Lasky, 2010-06-01 The latest soaring installment of Kathryn Lasky's NYT bestselling Ga Hoole series Grank raises the hatchling deep in a forest far from owls that would kill the royal chick named Hoole to end the kingly line His mother comes to visit in disguise and departs again Not even the chick must know his mother's identity It would give him away as Hrath's heir Sent by an evil warlord a hagsfiend attempts to lure young Hoole away when he first learns to fly Grank realizes that the same evil forces that killed Hrath are after Hoole and know where he is To keep him safe Grank brings him to Beyond the Beyond a strange land of fiery volcanoes in a barren icy landscape more Translation in the Digital Age Carsten

Sinner, 2020-06-29 Translation interpreting and translology face major challenges today as new technologies provide new ways of investigating our profession analysing the process of performing these acts of linguistic mediation or the outcome of our work and even permit a fresh look at old data However aside from a certain improvement in terms of research possibilities what else does the future hold for translation and interpreting This volume proposes the label Translation 4.0 suggesting that contemporary translation should actually be understood as programmatic as expressions such as Industry 4.0 and Internet 4.0 which are often used to refer to the increasing application of Internet technology to facilitate communication between humans machines and products As the book shows Translation 4.0 is at least undergoing a process of formation if it is not already fully developed The contributions here not only look into developments in translation and interpreting per se but also explore the consequences of digitalisation for research in this field The Outcast (Guardians of Ga'Hoole #8)
