Culture in Education and Education in Culture Pernille Hviid, Mariann Märtsin, 2019-11-18 In a world where the global engagement and international dialogue intensifies some areas of cultivated knowledge suffer from this dialogue and this has consequences for people and communities We propose education to be such a case The global dialogue in education tends to be restricted to and mediated by standardized measurements Such standards are meant to measure qualities of education and of student behavior and create the sought for condition for normative comparability and competition The obvious drawback is that cultural variability in local living as well as in education is rendered irrelevant Are there alternatives The book insists on maintaining the discussion about education on a global level but rather than moving towards homogenization and standardization of education the attention is drawn towards the potential for learning from creative fits and misfits between concrete local cultures institutional practices and global aims and standards of education This work brings together a group of educational and developmental researchers and scholars grappling to find culturally informed and sensitive modes of educating people and communities Case studies and examples from four geographical contexts are being discussed China Brazil Australia and Europe While being embedded in these local cultures the authors share a conceptual grounding in cultural developmental theorizing and a vision for a culturally informed globalized perspective on education As the theme of the book is learning from each other the volume also includes commentaries from leading scholars in the field of cultural psychology and education

Neoliberal Psychology Carl Ratner, 2019-01-10 This provocative monograph defines the elusive concept of neoliberal psychology focusing on its form content and cultural contexts and establishing it as a core feature of modern society Its cross cultural analysis examines the reality of neoliberal psychology in the globalized world asserting that neoliberalism influences individuals sense of self identity and regardless of country of origin concept of nationality Macro cultural psychological theory opens out neoliberal psychology in its most visible aspects such as work life sexuality consumer behavior and the shared vision of the good life At the same time the author identifies profound social inequities and other negative aspects of neoliberal society and discusses how they may be corrected Included in the coverage Snapshots of neoliberal society and psychology A psychological theory for comprehending neoliberal psychology Neoliberalism as a cultural political economic ideological system The neoliberal class structure of phenomena Psychological and cultural emancipation and macro cultural psychological theory Since neoliberalism is the dominant social system in today s world and because it commands both strong support and strong criticism from diverse interest groups Neoliberal Psychology will be of general interest to a wide readership The book s psychological focus is a new window into neoliberalism that is more accessible than more technical accounts of its economics and politics and it should appeal especially to social science students and professors

Distributed Language, Affective Dynamics, and the Human Ecology Volume II Paul J. Thibault, 2020-12-13 Language plays a central role in human life However the term language as defined in the language sciences of the 20th century and the traditions these have drawn on have arguably limited our thinking about what language is and does The two inter linked volumes of Thibault s study articulate crucially important aspects of an emerging new perspective shift on language the Distributed Language view that is now receiving more and more attention internationally Rejecting the classical view that the fundamental architecture of language can be localised as a number of inter related levels of formal linguistic organisation that function as the coded inputs and outputs to each other the distributed language view argues that languaging behaviour is a bio cultural organisation of process that is embodied multimodal and integrated across multiple space time scales Thibault argues that we need to think of human languaging as the distinctively human mode of our becoming and being selves in the extended human ecology and the kinds of experiencing that this makes possible Paradoxically this also means thinking about language in non linguistic ways that break the grip of the conventional meta languages for thinking about human languaging Thibault s book grounds languaging in process theory languaging and the forms of experience it actualises is always an event not a thing that we use In taking a distinctively interdisciplinary approach the book relates dialogical theories of human sense making to the distributed view of human cognition to recent thinking about distributed language to ecological psychology and to languaging as inter individual affective dynamics grounded in the subjective lives of selves In taking this approach the book considers the coordination of selves in social encounters the emergent forms of self reflexivity that characterise these encounters and the implications for how we think of and live our human sociality not as something that is mediated by over arching codes and systems but as emerging from the endogenous subjectivities of selves when they seek to coordinate with other selves and with the situations artefacts social institutions and technologies that populate the extended human ecology The two volumes aim to bring our understanding of human languaging closer to human embodiment experience and feeling while also showing how languaging enables humans to transcend local circumstances and thus to dialogue with cultural tradition Volume I focuses on the shorter timescales of bodily dynamics in languaging activity Volume II integrates the shorter timescales of body dynamics to the longer cultural historical timescales of the linguistic and cultural norms and patterns to which bodily dynamics are integrated

Sociocultural Theory and the Pedagogical Imperative in L2 Education James P. Lantolf, Matthew E. Poehner, 2014-03-05

Explicating clearly and concisely the full implication of a praxis oriented language pedagogy this book argues for an approach to language teaching grounded in a significant scientific theory of human learning a stance that rejects the consumer approach to theory and the dichotomy between theory and practice that dominates SLA and language teaching This approach is based on Vygotsky's sociocultural theory according to which the two activities are inherently connected so that each is necessarily rooted in the other practice is the research laboratory where the theory is tested From the perspective of language education this is what is meant by the pedagogical imperative

Sociocultural Theory and the Pedagogical Imperative in L2 Education Elaborates a new approach to dealing with the relationship between theory and practice an approach grounded in praxis the dialectical unity of theory and practice Presents an analysis of empirical research illustrating praxis based principles in real language classrooms Brings together cognitive linguistics and sociocultural theory the former provides the theoretical knowledge of language required of praxis and the latter furnishes the theoretical principles of learning and development also called for in a praxis approach Offers recommendations for redesigning teacher education programs Its timely focus on the theory practice gap in language education and its original approach to bridging it put this book at the cutting edge of thinking about Vygotskian sociocultural theory in applied linguistics and SLA
