Hagenbund Agnes Husslein-Arco, Matthias Boeckl, Harald Krejci, 2014 The Viennese artists association Hagenbund played a crucial role in the artistic scene of not only Vienna but of Central Europe in general Active from 1900 to 1938 the group united several different art movements under its umbrella and helped to introduce a new creative dynamic at a time when the Vienna Secession was slowly losing its impact In that context the liberal political and artistic attitude of the Hagenbund membership was revolutionary The Hagenbund counted more than 250 members among them Georg Merkel Oskar Laske Carry Hauser Otto Rudolf Schatz Emil Strecker and Fritz Schwarz Waldegg This volume traces the history of the Hagenbund and its influence offering the first sustained analysis of the group in an art historical context Packed with more than three hundred color images it will be the standard work on the Hagenbund for decades to come Hagenbund : a

Rasula, 2020-02-27 This is a book about artistic modernism contending with the historical transfigurations of modernity As a conscientious engagement with modernity's restructuring of the lifeworld the modernist avant garde raised the stakes of this engagement to programmatic explicitness But even beyond the vanguard the global phenomenon of jazz combined somatic assault with sensory tutelage Jazz like the new technologies of modernity re calibrated sensory ratios The criterion of the new as self making also extended to names pseudonyms and heteronyms The protocols of modernism solicited a pragmatic arousal of bodily sensation as artistic resource validating an acrobatic sensibility ranging from slapstick and laughter to the pathos of bereavement Expressivity trumped representation The artwork was a diagram of perception not a mimetic rendering For artists the historical pressures of altered perception provoked new models and Ezra Pound's slogan Make It New became the generic rallying cry of renovation The paradigmatic stance of the avant garde was established by Futurism but the discovery of prehistoric art added another provocation to artists Paleolithic caves validated the spirit of all over composition unframed and dynamic Geometric abstraction Constructivism and Purism and Surrealism were all in quest of a new mythology Making it new yielded a new pathos in the sensation of radical discrepancy between futurist striving and remotest antiquity The Paleolithic cave and the USSR emitted comparable siren calls on behalf of the remote past and the desired future As such the present was suffused with the pathos of being neither but subject to both Tracking

Rethinking Period Boundaries Lucian George,Jade McGlynn,2022-03-21 Periodization is an ever present feature of the grammar of history writing As with all grammatical rules the order it imposes can structure but also stifle historical interpretations Though few historians consider their period boundaries as anything more than useful guidelines heuristic artifice all too easily congeals into immovable structure blinkering the historical gaze In this cross disciplinary volume an international group of historians and cultural scholars considers different ways in which accepted period boundaries in modern European history and cultural studies can be challenged and rethought Alongside a theoretical introduction and epilogue the volume contains seven case studies exploring hitherto under researched continuities and discontinuities in the social cultural intellectual literary labour and art history of 19th and 20th century Europe with a particular focus on the continent s East Topics covered include French anti communism peasant memories of serfdom cosmopolitan art in a nationalist age the communist takeover of Poland Russian literary history and national day traditions in East Central Europe To problematize period boundaries the chapters in this volume adopt the perspective of social groups that standard periodization schemes have ignored shine a light on awkward actors who have appeared out of step with canonical understandings of their period consider how historical actors themselves divide up history and how this informs historical practice and explore the difficulties that the non synchronicity of different historical processes can pose for periodization
