The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Ruth M. Stone,2017-09-25 The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music is a ten volume reference work organized geographically by continent to represent the musics of the world in nine volumes The tenth volume houses reference tools and descriptive information about the encyclopedia's structure criteria for inclusion and other information specific to the field of ethnomusicology. An award-winning reference, its contributions are from top researchers around the world who were active in fieldwork and from key institutions with programs in ethnomusicology. GEWM has become a familiar acronym and it remains highly revered for its scholarship, uncontested in being the sole encompassing reference work with a broad survey of world music. More than 9,000 pages with musical illustrations, photographs and drawings, it is accompanied by 300 audio examples.

Performance in a Time of Terror, 2021-03-30 This volume is a collection of five Sinhala plays translated into English which were written and performed during the most violent phase of modern Sri Lankan history. Ranjini Obeyesekere's translation of these five well-known and celebrated plays by K. B. Herath, Prasanna Jith Abeysuriya, Dhananjaya Karunarathne, Prasanna Jayakody and Rajitha Dissanayake highlights and explores the dynamic period of Sri Lankan theater and performance arts in the 1980s and 1990s. The plays in this collection offered a political space for criticism, introspection, discussion and protest during a time of suppression of voices, political violence and terror. Audiences flocked to the theater to watch plays produced by talented dramatists and artists who were experimenting with forms and themes under extremely challenging circumstances, shoe-string budgets and strict censorship. Kanchuka Dharmasiri's introduction to the volume further details the history and socio-political contexts of the theater of this period, discussing themes such as dissent, identity and the brutal power of the state. She also looks at the unique formal elements employed in these plays as well as their influence and reach. This volume is a significant addition to the growing corpus of Sinhala literature in translation. It will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of literature, performance studies, cultural studies and the politics and history of Sri Lanka.

Cultural Histories of Noise, Sound and Listening in Europe, 1300-1918 Kirsten Gibson, Ian Biddle, 2016-11-18 Cultural Histories of Noise, Sound and Listening in Europe, 1300-1918 presents a range of historical case studies on the sounding worlds of the European past. The chapters in this volume explore ways of thinking about sound historically and seek to understand how people have understood and negotiated their relationships with the sounding world in Europe from the Middle Ages through to the early twentieth century. They consider in particular sound and music in the later Middle Ages, the politics of sound in the early modern period, the history of the body and perception during the Ancien Régime and the sounds of the city in the nineteenth century and sound and colonial rule at the fin de siècle. The case studies also range in geographical orientation to include considerations not only of Britain and France, the countries most considered in European historical sound studies in English language scholarship to date, but also Bosnia Herzegovina, British Colonial India, Germany, Italy and Portugal. Out of this diverse group of case studies emerge significant themes that recur time and again, varying according to time and place: sound, power and identity; sound as a marker of power or violence; sound, physiology and sensory perception; and technologies of sound, consumption and meaning.

Breaking the Ashes Michele Ruth Gamburd, 2008 Gamburd explores the changing role of alcohol consumption in a Sri Lankan village the cultural context for social and antisocial alcohol consumption insight into everyday and ceremonial drinking and the illicit alcohol market      Reinterpreting Indian Ocean Worlds Stefan C. A. Halikowski Smith, 2011-05-25 The Indian Ocean World was an idea borne out by researchers in economic history and trade in the 1980s in response to the compartmentalization of specific area studies within the wider rubric of Asian civilisations and culture Professor Kirti N Chaudhuri's books Trading World of Asia and the English East India Company 1978 and then Trade and Civilization in the Indian Ocean 1985 figured amongst the forefront of this new movement in historical thinking undertaking detailed historical analysis first of the English East India Company and then a comparative cultural history of Asian material life and civilisation Today historians continue to hold on to the idea of an Indian Ocean world although studies now follow a number of different threads from themes like linguistics and creolization to the seeds of national consciousness By presenting a number of studies here gathered into the themes of Intermixing The World of Trade and Colonial Paths it is hoped we can render tribute to one of the outstanding historians in this field and reflect the plenitude of current research in this subject area      The Musical Gift Jim Sykes, 2018-08-31 The Musical Gift tells Sri Lanka's music history as a story of giving between humans and nonhumans and between populations defined by difference Author Jim Sykes argues that in the recent past the genres we recognize today as Sri Lanka's esteemed traditional musics were not originally about ethnic or religious identity but were gifts to gods and people intended to foster protection and or healing Noting that the currently assumed link between music and identity helped produce the narratives of ethnic difference that drove Sri Lanka's civil war 1983-2009 Sykes argues that the promotion of connected music histories has a role to play in post war reconciliation The Musical Gift includes a study of how NGOs used music to promote reconciliation in Sri Lanka and it contains a theorization of the relations between musical gifts and commodities Eschewing a binary between the gift and identity Sykes claims the world's music history is largely a story of entanglement between both paradigms Drawing on fieldwork conducted widely across Sri Lanka over a span of eleven years including the first study of Sinhala Buddhist drumming in English and the first ethnography of music making in the former warzones of the north and east this book brings anthropology's canonic literature on the gift into music studies while drawing on anthropology's recent ontological turn and the new materialism in religious studies      Asiaweek, 1986

This musical dramatic and textual syncretism defines tradition within the group and maintains the identity of the creole community. References are primarily to Indian and Sri Lankan materials collected in the late nineteenth century and to data in the H. Nevill collection an extensive manuscript of Sri Lankan Creole texts from the 1870s or 1880s housed in the British Museum. The importance of these texts is linguistic anthropological and sociological.
