MIMED Forum IV Beyhan Bolak Hisarligil, Gülsün Sağlamer, 2014-08-11 This book is the outcome of one of the Forum Series on Architectural Education organized by the Architectural Education Association of Turkey MIMED on the theme of Flexibility in Architecture At Forum IV the architectural education platform was cross examined new ideas and experiences were shared and the potentials of regeneration were discovered The notion of flexibility in architectural education is the subject of fresh and vital debate which is based on whether it is achieved by the inner dynamics of architecture or the external dynamics However this debate seems null and void since the dynamics of both sides seem to necessitate flexibility in architectural education at almost the same level Hence the attitude that the prerequisite for creating flexibility according to the inner dynamics of architecture depends on the protection of architectural education from the coercive effects of external dynamics is no longer a relevant issue Furthermore architectural education as a role model in such a debate becomes more important not only in a monotyping global context but also in the local social context as well Herein lies a fundamental dichotomy arising from the fact that because of globalization curricula may face the risk of becoming uniform Any effort to overcome this dichotomy in such a debate seems vital Then the question arises whether such a dichotomy which turns architectural education from an autonomous discipline into a quasi autonomous one transforms architectural education into a rather political issue If the autonomous nature of architectural education resists globalization the question of the manner in which this resistance occurs and what impact it will have on architectural education seems of the utmost importance The volume begins with a preface by Gulsun Saglamer President of MIMED Contributors include Juhani Pallasmaa Kim Dovey Kojin Karatani Herman Neuckermans Conall Cath in Mark Olweny Ugur Tanyeli Ferhan Yurekli Gulsun Saglamer Fatma Erkok Rengin Unver Cigdem Polatoglu S Mujdem Vural Iris Aravot Acalya Allmer Sigrun Prahli Aslihan Senel Sevgi Turkkan Burcin Kurtuncu Sait Ali Koknar Ozlem Berber Funda Uz Sonmez Akin Sevinc Danelle Briscoe Kurt Gouwy Aydan Balamir Mine Ozkar Basak Ucar Semra Arslan Selcuk Arzu Gonenc Sorguc Sema Alacam Esra Gurbuz Urs Hirschberg and Ahu Sokmenoglu Project Work Second Edition - Resource Books for Teachers Diana L. Speculative Everything Anthony Dunne, Fiona Raby, 2013-12-06 How to use design as a tool to create not only things but ideas to speculate about possible futures Today designers often focus on making technology easy to use sexy and consumable In Speculative Everything

Anthony Dunne and Fiona Raby propose a kind of design that is used as a tool to create not only things but ideas. For them, design is a means of speculating about how things could be to imagine possible futures. This is not the usual sort of predicting or forecasting, spotting trends and extrapolating; these kinds of predictions have been proven wrong again and again. Instead, Dunne and Raby pose what-if questions that are intended to open debate and discussion about the kind of future people want and do not want. Speculative Everything offers a tour through an emerging cultural landscape of design ideas, ideals, and approaches. Dunne and Raby cite examples from their own design and teaching and from other projects from fine art, design, architecture, cinema, and photography. They also draw on futurology, political theory, the philosophy of technology, and literary fiction. They show us, for example, ideas for a solar kitchen, restaurant, a flypaper robotic clock, a menstruation machine, a cloud seeding truck, a phantom limb sensation recorder, and devices for food foraging that use the tools of synthetic biology. Dunne and Raby contend that if we speculate more about everything, reality will become more malleable. The ideas freed by speculative design increase the odds of achieving desirable futures.

The Worlding Project Christopher Leigh Connery, Rob Wilson, 2007-10-30. Globalization discourse now presumes that the world space is entirely at the mercy of market norms and forms promulgated by reactionary U.S. policies. An academic but accessible set of studies, this wide range of essays by noted scholars challenges this paradigm with diverse and strong arguments. Taking on topics that range from the medieval Mediterranean to contemporary Jamaican music, from Hong Kong martial arts cinema to Taiwanese politics, writers such as David Palumbo Liu, Meaghan Morris, James Clifford, and others use innovative cultural studies to challenge the globalization narrative with a new and trenchant tactic called worlding. The book posits that world literature, cultural studies, and disciplinary practices must be worlded into expressions from disparate critical angles of vision, multiple frameworks, and field practices as yet emerging or unidentified. This opens up a major rethinking of historical givens from Rob Wilson's reinvention of The White Surfer Dude to Sharon Kinoshita's Deprovincializing the Middle Ages. Building on the work of cultural critics like Edward Said, Gayatri Spivak, and Kenneth Burke, The Worlding Project is an important manifesto that aims to redefine the aesthetics and politics of postcolonial globalization with alternative forms and frames of global becoming.

