

The background of the cover is a ceramic artwork by Wayne Higby. It features a central, vertical, reddish-brown form that resembles a stylized mountain or a large, textured vase. This central form is flanked by lighter, greyish-white areas that have a mottled, stone-like texture. At the base of the central form, there are horizontal bands of teal and green, suggesting a body of water or a river. The overall composition is abstract and layered, with various textures and colors that create a sense of depth and complexity.

Infinite Place The Ceramic Art Of Wayne Higby:

Infinite Place Peter Held, 2013-03-28 The present publication is an essential part of the narrative of Wayne Higby's retrospective exhibition focusing on the concept of the artist scholar at ASU Art Museum in Spring 2013. It documents his ceramic work with over 150 images of 50 seminal works and gives context to the story behind the artwork. Wayne Higby's international reputation both as an artist, a scholar, and teacher will be explored in the contributions to this book that includes a detailed chronology of Higby's life and career as well as highlights and excerpts from his well-known writings on ceramic art. Essays on the American Landscape and American landscape art as the inspiration behind Higby's work as well as his important influential explorations into contemporary vessel aesthetics are included along with an essay that chronicles his central role in the development of contemporary Chinese ceramic art. Additionally, Higby's recent dramatic late career move to large architectural installations is explored in detail. Born in Colorado Springs, Colorado, Wayne Higby received a B.F.A. from the University of Colorado at Boulder in 1966 and an M.F.A. from the University of Michigan Ann Arbor in 1968. Since 1973, he has been on the faculty of the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University, Alfred, NY. Wayne Higby is recognized as one of the most important and influential ceramic artists of the late 20th and early 21st century. In particular, his work is celebrated for its innovative use of the language of landscape. Contents: Helen Williams Drutt Foreword, Peter Held Overview, Statement, Henry Saye The American Landscape, Tanya Harrod The Vessel in Contemporary Art, Ezra Shales The Artistic Scholar, Mary McInnes Architectural Work, Carla Coch China Journal, Appendix, Chronology, Biography, Works in Public Collections, Bibliography, Artist Statements, Artist's Acknowledgements.

Crafting a Continuum Peter Held, Heather Sealy Lineberry, 2013-11-22 The Arizona State University Art Museum is renowned for its extensive and notable craft collection and features international acquisitions in wood, ceramic, and fiber. This book, edited by the museum's curators, uses the ASU collection to explore the idea of craft within a critical context as both idea and action. Crafting a Continuum begins with the genesis of the craft collection and relates it to the historical development of craft in the United States and abroad, exploring both anthropological and cultural concepts of the field. Peter Held and Heather Sealy Lineberry present photographs of the museum's objects alongside essays by distinguished scholars to illuminate historical and contemporary trends. Sidebars and essays by writers in the craft field offer a broad overview of the future of contemporary craft.
