All Things Made New Diarmaid MacCulloch, 2016 The most profound characteristic of Western Europe in the Middle Ages was its cultural and religious unity a unity secured by a common alignment with the Pope in Rome and a common language Latin for worship and scholarship The Reformation shattered that unity and the consequences are still with us today In All Things Made New Diarmaid MacCulloch author of the New York Times bestseller Christianity The First Three Thousand Years examines not only the Reformation's impact across Europe but also the Catholic Counter Reformation and the special evolution of religion in England revealing how one of the most turbulent bloody and transformational events in Western history has shaped modern society The Reformation may have launched a social revolution MacCulloch argues but it was not caused by social and economic forces or even by a secular idea like nationalism it sprang from a big idea about death salvation and the afterlife This idea that salvation was entirely in God's hands and there was nothing humans could do to alter his decision ended the Catholic Church's monopoly in Europe and altered the trajectory of the entire future of the West By turns passionate funny meditative and subversive All Things Made New takes readers onto fascinating new ground exploring the original conflicts of the Reformation and cutting through prejudices that continue to distort popular conceptions of a religious divide still with us after five centuries This monumental work from one of the most distinguished scholars of Christianity writing today explores the ways in which historians have told the tale of the Reformation why their interpretations have changed so dramatically over time and ultimately how the contested legacy of this revolution continues to impact the world today

The Biblical Theology of Saint Irenaeus John Lawson, 2006-02-21 Is the history of the early Church the story of a movement away from the religion of the New Testament into Hellenic speculation institutionalism and bare moralism Many present issues are affected by the judgment made upon this matter which the author seeks to illuminate in his Cambridge Dissertation There is in St Irenaeus a doctrine of Creation and Revelation by The Two Hands of God and likewise Recapitulation and exposition of the Saving Work of Christ The claim is here advanced that of these doctrines the former is an expression of the Hebraic conception of the Living God who is transcendent yet immediately active in Creation and Revelation The latter is thoroughly Pauline and is a statement of the Classic theology of the Atonement Together with his necessary emphasis upon the Church and Episcopate Irenaeus has
