These authors estimated the burden of the single episode of acute MI among those who were hospitalized in 10 states in 1990. They found that approximately 100,000 persons were hospitalized for acute MI, and that the annual burden of the disease was approximately 1.5 million person-years. The authors also found that the burden of the disease was highest in the Northeast and lowest in the South.

It is not possible to tell whether the α is a constant that is the same for all countries. Indeed, because it is possible that the relative size of the two groups of firms in each country may differ, the α may vary across countries. This would imply that the α is a function of the country, $\alpha = \alpha_i$.