Golden Ticket Kate Egan, 2022-06-21. A middle grade novel by Kate Egan, Golden Ticket explores friendship, academic anxiety, and what it means to be special. It's practically like a private school. Mrs. Silver said bitterly, "The best teacher for such a tiny group of students who wouldn't succeed in a class like that." She took off her sunglasses to glare at the dad. Those kids get picked out when they're seven years old, and they get handed a golden ticket. Of course they become stars. Eleven-year-old Ash McNulty is one of the gifted and talented kids at her school, spending most of her day in a special class with a few other advanced students. As the end of fifth grade rolls around, she should be on top of the world. According to everyone, she's going to rock junior high. But Ash has a secret: She can't keep up with her advanced classmates.

anymore The minute she asks for help though everyone will know she s not who they think she is She s not so smart She might not even be that special And her parents will be crushed to discover the truth If Ash can win the Quiz Bowl though that will show everyone that she is still on top If she gets a lucky break ahead of time all the better Except that lucky break backfires And Ash is left to question everything she thought she knew about school friends and success

Investigating Classroom Interaction ,2009-01-01 This book adds a new perspective to existing research methodology literature on analyzing social interactions in the classroom Not only does this book introduce multiple research methodologies for analyzing classroom interactions but it also demonstrates these methodologies at work in different empirical research studies The authors of this book are all internationally well recognized for their research work on the social life of classrooms and now for the first time they provide concrete accounts of the ways in which the theories and methodologies they have chosen to guide their research work function in action These black boxes or tacit knowledge of conducting different types of analyses on classroom interaction have seldom been opened up in such a concrete way in the existing research literature This book is an edited collection of papers introducing strands of research on classroom interaction whose logic of inquiry illuminate different approaches analyses and interpretations of social interactions and discourses in contemporary classroom settings The methodological approaches discussed draw on studies of language and discourse ethnography as well as on sociological psychological and domain specific analyses In recognizing the complexity and challenges in mapping out the complex research territory focusing on classroom interactions the prime goal of the book is to build a complimentary context for discussion of the ways in which different approaches to classroom interaction are realized and how they produce different analyses because of their purpose conceptual framework and methodological choice The illumination of diverse approaches to classroom interaction and discourse is believed to demonstrate the potential and challenges each strand of research is likely to bring towards understanding the psychological social and cultural life of the classroom and how these mediate the situated practice of teaching and learning in today s schooling This book is targeted towards researchers and graduate students working within the field of social sciences education and psychology It also makes an excellent text for courses in research methodology education and related fields

The Indies of the Setting Sun Ricardo Padrón, 2020-07-29 Padrón reveals the evolution of Spain's imagining of the New World as a space in continuity with Asia Narratives of Europe's westward expansion often tell of how the Americas came to be known as a distinct landmass separate from Asia and uniquely positioned as new ground ripe for transatlantic colonialism But this geographic vision of the Americas was not shared by all Europeans While some imperialists imagined North and Central America as undiscovered land the Spanish pushed to define the New World as part of a larger and eminently flexible geography that they called las Indias and that by right belonged to the Crown of Castile and León Las Indias included all of the New World as well as East and Southeast Asia although Spain's understanding of the relationship between the two areas changed as the realities of the Pacific Rim came into sharper focus. At first the Spanish insisted that North and Central America were an extension of the continent of Asia. Eventually they came to understand East and Southeast Asia as a transpacific extension of their empire in America called las Indias del poniente or the Indies of the Setting Sun. The Indies of the Setting Sun charts the Spanish vision of a transpacific imperial expanse beginning with Balboa's discovery of the South Sea and ending almost a hundred years later with Spain's final push for control of the Pacific. Padrón traces a series of attempts both cartographic and discursive to map the space from Mexico to Malacca revealing the geopolitical imaginations at play in the quest for control of the New World and Asia.
