Gypsy Academics And Mother Teachers Crosscurrents:

Gypsy Academics and Mother-teachers Eileen E. Schell, 1998 Eileen Schell investigates from a feminist perspective the complex reasons why women are disproportionately represented in the ranks of contingent writing faculty Gypsy Scholars, Migrant Teachers and the Global Academic Proletariat, 2007-01-01 Once adjunct teaching was considered a temporary solution to faculty shortages in institutions of higher education Now it is a permanent and indispensable feature of such institutions not just in the U S but worldwide This book takes stock of this new development concentrating primarily on the situation in the humanities It looks at its impact on the lives of the highly educated scholars and teachers from many parts of the world scholars waking up to the sobering fact that higher education presents them with a two tiered labour market in which they themselves are permanently barred from moving up to the higher tier To them being an adjunct teacher means experiencing frustration and humiliation All essays in this book offer personal accounts of adjuncts experiences together with critical reflections on institutional conditions and suggestions for their improvement In turn defiant poignant analytical exasperated and sardonic these essays are always incisive and revealing Their inside view a view from below shows higher education as a world different from how it appears to tenured professors and university administrators different from that presented in most college brochures For all those who care about the current state and the future of higher education no matter if they are teachers scholars students parents or administrators this book will offer valuable insights into the working world of academic teaching A Cross-Cultural Examination of Women in Higher Education and the Workplace Abu-Lughod, Reem A., 2024-06-03 The global evolution of women s rights throughout history follows an arduous path from suffrage to the modern era of workplace inclusion In pursuing gender equality and social progress nations worldwide have embarked on transformative journeys to empower women A Cross Cultural Examination of Women in Higher Education and the Workplace delves deep into this global movement comprehensively exploring the multifaceted challenges and triumphs women face as they navigate the intricate tapestry of higher education and professional environments This book weaves together insights from diverse fields such as social stratification women s studies race and ethnic studies public policy and ethics For educators in higher education and across disciplines it provides an indispensable resource aligning perfectly with a variety of course teachings and research objectives Challenges of Globalization and Inclusivity in Academic Research Chakraborty, Swati, 2024-02-19 As the world becomes increasingly interconnected complexities arise in ensuring inclusivity and diversity in research practices Challenges of Globalization and Inclusivity in Academic Research examines the impact of globalization on academic research within the domains of social sciences religion and technology Through meticulous analysis and case studies it dissects the multifaceted effects of globalization shedding light on how it has shaped research questions methodologies and teaching approaches in these critical disciplines This book is an exploration of challenges and a guidebook for positive change It navigates through topics such as unconscious bias in research gender representation in academia and ethical considerations in international collaborations It encourages readers to develop a nuanced understanding of the need for diversity and inclusivity in research practices laying the foundation for a more equitable and globally connected research community This book is ideal for researchers academics policymakers administrators Diversity Equity and Inclusion DEI advocates and cross cultural collaborators Equality for Contingent Faculty Keith Hoeller,2021-04-30 Vice President Joseph Biden has blamed tuition increases on the high salaries of college professors seemingly unaware of the fact that there are now over one million faculty who earn poverty level wages teaching off the tenure track The Chronicle of Higher Education ran a story entitled From Graduate School to Welfare The PhD Now Comes with Food Stamps Today three fourths of all faculty are characterized as contingent instructional staff a nearly tenfold increase from 1975 Equality for Contingent Faculty brings together eleven activists from the United States and Canada to describe the problem share case histories and offer concrete solutions The book begins with three accounts of successful organizing efforts within the two track system The second part describes how the two track system divides the faculty into haves and have nots and leaves the majority without the benefit of academic freedom or the support of their institutions The third part offers roadmaps for overcoming the deficiencies of the two track system and providing equality for all professors regardless of status or rank Teaching Writing Christina Russell McDonald,Robert L. McDonald,2002 Teaching Writing Landmarks and Horizons edited by Christina Russell McDonald and Robert L McDonald is designed to present an overview of some of the major developments in the establishment of composition studies as a field during the past thirty five years The essays are theoretically grounded but are focused on pedagogy as well Divided into two parts the first presents nine landmark essays selected and introduced by distinguished composition scholars and the second brings together eight new essays by emerging scholars Gypsy Academics and Mother-teachers Eileen E. Schell,1998 Eileen Schell investigates from a feminist perspective the complex reasons why women are disproportionately represented in the ranks of contingent writing faculty Composition(s) in the New Liberal Arts Joanna Castner Post,James A. Inman,2009 This book brings a diverse group of scholars together to discuss how composition studies should evolve in the context of ongoing changes related to higher education These changes include new shifts in student demographics increasing demands for accountability in educational outcomes continuing expectations that a university education will lead to a good job questions about the utility of composition and more Such commonly cited changes have been occurring for quite some time creating the necessity for compositionists to continually re evaluate their approaches to writing instruction The editors believe that composition studies has entered an exciting period of change with opportunities to consider new places and purposes for writing instruction WPA, Writing Program Administration ,2003 Coming to Class Alan Shepard,John McMillan,John Welton McMillan,Gary Tate,1998 Coming to Class presents twenty one original essays on the relationship of pedagogical practice to instructors social class histories Feminist Empirical Research Joanne Addison,Sharon James McGee,1999 Comprises 11 papers by women teachers and researchers in the field of rhetoric and composition Examines theoretical methodological and practical aspects of empirical feminist research and teacher research The War Against Grammar David D.

