As they zigzagged across a debatable land between Italy and Austria Victorians discovered a unique geography characterized by untrodden peaks and unfrequented valleys. The discovery of this landscape blended aesthetic, scientific and cultural values utterly different from those engendered by the bombastic conquests of the Western Alps achieved during the Golden Age of Mountaineering. Filtered through memories of the Venetian Grand Tour the Victorian encounter with the Dolomites is revealed through a series of distinct cultural practices that paradigmatically define a Silver Age of Mountaineering. This book shows how these practices are more ethnographic than imperialistic, more feminine than masculine more artistic than sportive rather than racing to summits the Silver Age is about rambling rather than conquering peaks it is about sketching them in an intimate interaction with the Dolomite landscape A Companion to Latin Studies
