destiny was reached. Lieven's characters Constantine Chinggis Khan Trajan Suleyman Hadrian Louis XIV Maria Theresa Peter the Great Queen Victoria and dozens more come alive with color energy and detail their upbringings their loves their crucial spouses their dreadful children They illustrate how politics and government are a gruelling business a ruler needed stamina mental and physical toughness and self confidence He or she needed the sound judgement of problems and people which is partly innate but also the product of education and experience A good brain was essential for setting priorities weighing conflicting advice and matching ends to needs A diplomatically astute marriage was often even more essential Emperors and the rare empresses could be sacred symbols warrior kings political leaders chief executive officers of the government machine heads of a family and impresarios directing the many elements of soft power essential to any regime s survival What was it like to live and work in such an extraordinary role What qualities did it take to perform this role successfully Lieven traces the shifting balance among these elements across eras that encompass a staggering array of events from the rise of the world s great religions to the scientific revolution the expansion of European empires across oceans the great twentieth century conflicts and the triumph of nationalism over imperialism The rule of the emperor may be over but Lieven shows us how we live with its political and cultural legacies today

Mandalas: Mapping the Buddhist Art of Tibet Kurt Behrendt, 2024-09-16 A mandala is a diagram of the universe, a map of true reality intended to provide a focus for Buddhist religious practice and inspire the devout. This book highlights the distinctive Tibetan approach to creating mandalas, exploring how it crossed over from India into Tibet and how continuous exchanges of art and ideas between the two cultures, led by monks and spiritual teachers, gave rise to a uniquely Tibetan style of Buddhist imagery. Featuring more than one hundred paintings, sculptures, and ritual objects, this superbly illustrated volume reflects the dazzling complexities of the Tibetan imagery that has provided a foundation for mandalas through the centuries. Most notably, a mesmerizing installation by the Tibetan American artist Tenzing Rigdol, b. 1982, specially created for the accompanying exhibition and published here for the first time, offers contemporary audiences a way of interrogating and understanding their world and underscores how this ancient tradition remains a vibrant living practice. The Culture of China Britannica Educational Publishing, 2010-04-01 Reverberations of China's diversity and multiethnic heritage are visible in everything from the cuisine and languages to the beliefs and arts of the vast nation. In addition to linking the Chinese to their rich past, a number of these traditions have been absorbed by cultures around the world and have granted many entrance into a nation otherwise far removed from their own. This volume treats readers to a unique sensory experience, allowing them to better appreciate the sights, sounds, and tastes that have been developed and refined in China for centuries. Jizi and His Art in Contemporary China David Adam Brubaker, Chunchen Wang, 2015-02-12 This interdisciplinary study promotes the thesis that some contemporary Chinese ink artists succeed in using principles of traditional Chinese aesthetics to convey the union of self with nature, others, and the universe. The investigation is a case study of the writings and paintings of Jizi, an ink wash artist in Beijing who combines images of icy mountains, Tibetan landscapes, cosmic vistas, and enclosures of personal existence. Jizi's success in expressing the unification of these dimensions is confirmed by developing and applying an interpretation of Jing Hao's classic description of the authentic image, which resonates with the vitality of nature. To find words for resonance with visible nature, the inquiry extends to such writers as Li Zehou, Arthur Danto, and Maurice Merleau-Ponty. In short, an account of authenticity in Chinese ink painting is offered experimentally as a means for assessing whether contemporary Chinese artworks are expressive of Chinese philosophy and culture. The text includes stylistic comparisons with artists such as E. C. Escher, Guo Xi, Jia Youfu, Liu Guosong, Rene Magritte, Piet Mondrian, and Xu Bing. The result is an appreciation of the healing influence of Chinese ink art in a global culture that is vibrant complex diverse and affirming of the present In this rigorous far reaching and original analysis of contemporary ink art painting Brubaker and Wang focus our attention on the work of one independent painter Jizi whose work exemplifies an uncanny marriage between ink art and contemporary concerns In the central chapters Brubaker persuasively argues that in this work Jizi captures principles essential to traditional Chinese aesthetics articulated in terms of wholeness emptiness and visibility that enable the works to express the unification of the self with nature and the universe as a whole It does this through forms that are innovative and part of artistic practices and discourses that are becoming increasingly global Mary Wiseman The City University of New York This important publication focuses on the evocative ink wash paintings of an artist who has over the course of decades demonstrated an unwavering commitment to exploring the technical formal philosophical and experiential dimensions of his chosen medium The essays commentaries and critical reflections collected in this volume present unique perspectives on Jizi s practice significantly contributing to the growing body of scholarship on the continuing vitality of the ink wash tradition in the global contemporary Dr Wenny Teo The Courtauld Institute of Art Through an in depth study of the ink painting practice of contemporary Chinese artist Jizi the authors discover Chinese ink painting s philosophical perspectives cosmic foundations and contemporary possibilities They also uncovered a way to enter into the artist s rich and profound spiritual world through Jiazi s expansive visual patterning and refined spiritual imagery he activates a long and great cultural tradition Yu Yang Central Academy of Fine Arts
