Belle de Zuylen / Isabelle de Charrière, 2006-01-01 Suisse romande depuis son mariage mais ayant passé la première moitié de sa vie aux Pays Bas où le français était devenu véritablement sa langue naturelle Belle de Zuylen Isabelle de Charrière joue quelque peu les trublions dans nos habitudes académiques Lire son œuvre ses lettres ses romans ses pamphlets et ses pièces de théâtre c'est accepter des retouches notre tableau des Lumières qui n'en ressortira pas indemne c'est revoir les limites du champ de la critique littéraire structurées et hiérarchisées depuis le XIXe siècle en fonction de littératures nationales Bilingue français et anglais ce recueil contient des articles basés sur les contributions à un colloque international qui s'est tenu à l'Université d'Utrecht en avril 2005 pour commémorer le bicentenaire de la mort de l'écrivaine As a Dutch woman who spent half her life in Switzerland and chose French as her writing language Belle de Zuylen Isabelle de Charrière parades a defiant attitude towards the constraints of the literary field To read with care her letters her novels pamphlets and plays means accepting some modifications to our picture of the Enlightenment and obliges us to question the limits of the field of literary criticism such as it has been structured since the nineteenth century that is along the lines of national canons This bilingual volume English and French contains articles based on contributions to the international congress that was organized at Utrecht University in April 2005 on the occasion of the bicentennial of the author's death

Isabelle de Charrière : un destin de femme au XVIIIe siècle Raymond Trousson, 1994-01-01 T00:00:00+01:00 La vie et l'œuvre de cette femme de lettres 1740 1805 aristocrate hollandaise et épouse d'un gentilhomme vaudois l'esprit cosmopolite européenne avant la lettre et dont toute l'œuvre fut écrite en français Copyright Electre Madame de Charrière et ses amis Philippe Ernest Godet, 1906 Contient des renseignements sur le séjour d'Isabelle de Charrière Colombier entre 1771 et 1805 et sur la vie littéraire du canton de Neuchâtel pendant cette période Isabelle de Charrière (Belle de Zuylen) Cecil Patrick Courtney, 1993 Isabelle de Charrière formerly best known for her friendship with James Boswell and Benjamin Constant is now recognised as one of the most fascinating literary figures of her time a brilliant letter writer and gifted novelist Cecil Courtney's biography chronicles her life in a lively comprehensive and scholarly fashion and makes full use of the original sources notably Belle's extensive correspondence with many of the leading figures of her time Part one covers the first thirty years of Belle de Zuylen's life from her birth in 1740 into the sheltered leisurely and elegant milieu of an old established Dutch aristocratic family Her early intellectual development leads her to challenge accepted ideas and to explore in writing realms of experience undreamt of in the philosophy of the convention-ridden society in which she lives Moving through her correspondence with Constant d'Hermenches and Boswell and the story of her many suitors the account of this period ends in her late and unremarkable marriage 1771 to her brother's former tutor Charles Emmanuel de Charrière The second part is devoted to Belle's life after her marriage She takes up residence at Le Pontet the Charrière family home near Neuchâtel travels in Switzerland and Holland forms a mysterious romantic attachment to a young man who later abandons her and after a period spent in Paris 1786 1787 resolves never to set foot again outside Le Pontet It is here that Belle creates a haven for intellectual activity whose members including the young Benjamin Constant are brought intensely to life in her inimitable correspondence and in this thoughtful and sympathetic portrait of one of the most engaging figures of the eighteenth century

Benjamin Constant Dennis Wood,2002-09-11 For forty years I have defended the same principle freedom in everything in religion in philosophy in literature in industry in politics and by freedom I mean the triumph of the individual Constant thus summarized his beliefs at the end of his life A political theorist and a passionate defender of individual liberty he was also the author of one of the greatest French novels of psychological insight Adolphe In a major new biography Dennis Wood traces the development of Constant as a writer centrally preoccupied with the problematics of freedom not only in the fields of politics and religious belief but also in his own troubled relationship with several women

Women Writing Opera Jacqueline Letzter,Robert Adelson,2001-08-12 At the same time it demonstrates how the Revolution fostered many dreams and ambitions for women that would be doomed to disappointment in the repressive post Revolutionary era Mme de Staël John Fox,2025-01-10 During the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars Germaine de Staël's troubled personal and public life singled her out as one of the most noteworthy characters and greatest political writers of her epoch She recommended wise policies seeking to bring stability to a perturbed France Not only were her words ignored but she was persecuted as a woman and held responsible for plots riots and satirical pamphlets with which she had no connection Her publications promoting individual liberty freedom of religion freedom of speech and equality for women brought her into direct conflict with the dictator Napoleon Bonaparte Her confrontation with Napoleon eventually forced her to flee making her a celebrity throughout Europe There are many books about Mme de Staël but nothing published recently in English In the highly troubled waters of the French Revolution she promoted Republican policies but because she remained faithful to all her friends was often accused of being a Royalist Tens of thousands of political figures of all parties were guillotined but Mme de Staël survived in the Eighteenth Century Tanya M. Caldwell, 2020-09-18 Writing Lives in the Eighteenth Century is a collection of essays on memoir biography and autobiography during a formative period for the genre. The essays revolve around recognized male and female figures returning to the Boswell and Burney circle but present arguments that dismantle traditional privileging of biographical modes. The contributors reconsider the processes of hero making in the beginning phases of a culture of celebrity. Employing the methodology William Godwin outlined for novelists of taking material from all sources: experience, report, and the records of human affairs, each contributor examines within the contexts of their time and historical traditions the anxieties and imperatives of the auto biographer as she or he shapes material into a legacy. New work on Frances Burney, D Arblay's son Alexander as revealed through letters on Isabelle de Charriere on Hester Thrale Piozzi and on Alicia LeFanu and Frances Burney's realignment of family biography extend current conversations about eighteenth century biography and autobiography. Published by Bucknell University Press. Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press.
