Do Metaphors Dream of Literal Sleep? Seo-Young Chu, 2011-01-15 In culture and scholarship science fictional worlds are perceived as unrealistic and altogether imaginary Seo Young Chu offers a bold challenge to this perception of the genre arguing instead that science fiction is a form of high intensity realism capable of representing non imaginary objects that elude more traditional realist modes of representation Powered by lyric forces that allow it to transcend the dichotomy between the literal and the figurative science fiction has the capacity to accommodate objects of representation that are themselves neither entirely figurative nor entirely literal in nature Chu explores the globalized world cyberspace war trauma the Korean concept of han and the rights of robots all as referents for which she locates science fictional representations in poems novels music films visual pieces and other works ranging within and without previous demarcations of the science fiction genre In showing the divide between realism and science fiction to be illusory Do Metaphors Dream of Literal Sleep sheds new light on the value of science fiction as an aesthetic and philosophical resource one that matters more and more as our everyday realities grow increasingly resistant to straightforward representation

Gentrification in Contemporary Fiction James Peacock, 2025-05-15 Focusing on literary representations of gentrification this book analyses twenty first century anglophone novels by authors from the United States Canada India the United Kingdom and Australia Literary texts so adept at revealing the experiences and emotions of individuals within communities are also important vehicles for exploring the complex relationships between individuals and the wider social economic and political forces that lead to urban transformations including gentrification These complexities are best revealed this book argues by proceeding from a forensic examination of characters domestic buildings and spaces Examining novels from a broad range of writers including Zadie Smith Jonathan Lethem Aravind Adiga Michael Chabon and Irvine Welsh this book makes a powerful case for the importance of literature in helping to understand the lived experience of gentrification Jonathan Lethem James Peacock,2013-07-19 Jonathan Lethem is the first full length study dedicated to the work of an exciting genre busting contemporary writer with an increasingly high profile in American literature Examining all of Lethem s novels as well as a number of his short fictions essays and critical works this study shows how the author s prolific output his restlessness and his desire always to be subverting literary forms and genres are consistent with his interest in subcultural identities The human need to break off into small groupings subcultures or miniature utopias is mirrored in the critical tendency to enforce generic boundaries To break down the boundaries between genres then is partly to make a nonsense of critical distinctions between high and low literature and partly to reflect the wider need to recognise difference to appreciate that other people no matter how outlandish and alien they may appear share similar desires experiences and problems With this in mind James Peacock argues that Lethem s experiments with genre are not merely games or elaborate literary jokes but ethical necessities particularly when viewed in the light of the losses and traumas that shadow all of his writing Jonathan Lethem therefore makes an important contribution not just to Lethem studies but also to debates about genre and its position in postmodern or post postmodern literature It will be of interest to all scholars and students of contemporary American writing as well as those interested in genre fiction and literature s relationship with subcultures The Digital Age Detective Brendan Riley,2017-07-05 Imagining the figure of the fictional detective as an archetype in the study of modern culture the author argues that contemporary detective fiction can help us better comprehend fundamental shifts of the Digital Age in communication family entertainment society even the way we think as individuals The nature of the detective story itself models how we build and share knowledge Drawing on concepts from literature and media studies the author reveals clues about modern phenomena like conspiracy theory groupthink and the nature of our digital identities The Experimental Translator Douglas Robinson,2023-01-24 This book celebrates experimental translation taking a series of exploratory looks at the hypercyborg translator the collage translator the smuggler translator and the heteronymous translator The idea isn t to legislate traditional translations out of existence or to win some kind of literary competition with the source text but an exuberant participation in literary creativity Turns out there are other things you can do with a great written work and there is considerable pleasure to be had from both the doing and the reading of such things This book will be of interest to literary translation studies researchers as well as scholars and practitioners of experimental creative writing and avant garde art postgraduate translation students and professional literary translators Amnesia Moon Jonathan Lethem,2014-03-11 A funny inventive and wholly original post apocalyptic novel from the author of Motherless Brooklyn and The Arrest Meet Chaos a young man who s living in a movie theater in post apocalyptic Wyoming drinking alcohol and eating food out of cans It s an unusual and at times unbearable existence but Chaos soon discovers that his post nuclear reality may have no connection to the truth So he takes to the road with a girl named Melinda in order to find answers As the pair travels through the United States they find that while each town has been affected differently by the mysterious source of the apocalypse none of the people they meet can fill in their incomplete memories or answer their questions Gradually figures from Chaos s past including some who appear only under the influence of intravenously administered drugs make Chaos remember some of his forgotten life as a man named Moon The Year's Best Science Fiction: Thirteenth Annual Collection Gardner Dozois,1996-05-15 The marvels of tomorrows past and tomorrows yet to come abound in this delightful volume With two dozen imaginative and moving tales this collection included the work of the finest writers in the field among them Poul Anderson Terry Bisson Pat Cadigan Greg Egan Michael F Flynn Joe Haldeman James Patrick Kelly John Kessel Nancy Kress Ursula K Le Guin Ian R MacLeod David Marusek Paul J McAuley Maureen F McHugh Robert Reed Mary Rosenblum Geoff Ryman William Sanders Dan Simmons Brian Stableford Allen Steele Michael Swanwick A helpful list of honorable mentions and Gardner Dozois s insightful summation of the year in science fiction round out the volume making it indispensable for anyone interested in science fiction today Once again Dozois serves up a pleasurable mix of established luminaries as well as the newer stars of the SF realm All of the 24 short stories or novellas are rewarding which is really the most outstanding feature of this collection Publishers Weekly Encyclopedia of Contemporary Writers and Their Works Geoff Hamilton,Brian Jones,2010 Provides a comprehensive overview of the best writers and works of the current English speaking literary world The Wall of the Sky, the Wall of the Eye Jonathan Lethem,2007 Seven futuristic stories In The Happy Man a dead man is periodically let out of Hell so he can support his family while in The Hardened Criminals the walls of a jail are made of convicts in suspended animation By the author of Gun with Occasional Music The Chronology of American Literature Daniel S.
