LEARNING RESOURCES

Smart Minds SST Grade 9 T.G.Pg.1-3

Smart Minds SST Grade 9 P.B Pg.1-6

ORGANISATION OF LEARNING

Learning will take place in an actual classroom. Learners will work individually, in pairs and small groups

INTRODUCTION

Start by reminding the learners what they learnt in grade 8 about careers related to SST

Ask the learners to give examples of these careers

Ask learners to identify related to SST that they would like to pursue in future

LESSON DEVELOPMENT

STEP 1

Ask the learners to read the story of Emily on pages 1-2 of the Learner's Book and carry out the tasks that follow.

Ask the learners to mention what Emily was interested in doing from a young age.

Ask the learners to identify Emily's dream and say whether it came to pass.

Ask the learners to identify some of the things that Emily did that enabled her to achieve her dream

STEP 2

Guide the learners to read the definitions of a career path as given by Daniel and Asha and say who among the two wrote the correct definition.

Ask the learners to discuss with their deskmates and share their answers with their classmates

Take the learners through the Learning corner on page 3 of the Learner's Book on the definition of career path

Grade 9 Social Studies Bc Pathways:

Human Rights, Diversity, and National Identity Patricia E. Bromley, 2011 Fundamental world changes that simultaneously undermine a nation state's charisma and promote the rise of a supra national system have wide ranging effects upon national states within a modern global society My dissertation empirically examines the effects of social and cultural globalization on systems of mass schooling which are central institutions in every country Globally primary and secondary education initially emerged as the premier tool for nation states to create a unified national citizenry loyal to their country and socialized into a common cultural tradition I examine the extent to which this original nationalizing purpose of schooling is challenged by the increased emphases on universal human rights and diversity in civic education The analyses consist of two sections Hierarchical linear models are used to analyze a unique primary data source of 521 social science textbooks from 74 countries during the period 1970-2008 These findings show a worldwide increase in emphasis on human rights and increases in discussions of diversity in well established liberal democracies Cross national quantitative analyses are complemented by a qualitative case study of social science curricula in British Columbia BC which examines nation building within a context of strong emphasis on diversity and human rights The BC study utilizes currently approved high school citizenship education textbooks as well as older textbooks dating back to 1871 It also draws on a selection of historical documents including Ministry of Education reports curricular frameworks and high school exit exams Process wise I find the incorporation of human rights and diversity reflects macro level changes in national and global society Content wise I find four main approaches to reconciling ideas of human rights and diversity with national identity 1 framing human rights and multiculturalism as part of national identity 2 using pedagogical approaches that promote multiple perspectives and individual agency 3 celebrating social and scientific figures and accomplishments as the source of national pride and 4 drawing on exogenous sources to affirm state legitimacy This study is one of the first to theorize that civic education worldwide is moving away from a national focus and to provide empirical evidence of this trend A key implication is that educational systems are being repurposed from their original goal of constructing a unitary national citizenry to a new view emphasizing human diversity and equality in a globally interconnected world Further students are increasingly taught that the global civil society and non state actors are important and legitimate agents of social change

Alterations in the Sound Localization Pathway Related to Impaired Cocktail-Party Performance Achim Klug, Leonard Kaczmarek, Elizabeth Anne McCullagh, Dan Tollin, 2022-05-09 Teacher Acculturation Edward R. Howe, 2022-03-16 This book evolved from decades of transcultural experiences Edward Howe's comparative ethnographic narrative a blend of narrative inquiry and reflexive ethnography uniquely captures the essence of teacher acculturation Each chapter is filled with intriguing teachers stories based on lived experiences connected through the common thread of learning to teach Compelling teacher narratives spanning seven decades show that much of what teachers do is learned implicitly and is culturally embedded Teacher Acculturation provides a window into the world of novice teachers from the 1950s through present day The thought provoking stories provide a springboard for critical discussions about gender sexuality culture race ethnicity Indigenous perspectives SES class religion location space time and the challenges facing teachers in different contexts The author highlights the importance of teacher relationships built on mutual understanding trust mentorship leadership and guidance Beginning teachers are largely required to work in isolation to learn their practice through trial and error left to sink or swim There is little provision for mentorship and insufficient time to reflect on teaching practices Collaborative and reflective self study as illustrated in Teacher Acculturation shows great promise to ameliorate this pervasive problem in teacher induction Thus the book will appeal to teacher educators teachers and to anyone interested in the fascinating lives of teachers

Routes and Roads in Anatolia from Prehistory to Seljuk Times Lutgarde

Vandeput, Stephen Mitchell, 2025-08-05 Turkey has always been a crossroads and therefore offers an ideal location to study interaction between individuals and human communities and societies through time Interaction has always necessarily involved movement which in turn did not occur randomly in the landscape but was instead focused on routes and roads that secured faster and easier connections There is substantial evidence that exchange networks already existed in Anatolia at least since the Neolithic period with goods traveling over long distances From the second millennium BC onwards textual evidence has improved understanding of traveling routes The Roman long distance road network has been a focus of research over decades but local roads and pathways around individual sites are still mostly unknown Byzantine roads have also received attention whereas the Seljuk road and routes system is less well known It is likely that the younger roads and routes are overlying older ones at least partially but these palimpsests of older roads are hardly researched In this volume experts from different disciplines using a variety of methods and approaches aim to transcend the present fragmentation of knowledge and create a new level of understanding of connecting road and route systems in Anatolia throughout time for the first time

The Social Studies, 1909 Resources in Education, 1997 Immigrant and Refugee Students in Canada

Courtney Anne Brewer, Michael McCabe, 2014-06-30 Recent immigrants and refugees both children and their families often struggle to adapt to Canadian education systems For their part educators also face challenges when developing effective strategies to help these students make smooth transitions to their new country In Immigrant and Refugee Students in Canada researchers join educators and social workers to provide a thorough and wide ranging analysis of the issues at the preschool elementary secondary and post secondary levels By understanding these issues within the unique Canadian context educators can work more effectively with newcomers trying to find their way This book pursues three lines of inquiry

What are the main challenges that immigrant and refugee children and families face in the Canadian education system What are the common aspects of successful intervention What can we learn from the narratives of researchers educators social workers and other frontline workers who work with immigrant and refugee families

The Scientific Basis of Education Productivity Rena F. Subotnik, Herbert J. Walberg, 2006-02-01 This volume is not primarily concerned with what students should learn nor even how they should learn Rather it concerns how we can discover the best means and conditions for teaching them in school at home and in society Expressed more explicitly we seek to find out how students can learn efficiently or productively as much as possible within a given amount of time and resources As in agriculture medicine public health and modern industries we can turn to rigorous science as one of the best sources for informing ourselves The intended audiences are not only scholars in a variety of academic disciplines but also research consumers including educators policymakers parents and citizens who seek principles to critically separate valid from invalid claims for the efficacy and efficiency of education products personnel and policies Initial versions of the chapters were discussed at a national invitational conference sponsored by the Laboratory for Student Success LSS the mid Atlantic regional educational laboratory at Temple University Center for Research in Human Development and Education LSS operates under a contract with the U S Department of Education s Institute of Education Sciences
