Growth Experience In Transition Countries 1990 98 Occasional Paper Intl Monetary Fund:

Return to Growth in CIS Countries Lúcio Vinhas de Souza, Oleh Havrylyshyn, 2006-08-29 The aim of this book is to analyse specific sets of macro and structural policies in selected Eastern European countries The book includes studies on the major Western CIS countries Belarus Russia and Ukraine plus a set of cross country and regional studies The analysis in this book contributes importantly to the discussion about the economic prospects of the CIS countries A Decade of Transition Mr. Oleh Havrylyshyn, Mr. Saleh M. Nsouli, 2001-04-27 This volume reviews the experience of 25 non Asian transition economies 10 years into their transformation to market economies The volume is based on an IMF conference held in February 1999 in Washington D C to take stock of the achievements and the challenges of transition in the context of three questions How far has transition progressed in each country What factors explain the differences in the progress made And what remains to be done IMF Macroeconomic Research on Low-Income Countries International Monetary Fund, 2004-01-30 Summarizes the forward looking analytical work program on macroeconomic issues related to the Poverty Reduction Strategy Paper approach The program is evolving through a process that began with a technical workshop participants from low income countries donors academia and civil society drafted guidance on selected issues and identified priority research topics Partners policymakers and economic scholars are encouraged to share their perspectives and findings through respective team leaders whose e mail addresses are provided The publication also summarizes IMF analytical work and contains a bibliography of nearly 1 000 papers Growth and Recovery in Mongolia During Transition Mr. Kevin C. Cheng, 2003-11-01 This paper studies Mongolia's experience of growth and recovery during the first decade of its transition to a market based system and compares it with those of other transition economies Mongolia like most other transition economies experienced a painful initial transformational recession before the economy began to recover with efficiency gains the main source of growth during the early stages of transition Mongolia's transition process has been relatively smooth compared with other transition economies probably reflecting the combined effects of some favorable initial conditions coupled with the early adoption of appropriate adjustment policies and market oriented reforms

World Economic Outlook, October 2000 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept., 2000-09-19 The World Economic Outlook published twice a year in English French Spanish and Arabic presents IMF staff economists analyses of global economic developments during the near and medium term Chapters give an overview of the world economy consider issues affecting industrial countries developing countries and economies in transition to market and address topics of pressing current interest Annexes boxes charts and an extensive statistical appendix augment the text Economic and Financial Crises in Emerging Market Economies Martin Feldstein, 2007-11-01 In the late 1990s economic and financial crises raged through East Asia devastating economies that had previously been considered among the strongest in the developing world The crises eventually spread to Russia Turkey and Latin America and impacted the economies of many industrialized nations as well. In today's increasingly interdependent world finding ways to reduce the risk of future crises and to improve the management of crises when they occur has become an international policy challenge of paramount importance. This book rises to that challenge presenting accessible papers and commentaries on the topic not only from leading academic economists but also from high ranking government officials in both industrial and developing nations senior policymakers at international institutions and major financial investors. Six non technical papers each written by a specialist in the topic provide essential economic background introducing sections on exchange rate regimes financial policies industrial country policies IMF stabilization policies IMF structural programs and creditor relations. Next personal statements from the major players give firsthand accounts of what really went on behind the scenes during the crises giving us a rare glimpse into how international economic policy decisions are actually made. Finally wide ranging discussions and debates sparked by these papers and statements are summarized at the end of each section. The result is an indispensable overview of the key issues at work in these crises written by the people who move markets and reshape economies and accessible to not just economists and policymakers but also to educated general readers.

IEO Evaluation Report on the IMF's Approach to Capital Account Liberalization 2005 International Monetary Fund. Independent Evaluation Office, 2005-08-09 Drawing on evidence from a sample of emerging market economies over the period 1990-2004 this evaluation report reviews the IMF's approach to capital account liberalization and related issues. The evaluation seeks to contribute to transparency by documenting what in practice has been the IMF's approach to these issues and to identify areas where the IMF's instruments and operating methods might be improved in order to deal with these issues more effectively.

Economic Reforms in Kazakhstan, Kyrgyz Republic, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan International Monetary Fund, 1999-08-31 This occasional paper provides an overview of the economic reform experiences of the Central Asian states of the former Soviet Union since their independence at the turn of the decade. The choice of countries reflects not only a geographical grouping but also similarities in the types of transition challenges faced by these countries notwithstanding considerable variations in their sizes ethnic composition resource endowments and economic structures. The paper attempts to identify a number of key macroeconomic and structural areas where the slower reformers in the group might benefit from the experience of the faster reformers.

The Economies of South Eastern Europe C. Papazoglou, 2005-05-04 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the main factors that affected the course of the countries of South Eastern Europe during transition contributing as a result to their disappointing economic performance. Thus the role of initial conditions and issues concerning the effectiveness of macroeconomic stabilization and structural reforms are at the centre of the analysis Furthermore this volume focuses on developments and issues concerning international trade patterns foreign direct investment and the impact of the Euro on the exchange rate policies of the countries in the region IMF Staff Papers, Volume 48, Special Issue, Transition Economies, How Much Progress? Mr. Richard D. Haas, Ms. Ratna Sahay, Oli Havrylyshyn, Mr. Oleh Havrylyshyn, 2002-04-25 This chapter is the collection of eight papers on different aspects of the first 10 years of economic transition Transition issues have appeared initially quite controversial There have been controversies on the speed of reforms privatization methods the role and organization of government the kind of financial system needed etc Although these controversies often have been ideological they also reflect to a large extent the initial ignorance and unpreparedness of the economics profession with respect to the large Resident representatives in transforming economies have had a unique opportunity to witness and participate in one of the most interesting and challenging events of the economics profession in the past 50 years the transformation of centrally planned economies into market based systems The job is intellectually fascinating frequently extremely rewarding occasionally frustrating however never boring The decline in cash revenue in Russia has been the key macroeconomic policy failure of the transition This paper argues that the fall in cash compliance emerged when money printing was replaced with a method of budget financing that did not in the short run compromise the government's goals of low inflation a stable exchange rate and low interest rates but which ultimately has led the government into a low cash revenue trap

