Guardian Of Guadalcanal:

Guardian of Guadalcanal Gary Williams, 2014-02 Douglas Munro joined the Coast Guard intending to be a Quartermaster But the winds of war dictated a higher need for Signalmen as the Coast Guards operated jointly with the Navy at levels never repeated There was no eight week Basic Training course in 1939 A new recruit was indoctrinated vaccinated and issued a uniform Back then you became a Third Class Petty Officer through regular self study practice and performance That is how Douglas Munro earned the Signalman Designator while aboard the CGC Spencer From dust jacket The Fighting Coast Guard Mark A. Snell, 2022-12-09 This collection of essays written by some of the foremost historians in the field of Coast Guard history highlights the wartime roles played by the United States oldest federal maritime service from its inception through the last decade of the twentieth century The Fighting Coast Guard features three distinct sections Beginnings which includes a short overview of the US Revenue Cutter Service the USCG's primary forerunner established in 1790 and two chapters on World War I Conflagration the role of the USCG during the World War II era and The Cold War and Beyond an assessment of the Coast Guard's participation in the Korean Conflict the Vietnam War and the Persian Gulf War of 1991 The Fighting Coast Guard is a significant contribution to the limited historiography of the Coast Guard and a critical analysis of various wartime roles undertaken by the Coast Guard during America's twentieth century conflicts Because the Coast Guard operated as part of the Department of the Navy during the two world wars its service and history is often overlooked or enveloped by the larger service while the USCG's limited participation in cold and hot wars since 1945 is often ignored altogether This anthology provides readers with a solid overview while highlighting some of the service's most important contributions as a combatant force This definitive study of the role of the US Coast Guard in wartime from its modern inception in 1915 through the end of the twentieth century is long overdue and will shed new light on America's smallest military service

Bishop, 2022-02-17 West River is a tale of the last pioneers on America's western frontier and the lessons they learned Growing up on his father's Badlands homestead Bill Barton chases his boyhood dream of one day staking his own homestead claim in the Black Hills Bill learns that dreams no matter how hard a man may struggle to make them come true can turn to dust before his very eyes Losing everything Bill comes to accept that a man needs to take life as it comes and make of it what he can Born into hard times Bill's daughter Velda grows up learning how to make do and do without Never backing down Velda fights for her place in the world while the Barton family struggles with the harsh realities of poverty amidst the daunting challenges of draught and depression The sudden outbreak of world war transforms the Barton family and their fortunes With a victorious America emerging as the leader of a new world order the Barton family is left to ponder the deeper meaning of America's newfound prosperity its outsized role in the world and whether future generations will be willing to stay the course and pay the price

Commemorating War Timothy G. Ashplant, Graham Dawson, Michael Roper, War memory and commemoration have had increasingly high profiles in public and academic debates in recent years This volume examines some of the social changes that have led to this development among them the passing of the two world wars from survivor into cultural memory Focusing on the politics of war memory and commemoration the book illuminates the struggle to install particular memories at the center of a cultural world and offers an extensive argument about how the politics of commemoration practices should be understood Commemorating War analyzes a range of forms of remembrance from public commemorations orchestrated by nation states to personal testimonies of war survivors and from cultural memories of war represented in films plays and novels to investigations of wartime atrocities in courts of human rights It presents a wide range of international case studies encompassing lesser known national histories and wars beyond the well trodden terrain of Vietnam and the two world wars in Europe Emerging from this book is an important critique of both state centered approaches to war memory and those that regard commemoration primarily as a human response to loss and grief Offering a wealth of empirical research material this book will be important for cultural and oral historians sociologists researchers in international relations and human rights and anybody with an interest in the cultural construction of memory in contemporary society Timothy G Ashplant is a member of the Research Center for Literature and Cultural History at Liverpool John Moores University He has published on psychoanalysis and history and the life writings of working class men and women in Britain Graham Dawson teaches cultural and historical studies at the University of Brighton His publications include Soldier Heroes British Adventure Empire and the Imagining of Masculinities and Trauma and Life Stories with Kim Lacy Rogers and Selma Leydesdorff Michael Roper works as a social and cultural historian in the Department of Sociology at the University of Essex His previous publications include Manful Assertions Masculinities in Britain since 1800 with John Tosh and Masculinity and the British Organization Man since 1945
