Mahathir's Islam Sven Schottmann, 2018-09-30 Mahathir Mohamad's legacy as Malaysia's longest serving prime minister 1981 2003 is deeply controversial His engagement with Islam the religion of just over half Malaysia's population has often been dismissed as partisan maneuvering Yet his willingness to countenance a more prominent place for Islam in government and society is what distinguished him from other modernist politicians and his instinct to set Malaysian politics against the backdrop of the wider Muslim world was politically astute Author Sven Schottmann argues that Mahathir's transformative effect on Malaysia can only be fully appreciated if we also take him seriously as one of the postcolonial Muslim world's most significant political thought leaders Schottmann sees Mahathir's representations of Islam as a relatively coherent discourse that can legitimately be described as Mahathir's Islam This discourse contains Mahathir's assessment of the economic political and sociocultural problems facing the contemporary Muslim world and the range of solutions and corrective measures that he proposed Muslims should adopt His ideas are fraught with flaws and contradictions On the one hand he emphasized the individualistic egalitarian pluralistic democratic and dynamic qualities of Islam On the other his government enacted legislation and acquiesced in the activities of religious bodies that curtailed religious freedoms of both Muslims and non Muslims His ideas contributed to Malaysia s worsening state of interethnic relations yet his insistence that every Muslim had the right to speak for Islam may have paradoxically prepared the ground for a future democratization of Malaysian politics Mahathir s Islam is based on rigorous analysis of Mahathir s speeches interviews and writings which the author is able to link to parallel processes elsewhere in the Muslim world Indonesia the Middle East Pakistan Turkey and diaspora communities in the West Mahathir s Islamic discourse Schottmann suggests must be read against the wider late twentieth century resurgence of religion in general and the post 1970s Islamic revival in particular Balanced in approach and engagingly written this book will be of interest to scholars and students of political science religious studies and others interested in Malaysia Southeast Asia or Mahathir himself

Historical Dictionary of Malaysia Ooi Keat Gin, 2017-12-18 Malaysia is one of the most intriguing countries in Asia in many respects. It consists of several distinct areas not only geographically but ethnically as well. Along with Malays and related groups, the country has a very large Indian and Chinese population. The spoken languages obviously vary at home although Bahasa Malaysia is the official language and nearly everyone speaks English. There is also a mixture of religions with Islam predominating among the Malays and others, Hinduism and Sikhism among the Indians, mainly Daoism and Confucianism among the Chinese, but also some Christians as well as older indigenous beliefs in certain places. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Malaysia contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 500 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Malaysia.

Cultural Dynamics in a Globalized World Melani Budianta, Manneke Budiman, Abidin Kusno, Mikihiro Moriyama, 2017-12-14 The book contains essays on current issues in arts and humanities in which peoples and cultures compete as well as collaborate in globalizing the world while maintaining their uniqueness as viewed from cross and interdisciplinary perspectives. The book covers areas such as literature, cultural studies, archaeology, philosophy, history, language studies, information and literacy studies, and area studies. Asia and the Pacific are the particular regions that the conference focuses on as they have become new centers of knowledge production in arts and humanities and in the future seem to be able to grow significantly as a major contributor of culture, science, and arts to the globalized world. The book will help shed light on what arts and humanities scholars in Asia and the Pacific have done in terms of research and knowledge development as well as the new frontiers of research that have been explored and opening up which can connect the two regions with the rest of the globe.

Malaysia's Foreign Policy Johan Saravanamuttu, 2010 This book captures Malaysia's foreign policy over the first fifty years and beyond since the date of the country's formal independence in 1957. The author provides macro historical narratives of foreign policy practices and outcomes over distinct time periods under the tenures of the five prime ministers. One chapter delves into relations with immediate neighbouring states and another chapter analyses the political economy of foreign policy. A postscript deals with the transition of foreign policy beyond the fifth decade. The concluding chapter suggests that Malaysian middlepowermanship has been in the making in foreign policy practice, being particularly evident since the Mahathir years. Employing a critical constructivist approach throughout the study, the author posits that foreign policy should be appreciated as outcomes of socio-political economic processes embedded within a Malaysian political culture. In terms of broad policy orientations, Malaysian foreign policy over five decades has navigated over the terrains of neutralism, regionalism, globalization, and Islamism. However, the critical engagement of civil society in foreign policy construction remains a formidable challenge.
