Religion, Law and the Politics of Ethical Diversity Claude Proeschel, David Koussens, Francesco Piraino, 2021-03-31 This book provides a multidisciplinary and comparative look at the contemporary phenomenon of conscientious objection or contestation in the name of religion and examines the key issues that emerge in terms of citizenship and democracy These are analysed by looking at the different ways of challenging or contesting a legal obligation on the grounds of religious beliefs and convictions The authors focus on the meaning of conscientious objection which asserts the legitimacy of convictions in particular religious convictions in determining the personal or collective relevance of the law and of public action The book begins by examining the main theoretical issues underlying conscientious objection exploring the implications of the protection of freedom of conscience the place of religion in the secular public sphere and the recognition and respect of ethical pluralism in society It then focuses on the question of exemptions and contestations of civil norms using a multidisciplinary approach to highlight the multiple and diverse issues surrounding them as well as the motives behind them This book will be of great interest to scholars specialists and graduate and advanced undergraduate students who are interested in issues of religious diversity Researchers and policymakers in think tanks NGOs and government units will find the volume useful in helping to identify key issues in understanding the phenomenon of conscientious objection and its implications in managing ethical diversity in contemporary societies
