

man(1)

NAME

man — format and display the on-line manual pages

SYNOPSIS

man [--acdfbhkKrwW] [--path] [--m system] [--p string] [--C config_file] [--M pathlist] [--P pager] [--B browser] [--H htmlpager] [--S section_list] [section] name ...

DESCRIPTION

man formats and displays the on-line manual pages. If you specify section, man only looks in that section of the manual. name is normally the name of the manual page, which is typically the name of a command, function, or file. However, if name contains a slash (/) then man interprets it as a file specification, so that you can do man /foo.S or even man /cd/foo/bar.1.gz.

See below for a description of where man looks for the manual page files.

MANUAL SECTIONS

The standard sections of the manual include:

- 1 User Commands
- 2 System Calls
- 3 C Library Functions
- 4 Devices and Special Files
- 5 File Formats and Conventions
- 6 Games et. Al.
- 7 Miscellaneous
- 8 System Administration tools and Daemons

Distributions customize the manual section to their specifics, which often include additional sections.

OPTIONS

- C config_file
Specify the configuration file to use; the default is `/private/etc/man.conf`. (See `man.conf(5)`.)
- M path
Specify the list of directories to search for man pages. Separate the directories with colons. An empty list is the same as not specifying -M at all. See `SEARCH PATH FOR MANUAL PAGES`.
- P pager
Specify which pager to use. This option overrides the `MANPAGER` environment variable, which in turn overrides the `PAGER` variable. By default, man uses `/usr/bin/less -is`.
- B
Specify which browser to use on HTML files. This option overrides the `BROWSER` environment variable. By default, man uses `/usr/bin/less-is`.
- H
Specify a command that renders HTML files as text. This option overrides the `HTMLPAGER` environment variable. By default, man uses `/bin/cat`.
- S section_list
List is a colon separated list of manual sections to search. This option overrides the `MANSECT` environment variable.
- a
By default, man will exit after displaying the first manual page it finds. Using this option forces man to display all the manual pages that match name, not just the first.
- c
Reformat the source man page, even when an up-to-date cat page exists. This can be meaningful if the cat page was formatted for a screen with a different number of columns, or if the
