Shigematsu,2016-06-03 Those who study kendo regard promotion examinations and matches as vehicles for cultivating self discipline Preparing to take a grading is especially motivating compared to regular training It is however also a tremendous disappointment when you fail There are those who manage to pass each examination without ever failing and others who reach an impasse So what is the difference between these two groups If you can figure this out even just a little you are one step closer to finding success There are many things needed for success in an examination not least of which is impressing the judges with resonating strikes There is no way to achieve your goal without knowing how to accomplish this The content of this book is based on lessons I learned from my sensei my personal experiences in the dojo and what I read in books and instruction manuals along the way I hope that you will find the information in this small volume useful reference material as you tread down the path of kendo The Fighting Man's Guide to German Longsword Combat Michael G.
