promoting student success and well being Many college and university personnel have implemented initiatives that offer students the documented benefits of positive human animal interaction HAI Accumulating evidence suggests that assistance dogs therapy dogs and shelter dogs can support student wellness and learning The best programs balance the welfare of humans and canines while assessing students needs and complying with all laws and regulations Contributors to this edited volume have drawn upon research across many disciplines as well as their extensive practical experiences to produce a timely and valuable resource for administrators and students Whether readers are just getting started or striving to improve well established programs The Canine Campus Connection provides authoritative evidence based guidance on bringing college students and canines together in reciprocally beneficial ways Part one examines the interactions between postsecondary students and canines by reviewing the literature on the human canine bond It establishes what necessarily must be the top priority in canine assisted activities and therapy the health and safety of both Part two highlights four major categories of dogs that students are likely to interact with on and off campus service dogs emotional support animals ESAs therapy dogs and homeless dogs Part three emphasizes ways in which dogs can influence student learning during classes and across aspects of their professional development Part four considers future directions Authors take the stance that enriching and enlarging interactions between college students and canines will require university personnel who plan and evaluate events projects and programs The book concludes with the recommendation that colleges and universities move toward more dog friendly campus cultures

Assessing Handlers for Competence in Animal-Assisted Interventions Ann R.

Howie,2021-09-15 Through practical real life examples Assessing Handlers for Competence in Animal Assisted Interventions provides guidance to any person working with animals in any setting Facilities that have volunteers who work independently are in the greatest need of competent handlers yet many of those facilities accept handlers with only proof of animal vaccinations Other facilities accept an evaluation of the animal handler team without knowing whether that evaluation relates to their facility or client dynamics Both of these problems easily can be remedied with basic guidance Howie brings more than thirty years of experience as an AAI provider coordinator and mental health therapist to bear on the topic of competence for animal handlers In a friendly easy to read style she clearly explains the need for competencies while identifying broad categories currently in use She then outlines training that addresses those competencies based on individual facility and client dynamics She further describes one model for easily integrating competency assessment into an interview and provides a form for documenting the competency assessment Additionally Howie addresses how to deal with problems that can arise in program management Anyone who reads this book will come away with the knowledge and confidence to assess handlers competence