Mulroy,2003 Whether championing the grammatical analysis of phrases and clauses or arguing for the vital importance of sentence diagramming Mulroy offers a lucid learned passionate account of the history importance and value of grammar

Grading in the Post-process Classroom Libby Allison,Lizbeth Bryant,Maureen M. Hourigan,1997 Grading in the Post Process Classroom tackles that all important and difficult issue How do we fulfill our responsibilities to the traditional academy and still teach our students to become resistant critical thinkers While the question is not new new faces and voices in the field as well as the advent of virtual writing classrooms require different responses Currently most articles on the subject of grading end with the suggestion that teachers should not give grades an alternative that few instructors find viable especially in an era of increasing calls for teacher accountability Grading in the Post Process Classroom answers the question of what to do when theory and practice collide In addition to discussions of the ideology of grading it offers specific alternative theoretically informed grading schemes from narrative evaluation contract grading and new ways to configure portfolio grading to how to grade in cyberspace Included are pieces by both established scholars and new voices in the field Interspersed among the theory chapters are shorter personal self reflexive essays that consider how to negotiate political pressures within a department Multiple Genres, Multiple Voices Cheryl L. Johnson,Jayne Moneysmith,2005 Explores the many perspectives of an argument by using multiple genres written from different points of view Good Intentions

