All Our Welfare Peter Beresford, 2016-01-29 The UK welfare state is under sustained ideological and political attack It has also been undermined by accusations of paternalism and past failures to engage with the very people it is intended to help This unique book is the first to critique the past present and future welfare state from a participatory perspective Peter Beresford champion of user involvement draws on pioneering theories and practice of welfare service user movements to offer a blueprint for a new participatory social policy He controversially challenges orthodox social policy and the limitations of both Fabian and Neo liberal perspectives in engaging people to improve their own welfare drawing on service users own ideas and experience including fascinating vignettes from his own family s experience to demonstrate the value of user knowledge Filling a much needed gap in the literature this accessible text will provide a great introduction for students and a road map for practitioners of an alternative vision for a future participatory and sustainable social policy It will also command much wider interest from everyone concerned with how we look after each other in future in society

A New Era for Mental Health Law and Policy Piers Gooding, 2017-10-13 The Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities CRPD has generated new ideas and standards in healthcare and disability law and policy In the mental health context the CRPD directs governments to ensure people with mental impairments are treated equally before the law including ensuring people have access to the resources necessary to enjoy their rights But what this means in practice remains unclear In addition current domestic laws that authorise involuntary psychiatric interventions stand at cross purposes with the CRPD which requires respect for the will preference and rights of persons with disabilities on an equal basis with others This book explores the implications of the CRPD for law policy and practice that respond to the complex issues raised by mental health impairment and disability It argues that the support framework of the CRPD holds the potential to address persistent shortcomings in mental health law and policy

Service User Involvement in

Social Work Education Hugh McLaughlin, Joe Duffy, Brendan McKeever, June Sadd, 2019-10-23 In 2006 Social Work Education produced the first special edition vol 25 no 4 on service user and carer involvement in social work education with all of the articles coming from the United Kingdom In 2015 a mixed group of service users and social work academics wondered how and if the field had moved on since 2006 This publication confirms that it has Since 2006 service user and carer involvement in social work education has become embedded internationally this book contains contributions from Australia Israel Italy Norway Slovenia the Republic of Ireland and Sweden as well as all four nations of the United Kingdom Many of the contributions are jointly written with service users and carers highlighting the innovative practices which challenge social work academics students social workers and managers to think how we can all benefit from learning with and from service users and carers This book ably demonstrates that service users and carers can be effectively involved in social work curriculum planning delivery assessment and management This is not to say that these issues are not without their tension challenges or struggles but working with these helps to ensure that the social workers and managers of the future can practice more effectively meeting service user and carer priorities and needs The chapters in this book were originally published as a double special issue of Social Work Education

Participation, Marginalization and Welfare Services

Aila-Leena Matthies, Lars Uggerhøj, 2016-05-13 Current debates around participation and marginalization dominate the agenda of many European political forums There is an increasing concern about the stability of social cohesion and a growing number of particular groups of people who are regarded as being at risk of being socially excluded or marginalized This volume goes beyond the surface of public discussions to look at the central role played by welfare services in European societies in either strengthening or hindering participatory citizenship and democracy In current discussions welfare services understood in a broad sense are centrally positioned there are high expectations that welfare services can hinder marginalization and enable participation Yet marginalization is in most cases rooted in the deeper structures of society with economy participation and involvement dependent on political or highly personal factors which are beyond the scope of welfare services This groundbreaking volume posits that participation and marginalization are twin concepts expressing opposing sides of one and the same processes faced by individuals and communities It will be essential reading for social workers sociologists and policy makers throughout Europe
