include the 1952 Bengali Language Movement that catalyzed the assertion of Bengali national identity in the region and became a forerunner to Bengali nationalist movements. Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman led the struggle for independence first through massive populist and civil disobedience movements and later during the Bangladesh Liberation War. Important events cited in the present volumes include the 1954 United Front election victory, 1966 Six Point Movement, 1968 Agartala Conspiracy Case, 1969 mass uprising, 1970 election victory and 1971 Non Cooperation Movement among others. These are the first ever declassified documents released by the Government of Bangladesh and will serve as an invaluable historical resource in understanding the liberation of Bangladesh. This is volume 2, holds records for the period 1951-1952. Major events included are as follows: The Language Movement, the programs of State Language Committee of Action, meeting with Pakistan's Prime Minister Khawaza Nazimuddin and participation in a peace conference in Peking.

Negotiating Adolescence in Rural Bangladesh Nicoletta Del Franco, 2014-03-11. The book interrogates the experience of being young and becoming adult in rural Bangladesh in a context of profound processes of socio-economic change. Throughout South Asia, new educational opportunities and an increase in the age at which girls and boys get married are opening new spaces for young people to live the passage to adulthood. This book documents and describes the everyday reality of this changing gendered transition for young people in a rural area of South West Bangladesh. It focuses on three main areas that are central to young people's experience: those of college and student life, friendships and relationships with those of the same sex and across sexes, and marriage and the issues involved in the choice of a marriage partner. Published by Zubaan.

Shaila Sultana, Mian Md. Naushaad Kabir, Md. Zulfeqar Haider, Mohammad Moninoor Roshid, M. Obaidul Hamid, 2023-11-29. This collection presents a holistic picture of the sociolinguistic landscape in Bangladesh, offering a critical understanding of language ideologies and social inequalities in the country as they connect more widely to dynamics in the Global South. The book seeks to untangle the voices embedded in the language practices of a range of communities and professions in the region, which have been little studied in the literature, and encourage a rethinking of the relationships between language and nationality, class, ethnicity, race, and gender. Highlighting perspectives from established and emerging researchers and drawing on a wide range of theoretical approaches and methodologies, the volume is organized around such key themes as bilingualism and diglossia, language variation across domains, language and identity in literature, and the interconnectedness of language identity and globalization. Taken together, the collection calls attention to the socially and spatially situated nature of language practices in Bangladesh and, in turn, the ways in which scholars in the Global South make sense of the sociolinguistic landscape at both the local and global levels. This book will appeal to scholars working in sociolinguistics.

particularly those working on language policy language and identity language variation and in or about the Global South

Bengali Self-taught by the Natural Method Suniti Kumar Chatterji, 1927 Women and Domestic Violence in Bangladesh

Laila Ashrafun, 2018-04-17 After the independence of Bangladesh in 1971 the country has experienced large scale transformations owing to national and international migration urbanization the development of many national and international non governmental organizations NGOs and economic dynamism Globalization and economic liberalization have created opportunities to develop sustainable social policies by strengthening the national economy of the country Major progress has been made in closing the gender gap and the Constitution of Bangladesh provides equality of status and opportunity to all its citizens irrespective of sex However domestic violence perpetuated against women is a common phenomenon in Bangladesh This book is a study about domestic violence against women in Bangladeshi society It delineates in particular why and how some women become the victims of domestic violence in the changing socio economic setting of Bangladesh The author explores the multiple contexts in which domestic violence occurs by focusing on the everyday experience of women subjected to this violence The book shows how changing socio economic setting urbanization and the growing demand for female labor influences the phenomenon and experience of domestic violence It demonstrates that domestic violence is entangled in a complex web of institutionalized social relations that necessitates a structural and contextual understanding of the production of such violence in family kinship and gender relations Finally it identifies factors that cause perpetuate and mitigate domestic violence or give strength to women to struggle and raise their voices or take shelter in the law against the perpetrators of domestic violence A novel contribution to our understanding of how gender relationships are differently constituted and contested in the everyday lives of Bangladeshi women both in natal and affinal families this book will be of interest to academics in the field of Sociology Gender and Law and South Asian Studies

Eating Drugs Stefan Ecks, 2014 A Hindu monk in Calcutta refuses to take his psychotropic medications His psychiatrist explains that just as his body needs food the drugs are nutrition for his starved mind Does it matter how or whether patients understand their prescribed drugs Millions of people in India are routinely prescribed mood medications Pharmaceutical companies give doctors strong incentives to write as many prescriptions as possible with as little awkward questioning from patients as possible Without a sustained public debate on psychopharmaceuticals in India patients remain puzzled by the notion that drugs can cure disturbances of the mind While biomedical psychopharmaceuticals are perceived with great suspicion many non biomedical treatments are embraced Stefan Ecks illuminates how biomedical Ayurvedic and homeopathic treatments are used in India and argues that pharmaceutical pluralism changes popular ideas of what drugs do Based on several years of research on pharmaceutical markets Ecks shows how doctors employ a wide range of strategies to make patients take the remedies prescribed Yet while metaphors such as mind food may succeed in getting patients to accept the prescriptions they also obscure a critical awareness of drug effects This rare ethnography of pharmaceuticals will be of key