Nancy Maloney Grimm,1999 Writing centers cannot resolve the national confusion about literacy but over time they can contribute to a better understanding and more democratic approaches to literacy education But to do this writing centers need to be more fully engaged with the paradox of literacy the way that literacy both dominates and liberates both demands submission and offers the promise of agency Nancy Grimm believes that postmodern theory which emphasizes the diversity of our society offers the best opportunities for this engagement Her book offers a fundamental reconsideration of writing center work work she maintains that must be informed by an understanding of the cultural role of literacy education Because so many educational practices are based on tacit assumptions about the normal way to do things Grimm argues that both the teaching and tutoring of literacy must be informed by a radical reconsideration of academic fairness Change will depend on the willingness of comfortably situated people to open themselves to authentic listening and the possibilities of having their world views transformed by writing center students Good intentions alone particularly good intentions grounded in a missionary narrative are not enough to overcome the potentially oppressive nature of literacy education Grimm begins by positioning the debate about the function of the writing center in the larger cultural conflict created by postmodern conditions She locates writing center work within the historical contradictions of literacy then analyzes the way composition teaching regulates an academic identity She goes on to show how postmodern theories of subjectivity offer ways to intervene in that regulation After reconceptualizing the politics of writing center administration Grimm ultimately argues for a conception of fairness that holds writing center workers responsible for not only granting students membership to the academic literacy club but also for changing the gates of that club when change is necessary Good Intentions is essential reading for educators involved with writing centers in any capacity whether they be directors researchers professional and undergraduate staff or simply teachers of students who use writing centers Miss Grundy Doesn't Teach Here Anymore Diane Penrod,1997 Compositionists can either continue to hold the high ground against the influences of popular culture or as Diane Penrod's book argues accommodate it creatively turning its pervasiveness into engaging immediately useful writing instruction Sentimental Attachments Janet Carey Eldred,2005 This book was written first and foremost for other writers begins Janet Carey Eldred's extraordinary work of blended genres For Eldred teachers of writing need to experience the art and craft of composing creative nonfiction and essays firsthand exploring multiple perspectives genres styles modes structures and subjects They will be at their best she argues if they enact what they profess Sentimental Attachments opens and closes with important and passionate arguments about why teachers of composition must also be writers of what Eldred calls lived experience At its center however the book offers a series of lyrical evocative exploratory essays that address a range of essential and complex questions How do we compose our personal and professional identities How do we represent our different selves without compromising other parts of our lives and perhaps even more important the lives of others How do we maintain a strong voice in the world without losing sight of other people places histories and ideas Like others who defy the conventional view that we must hold the personal separate from the political or the professional Janet Carey Eldred believes that teachers of writing must compose themselves as they help others to compose We are living drafts in progress she writes and in Sentimental Attachments she models the kinds of composition and revision that make life and the life of writing and teaching meaningful Coming of Age Linda K. Shamoon,2000 Part book part CD ROM Coming of Age marks a new age in curriculum development offering innovative new ideas for transforming advanced writing courses Together these essays describe and offer concrete examples of curriculum that incorporates discipline based theory and history that situates writers in public discourse and that fully prepares students for careers as writers Because Coming of Age is intended to instigate direct immediate curriculum and pedagogical action it is ideally suited to the book CD ROM format that the authors call print linked publishing The theoretical framework is presented in the solid stable medium of print Part I proposes the move from advanced composition to advanced writing and along with Part II argues for what the undergraduate writing curriculum should accomplish The generative course descriptions and program recommendations are presented in the interactive medium of a CD ROM Here you'll find Parts III and IV which explain and demonstrate how to accomplish these goals discuss ways to implement such curriculum and provide concrete suggestions from a variety of campuses that have done so The CD ROM also features a full list of course descriptions for each selection All of the electronic material can be downloaded as you compose your own curriculum and course proposals

Latino/a Discourses Michelle Hall Kells, Valerie M. Life-affirming Acts Hector Julio Vila, 2000 Life Affirming Acts is a journey into trust trusting what students know and what teachers and students can produce when they collaborate in nurturing and creative environments It is a unique and engaging expose of the living working classroom and one teacher s struggle to help his students reach their spiritual and intellectual potential According to Hector Vila Teaching and learning are about seeing really seeing deeply penetratingly and in an environment that nurtures the audacity we require to experience and examine fail and criticize and then describe The fundamental premise of his book is that we are repressing and even rejecting the language of our students especially in our reliance on staid and even oppressive methods of education Vila takes a probing look at his own evolution as a teacher and emerges with fresh insight into how and why pedagogical choices are achieved What s more he offers a prescription for change based upon his own experiences with solutions and methods for confronting some of our field s most demanding issues How do we work in crowded inner city classrooms where students have disparate learning backgrounds How do we create learning environments that challenge the negativity inherent in remediation How do we create curricula that parallel upper level courses and still ensure that our students feel safe enough to experiment with challenging materials not usually taught in remedial courses Keeping with postmodern sensibilities Life Affirming Acts can be read in many different ways Readers can move cover to cover experiencing the narrative as a whole or section by section focusing on classroom descriptions the reasons for pedagogical choices or assignments that they can replicate and use All in all readers will be encouraged to join in the journey
