Making A Killing Femicide Free Trade And La Frontera Chicana Matters:

Making a Killing Alicia Gaspar de Alba, Georgina Guzmán, 2010-11-01 Since 1993 more than five hundred women and girls have been murdered in Ciudad Ju rez across the border from El Paso Texas At least a third have been sexually violated and mutilated as well Thousands more have been reported missing and remain unaccounted for The crimes have been poorly investigated and have gone unpunished and unresolved by Mexican authorities thus creating an epidemic of misogynist violence on an increasingly globalized U S Mexico border This book the first anthology to focus exclusively on the Ju rez femicides as the crimes have come to be known compiles several different scholarly interventions from diverse perspectives including feminism Marxism critical race theory semiotics and textual analysis Editor Alicia Gaspar de Alba shapes a multidisciplinary analytical framework for considering the interconnections between gender violence and the U S Mexico border The essays examine the social and cultural conditions that have led to the heinous victimization of women on the border from globalization free trade agreements exploitative maquiladora working conditions and border politics to the sexist attitudes that pervade the social discourse about the victims The book also explores the evolving social movement that has been created by NGOs mothers organizing efforts and other grassroots forms of activism related to the crimes Contributors include U S and Mexican scholars and activists as well as personal testimonies of two mothers of femicide victims

[Un]framing the "Bad Woman" Alicia Gaspar de Alba, 2014-07-15 One of America s leading interpreters of the Chicana experience dismantles the discourses that frame women who rebel against patriarchal strictures as bad women and offers empowering models of struggle resistance and rebirth

Border Killers Elizabeth Villalobos, 2024-05-14 Border Killers delves into how recent Mexican creators have reported analyzed distended and refracted the increasingly violent world of neoliberal Mexico especially its versions of masculinity By looking to the insights of artists writers and filmmakers Elizabeth Villalobos offers a path for making sense and critiquing very real border violence in contemporary Mexico Villalobos focuses on representations of border killers in literature film and theater The author develops a metaphor of maquilization to describe the mass production of masculine violence as a result of neoliberalism The author demonstrates that the killer is an interchangeable cog in a societal factory of violence whose work is to produce dead bodies By turning to cultural narratives Villalobos seeks to counter the sensationalistic and stereotyped media depictions of border residents as criminals The cultural works she examines instead indict the Mexican state and the global economic system for producing agents of violence Focusing on both Mexico s northern and southern borders Border Killers uses Achille Mbembe s concept of necropolitics and various theories of masculinity to argue that contemporary Mexico is home to a form of necropolitical masculinity that has flourished in the neoliberal era and made the exercise of death both profitable and necessary for the functioning of Mexico s state cartel corporate governance matrix

Bodies at War Belinda Linn Rincón, 2017-10-31 In the wake of U S military intervention abroad and collapsing domestic economies scholars have turned their attention to neoliberalism and militarization two ideological and material projects that are often treated as coincident though not interdependent Bodies at War examines neoliberal militarism a term that signifies the complex ways in which neoliberalism and militarism interanimate each other as they naturalize disempowering notions of masculinity and femininity alter democratic practices and circumscribe the meaning of citizenship and national belonging Bodies at War examines the rise of neoliberal militarism from the early 1970s to the present and its transformation of political economic and social relations It charts neoliberal militarism's impact on democratic practices economic policies notions of citizenship race relations and gender norms by focusing on how these changes affect the Chicana/o community and more specifically on how it shapes and is shaped by Chicana bodies The book raises important questions about the cultural legacies of war and the gendering of violence topics that reach across multiple disciplinary fields of inquiry including cultural and media studies It draws attention to the relationship between war and society to neoliberal militarism's destructive social impact and to the future of Latina soldiering Through Chicana art activism and writing Rincón offers a visionary foundation for an antiwar feminist politic

Football, Politics and Identity James Carr, Daniel Parnell, Paul Widdop, Martin J. Power, Stephen R. Millar, 2021-06-06 This book presents a series of fascinating case studies that show how the lives and bodies of clubs players and fans around the world are enmeshed with politics It draws on original research in countries including England Scotland Ireland Poland Mexico Algeria and Argentina and includes both historical and contemporary perspectives It explores some of the most important themes in the study of sport including sectarianism migration fan activism and national identity and shows how football continues to be tied to political events symbols and movements This is fascinating reading for any student or researcher working in sport studies political science sociology or contemporary history

Domestic Negotiations Marci R. McMahon, 2013-07-01 This

interdisciplinary study explores how US Mexicana and Chicana authors and artists across different historical periods and regions use domestic space to actively claim their own histories Through negotiation a concept that accounts for artistic practices outside the duality of resistance accommodation and self fashioning Marci R McMahan demonstrates how the very sites of domesticity are used to engage the many political and recurring debates about race gender and immigration affecting Mexicanas and Chicanas from the early twentieth century to today Domestic Negotiations covers a range of archival sources and cultural productions including the self fashioning of the chili queens of San Antonio Texas Jovita Gonz lez s romance novel Caballero the home economics career and cookbooks of Fabiola Cabeza de Baca Sandra Cisneros s purple house controversy and her acclaimed text The House on Mango Street Patssi Valdez s self fashioning and performance of domestic space in Asco and as a solo artist Diane Rodr guez s performance of domesticity in Hollywood television and direction of domestic roles in theater and Alma Lopez s digital prints of domestic labor in Los Angeles With intimate close readings McMahan shows how Mexicanas and Chicanas shape domestic space to construct identities outside of gendered racialized and xenophobic rhetoric
