Journey to the Interior Bruce Ross, 1998-06-15 This collection of American poetry done in the Japanese Haibun style is a wonderful addition for any lover of haiku or other eloquent poetry styles Haibun is a beautiful Japanese form of autobiographical poetic prose accompanied by verse usually haiku Here Bruce Ross past president of the Haiku Society of America invites us on a journey of self discovery with over twenty five North American contributors who use this form to explore such issues as the self the emotional nature of love and dwelling in a particular place as well as the revelation of unknown places Journey to the Interior is the first anthology specifically devoted to original haibun written in English and reflects some of the most moving personal and spiritual literature being produced On The War-path Peter Pierce, Robin Gerster, 2016-10-18 This important anthology reveals the many ways in which going to war has formed a cultural bridge between Australia and the world From the Sudan in 1885 to Afghanistan in 2001 the connection of war to travel is illustrated in the observations of writers as varied as Banjo Paterson George Johnston Nancy Wake John Pilger Lily Brett and Peter Weir Selecting writings from combatants abroad as well as the reflections of sightseers who travel to foreign battlefields and war sites Robin Gerster and Peter Pierce reveal how the experience of war has both broadened and refined and sometimes distorted Australian views of the world Their lively collection crosses the boundaries between literature literary criticism travel writing war writing and cultural commentary The Blue-Eyed Tarokaja Donald Keene, 1996-06-27 The preeminent Western authority on Japanese literature presents a collection of personal essays and literary vignettes that offers a fresh and personal insight into his prolific career as a writer and translator traveler and social observer A Reader in Edo Period Travel Herbert Plutschow, 2022-03-07 Largely ignored hitherto by Western scholars Plutschow's Edo Period Travel provides the first in depth study of the subject which is centred on fifteen of the period's most notable travellers some of whom are well known in other fields as intellectuals artists poets folklorists and natural scientists for example but rarely if at all as travellers The first traveller put in the spotlight is the celebrated intellectual and botanist Kaibara Ekiken 1630-1714 and the last is the explorer of Ezo now Hokkaido and government official Matsuura Takeshiro 1818-88 Such was the thirst for knowledge in the Edo period that some travel accounts estimated to number over 2000 became best sellers in their day not least for their voyeuristic appeal including those of Kaibara Ekiken and Tachibana Nankei which are included in this volume

This important research on how the Japanese discovered their own country and cultural identity has considerable interdisciplinary appeal. Of particular interest also is the author's discussion on the nature of this new travel writing and the self-centred observation and seeing that developed in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries; he calls the Japanese Enlightenment. The Woman Who Woke Up In The Zen Forest Martin Avery, 2010 The Preparation of the Novel Roland Barthes, 2011 Completed just weeks before his death, the lectures in this volume mark a critical juncture in the career of Roland Barthes in which he declared the intention deeply felt to write a novel. Unfolding over the course of two years, Barthes engaged in a unique pedagogical experiment: he combined teaching and writing to simulate the trial of novel writing, exploring every step of the creative process along the way. Barthes's lectures move from the desire to write to the actual decision-making, planning and material act of producing a novel. He meets the difficulty of transitioning from short, concise notations exemplified by his favorite literary form, haiku, to longer, uninterrupted flows of narrative, and he encounters a number of setbacks. Barthes takes solace in a diverse group of writers including Dante, whose La Vita Nuova was similarly inspired by the death of a loved one, and he turns to classical philosophy, Taoism and the works of François-René Chateaubriand, Gustave Flaubert, Franz Kafka and Marcel Proust. This book uniquely includes eight elliptical plans for Barthes's unwritten novel, which he titled Vita Nova, and lecture notes that sketch the critic's views on photography. Following on The Neutral, Lecture Course at the Collège de France 1977-1978 and a third forthcoming collection of Barthes's lectures, this volume provides an intensely personal account of the labor and love of writing. Day Into Night Günther Klinge, 1980-01-01

Day into Night Gunther Klinge, 2016-05-10 This is a beautiful book for all seasons. Gunther Klinge illustrates that the difference between oriental and western mind is a myth and fantasy. His haiku never startle, never strain. Book News Previews In this exquisite collection of haiku, accomplished haiku author Gunther Klinge takes us on a journey through the days and nights of each of the seasons, beginning with spring dawn and ending with winter midnight. It is the human journey which Gunther Klinge so movingly depicts as it progresses through the eternal youthfulness of spring toward the richness of summer and on through the ripening maturity of autumn in the deepening stillness of winter. The universal appeal of these haiku and the contemplative comments which introduce and reiterate the mood of the seasons bind us all together as we make our own journeys from day into night. Emotion in Motion Mike Robinson, David Picard, 2016-05-06 What happens when tourists scream with fear, shout with anger and frustration, weep with joy and delight or even faint in the face of revealed beauty? How can certain sites affect some tourists so deeply that they require hospitalisation and psychiatric treatment? What are the inner contours of tourist experience and how does it relate to specific emotional cultures? What are the consequences of the emotional cultures of tourists upon destinations? How are differences in emotional culture mobilized and played out in the transnational contact zones of international tourism? While many books have engaged with the structural frames of tourist practice and experience, this is the first to deal with the emotional dimensions of tourism travel.

and contact and the ways in which they can transform tourists destinations and travel cultures through emotional engagements The book brings together an international array of scholars from anthropology psychiatry history cultural geography and critical tourism studies to explore how the movement to and through the realms of exotic people wild natures subliminal art spirit worlds metropolitan cities and sexualised others variably provoke emotions peak experiences travel syndromes and inner dialogues The authors show how tourism challenges us to engage with concepts of self other time nature sex the body and death Through a set of ethnographic and historic cases they demonstrate that such engagements usually have little to do with the actual destination but rather are deeply anchored in personal memories repressed fears and desires and the collective imaginaries of our societies
