Key Issues For Mountain Areas:

Key Issues for Mountain Areas Martin F. Price, Libor Jansky, Andrei A. Iatsenia, 2004 Mountain areas cover almost one quarter of the earth's land surface with a quarter of the global population living on them or very close by and they are sources of water food timber minerals and other natural resources They provide many opportunities for recreation as well as being centres of biological and cultural diversity and religious significance Unfortunately mountain environments and populations are also particularly threatened by climate change and political conflicts and their inhabitants include many of the poorest and most vulnerable in the world This publication includes a number of papers which explore a range of sustainable development challenges for mountain regions

Mountain Geography Martin F. Price, Alton C. Byers, Donald A. Friend, Thomas Kohler, Larry W. Price, 2013-08-24 Mountains cover a quarter of the Earth's land surface and a quarter of the global population lives in or adjacent to these areas The global importance of mountains is recognized particularly because they provide critical resources such as water food and wood contain high levels of biological and cultural diversity and are often places for tourism and recreation and or of sacred significance This major revision of Larry Price's book Mountains and Man 1981 is both timely and highly appropriate The past three decades have been a period of remarkable progress in our understanding of mountains from an academic point of view Of even greater importance is that society at large now realizes that mountains and the people who reside in them are not isolated from the mainstream of world affairs but are vital if we are to achieve an environmentally sustainable future Mountain Geography is a comprehensive resource that gives readers an in depth understanding of the geographical processes occurring in the world's mountains and the overall impact of these regions on culture and society as a whole The volume begins with an introduction to how mountains are defined followed by a comprehensive treatment of their physical geography origins climatology snow and ice landforms and geomorphic processes soils vegetation and wildlife The concluding chapters provide an introduction to the human geography of mountains attitudes toward mountains people living in mountain regions and their livelihoods and interactions within dynamic environments the diverse types of mountain agriculture and the challenges of sustainable mountain development

Mountain agriculture: Opportunities for harnessing Zero Hunger in Asia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-08-07 Mountain food security and nutrition are core issues that can contribute positively to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals but paradoxically are often ignored in Zero Hunger and poverty reduction related agenda Under the overall leadership of Jos Graziano da Silva the Former Director General of FAO sustainable mountain agriculture development is set as a priority in Asia and the Pacific to effectively address this issue and assist Member Countries in tackling food insecurity and malnutrition in mountain regions This comprehensive publication is the first of its kind that focuses on the multidimensional status challenges opportunities and solutions of sustainable mountain agriculture development for Zero Hunger in Asia This publication is building on the International Workshop and Regional Expert Consultation on Mountain Agriculture Development and Food Security and Nutrition Governance held by FAO RAP and UIR in November 2018 Beijing in collaboration with partners from national governments national agriculture institutes universities international organizations and international research institutes The publication provides analysis with evidence on how mountain agriculture could contribute to satisfying all four dimensions of food security to transform food systems to be nutrition sensitive climate resilient economically viable and locally adaptable From this food system perspective the priority should be given to focus on specialty mountain product identification e.g. Future Smart Food production processing marketing and consumption which would effectively expose the potential of mountain agriculture to contribute to Zero Hunger and poverty reduction. In addition, eight Asian country case studies not only identify context-specific challenges within biophysical, technical, policy, socio-economic and institutional dimensions.

Black Hills National Forest (N.F.), Deerfield Project Area, 2005. Environmental Resilience and Transformation in times of COVID-19. A.L. Ramanathan, Chidambaram Sabarathinam, M.P. Jonathan, M.V. Prasanna, Pankaj Kumar, Francisco Munoz Arriola, 2021-05-18. Environmental Resilience and Transformation in Times of COVID 19. Climate Change Effects on Environmental Functionality is a timely reference to better understand environmental changes amid the COVID 19 pandemic and the associated lockdowns. The book is organized into five themes: 1. environmental modifications, degradation and human health risks; 2. water resources planning, management and governance; 3. air quality monitoring, fate, transport and drivers of socioenvironmental change; 4. marine and lacustrine environment; and 5. sustainable development goals and environmental justice. These themes provide an insight into the impact of COVID 19 on the environment and vice versa, which will help improve environmental management and planning as well as influence future policies. Featuring many case studies from around the globe, this book offers a crucial examination of the intersectionality between climate sustainability, the environment and public health for researchers, practitioners and policymakers in environmental science. Features global case studies to illustrate themes and address issues to support environmental management. Offers fundamental and practical understanding of ways to improve and validate predictive abilities and tools in addition to response. Examines climate-related trends in the spread of the pandemic. Presents different ways forward in order to achieve global goals with a specific focus on SDGs.

Neoendogenous Development in European Rural Areas. Eugenio Cejudo, Francisco Navarro, 2020-01-01. This book is one of the main outcomes of the projects Development Programmes and Rural Change in the European Union: governance, results and lessons to share and Successes and failures in the practice of neoendogenous rural development in the European Union 1991-2013, funded both of them by the Spanish Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness. This publication aims, on one side, to clarify and deepen the knowledge of the social, economic and territorial effects of the LEADER approach and, on the other, to analyze the importance of the participation of several stakeholders: young people and women as well as some traditional activities: agriculture or modern ones, tourism, linked all of them to the rich cultural and natural heritage of these areas. It also provides an in-depth study of the causes that lead to the generation of successful projects in the practice of neoendogenous rural development and also explores the reasons that cause certain projects to fail in the path towards LEADER support so that they are finally not implemented. In addition, it is shown the problems, results and best practices that cause the neoendogenous rural development in different areas inside of the European Union: Austria, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and United Kingdom. Thereby, it helps to improve the decision making in rural development both on a local and regional scale. The multidisciplinary and international character of the authors as well as the specificity of the research trajectory of each of them in the analysis of rural development enriches the publication and facilitates the different and critical reflections on the contributions errors and meaning of the neoendogenous local development Researchers in this discipline and technicians working in the practice of rural development along the European Union are the main audience of the book OECD