Divergent Paths in Post-Communist Transformation O. Havrylyshyn, 2006-02-20 The most comprehensive and up to date analysis of the successes and failures of 27 countries post communism transformation Looking at life after the fall of the Berlin wall in 1989 the book examines and contrasts why some countries have virtually completed their transformation to a liberal polity and economy while others lag behind Transition Economics Peter Luke, 2012-07-26 Celebrating twenty years of transition from socialism to capitalism this book is designed to be the core textbook for undergraduate courses in transition economics and comparative economic systems Given the passage of time Transition Economics Two Decades On reviews and accounts for the outcomes in the so called transition economies and from an academic perspective takes the reader through developments and issues in the twenty years of transition from plan to market Treating its subject matter thematically the book incorporates much of the transition economics literature and evidence that have evolved over the past two decades In particular the authors focus on the most important aspects of economic transition including The initial conditions at the outset of transition Paradigms and patterns of transition The main transition policies and economic reforms The performance of transition countries and firms The lessons from transition The textbook covers a wide range of both contemporary microeconomic and macroeconomic issues in over thirty ex socialist European and Asian countries including Russia and China Transition Economics Two Decades On is more than just a book about a particular part of the world or the transformation that was experienced at a particular time in history The authors believe that the study of the economics of transition gives the reader an insight into theories policies reforms legacies institutions processes and lessons that have application and relevance beyond the specific transition from plan to market to other parts of the world and to other times in history

Compliance with IMF Program Indicators and Growth in Transition Economies Ms. Valerie Mercer-Blackman, Ms. Anna Unigovskaya, 2000-03-01 This paper makes use of the IMF's Database for Monitoring Fund Arrangements MONA to investigate whether transition countries that more successfully implement the conditionality of IMF programs tend to show a better performance on recovery and growth It is not possible to determine a clear cut relationship between the index that determines the level of compliance with structural benchmarks in IMF programs and growth However the paper finds a definite positive relationship between the index of compliance with performance criteria and growth even after controlling for the extent of stabilization of the transition countries

IMF Structural Conditionality Morris Goldstein, 2001 Trade, Currencies, and Finance Morris Goldstein, 2017-03-17 The book includes selected papers of Morris Goldstein on the following topics in international macroeconomics international trade currency regimes exchange rate policy international policy coordination banking financial crises financial regulation IMF policies and China's exchange rate policy Some of the papers are empirical in nature while others address key policy issues in international macroeconomics Many of the papers are co-authored with other well known international economists including Jacob Frenkel Mohsin Khan Nicholas Lardy Peter Montiel Michael Mussa Carmen Reinhart and Philip Turner among others Taken as a group the papers should give the reader a good picture of many of the most important issues in international macroeconomics over the past 35 years

Institutional Barriers in the Transition to Market C. Hartwell, 2013-04-30 Examines the institutional developments in 28 transition economies over the past two decades and concludes that contrary to popular belief institutions were not neglected while personalities mattered as much as policies for outcomes getting the basic institutions right was the most important aspect of a successful transition

Progress Toward the Unification of Europe Helena Tang, 2000-01-01 Ten countries of Central and Eastern Europe and the Baltic CEECs are candidates to join an enlarged European Union EU in the years to come The ten are Bulgaria the Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Latvia Lithuania Poland Romania the Slovak Republic and Slovenia This enlargement will bring many opportunities to the both the EU and the candidate countries For the EU it will bring enhanced weight and influence For the candidate countries it should mean an improvement of their long term growth prospects by providing access to an open single market The accession process is providing the impetus for the acceleration of much needed economic political institutional and social reforms in some of the CEECs as they strive to meet EU membership requirements The key for the CEECs is to achieve sustained high long term growth in order to meet their ultimate objective of accession The EU has already concluded agreements with the CEECs which went beyond the narrowly conceived ideas of market access to include the alignment of the CEEC economic system with that of the EU s This report sets out the future agenda for the successful integration of the CEECs into an enlarged EU The first priority is for each country to complete its own process of transition to a free market democratic state In short this will mean that many will have to address their fiscal challenges and ensure fiscal sustainability the challenge of global financial integration opening of their capital accounts the strengthening of their administrative capacity the reduction of unemployment and the promotion of social inclusion

Of Openess and Distance Ms.Katrin Elborgh-Woytek,2003-10-01 This paper analyzes developments in the structure of trade in the Commonwealth of Independent States CIS during the transition decade and finds that it changed less than in other transition economies Trade openness of the CIS increased between 1993 and 1997 but has fallen to a lower level plateau since then owing to regional and country specific factors These include slower progress in transition geographic aspects restrictions on trade governance and corruption problems weak infrastructure lack of regional cooperation and political conflicts Regression results show that trade openness of the CIS countries would likely increase substantially if market oriented reforms were pursued more vigorously
