Improvising Theory Process And Temporality In Ethnographic Fieldwork:

Improvising Theory Allaine Cerwonka, Liisa H. Malkki, 2008-11-15 Scholars have long recognized that ethnographic method is bound up with the construction of theory in ways that are difficult to teach. The reason Allaine Cerwonka and Liisa H. Malkki argue is that ethnographic theorization is essentially improvisatory in nature, conducted in real time and in necessarily unpredictable social situations. In a unique account of and critical reflection on the process of theoretical improvisation in ethnographic research, they demonstrate how both objects of analysis and our ways of knowing and explaining them are created and discovered in the give and take of real life in all its unpredictability and immediacy. Improvising Theory centers on the year-long correspondence between Cerwonka, then a graduate student in political science conducting research in Australia, and her anthropologist mentor Malkki. Through regular e-mail exchanges, Malkki attempted to teach Cerwonka, then new to the discipline, the basic tools and subtle intuition needed for anthropological fieldwork. The result is a strikingly original dissection of the processual ethics and politics of method in ethnography.

Affective Dimensions of Fieldwork and Ethnography Thomas Stodulka, Samia Dinkelaker, Ferdiansyah Thajib, 2019-08-20 This book illustrates the role of researchers' affects and emotions in understanding and making sense of the phenomena they study during ethnographic fieldwork. Whatever methods ethnographers apply during field research, however close they get to their informants and no matter how involved or detached they feel, fieldwork pushes them to constantly negotiate and reflect their subjectivities and positionalities in relation to the persons, communities, spaces, and phenomena they study. The book highlights the idea that ethnographic fieldwork is based on the attempt of communication, mutual understanding, and perspective-taking on behalf of and together with those studied. With regard to the institutionally silenced yet informally emphasized necessity of ethnographers' emotional immersion into the local worlds they research, defined as emic perspective, narrating through the eyes of the Other, seeing the world from the informants' point of view, etc., this book pursues the disentanglement of affect.

related disciplinary conventions by means of transparent vivid and systematic case studies and their methodological discussion The book provides nineteen case studies on the relationship between methodology intersubjectivity and emotion in qualitative and ethnographic research and includes six section introductions to the pivotal issues of role conflict reciprocity intimacy and care illness and dying failing and attuning and emotion regimes in fieldwork and ethnography Affective Dimensions of Fieldwork and Ethnography is a must have resource for post graduate students and researchers across the disciplines of social and cultural anthropology medical anthropology psychological anthropology cultural psychology critical theory cultural phenomenology and cultural sociology

Challenges and Solutions in Ethnographic Research Tuuli Lähdesmäki, Eerika Koskinen-Koivisto, Viktorija L.A. Čeginskas, Aino-Kaisa Koistinen, 2020-07-14 Challenges and Solutions in Ethnographic Research Ethnography with a Twist seeks to rethink ethnography outside the box of its previous tradition and to develop ethnographic methods by critically discussing the process ethics impact and knowledge production in ethnographic research This interdisciplinary edited volume argues for a twist that supports openness courage and creativity to develop and test innovative and unconventional ways of thinking and doing ethnography Ethnography with a twist means both an intentional aim to conduct ethnographic research with novel approaches and methods but also sensitivity to recognize and creativity to utilize different kinds of twist moments that ethnographic research may create for the researcher This edited volume critically evaluates new and old methodological tools and their ability to engage with questions of power difference It proposes new collaborative methods that allow for co production and co creation of research material as well as shared conceptual work and wider distribution of knowledge The book will be of use to ethnographers in humanities and social science disciplines including sociology anthropology and communication studies

COVID-19 and Risk Society across the MENA Region, 2022-01-27 The impact of the COVID 19 pandemic at the interlocking levels of politics economy and society have been different across regions states and societies In the case of the Middle East and North Africa which was already in the throes of intense tumult following the onset of the 2011 Arab Spring COVID s blows have on the one hand followed the trajectory of some global patterns while at the same time playing out in regionally specific ways Based on empirical country level analysis this volume brings together an international team of contributors seeking to untangle how COVID 19 unfolds across the MENA The analyses are framed through a contextual adaptation of Ulrich Beck s famous concept of risk society that pinpointed the negative consequences of modernity and its unbridled capitalism The book traces how this has come home in full force in the COVID 19 pandemic The editors Larbi Sadiki and Layla Saleh use the term Arab risk society They highlight short term and long term repercussions across the MENA These include socio economic inequality a revitalized state of authoritarianism challenged by relentless democratic struggles But the analyses are attuned to problem solving research The ethnographies of the pandemic included in this book investigate transformations and coping mechanisms within each country case study They provide an ethically informed research praxis that can respond to the manifold crises crashing down upon MENA polities and societies

Design for Partnerships for Change Sandi Hilal and Merve Bedir Eds Doing Interpretive Research Koen P. R. Bartels, Hendrik Wagenaar, 2025-05-13 Interpretivism has an intuitive appeal to many social researchers but they often feel ill equipped to do it Other social researchers tend to believe that interpretivism is a specialized niche with little relevance to their research practice What has been lost is the awareness that interpretation is an explanatory logic and form of inquiry that is at the root of all social science research including quantitative research In this volume the authors guide social researchers and instructors in better understanding and improving the experience of doing interpretive research They explore the centrality of experience in learning and teaching interpretive research paying special attention to the role of emotions in the learning process and the way that negative emotions such as doubt and anxiety can impart learning The authors provide a novel approach to methods teaching by offering a set of heuristics open ended strategies of inquiry and discovery for improving the practice of social research Uniquely they demonstrate how emotions can be leveraged in the learning process to uncover surprising new insights about social reality and unlock researchers imagination They reveal how social researchers engaged or interested in interpretivism in learning can turn their research into an enjoyable productive and imaginative experience Governing Disasters S. Revet, J. Langumier, 2015-03-04 Based on extensive ethnographic and historical research conducted in diverse field locations this volume offers an acute analysis of how actors at local national and international levels govern disasters it examines the political issues at stake that often go unaddressed and demonstrates that victims of disaster do not remain passive Christianity, Politics and the Afterlives of War in Uganda Henni Alava, 2022-03-10 This open access book sheds critical light on the complex and unstable relationship between Christianity and politics and peace and war Drawing on long running ethnographic fieldwork in Uganda s largest religious communities it maps the tensions and ironies found in the Catholic and Anglican Churches in the wake of war between the Lord s Resistance Army and the Government of Uganda It shows how churches responses to the war were enabled by their embeddedness in local communities Yet churches embeddedness in structures of historical violence made their attempts to nurture peace liable to compound conflict At the heart of the book is the Acholi concept of anyobanyoba confusion which depicts an experienced sense of both ambivalence and uncertainty a state of mixed up affairs within community and an essential aspect of politics in a country characterized by the threat of state violence Foregrounding vulnerability the book advocates confusion as an epistemological and ethical device and employs it to meditate on how religious believers as well as researchers can cultivate hope amid memories of suffering and on going violence The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4 0 licence on bloomsburycollections com Open access was funded by University of Jyväskylä Transnational Migration and Home in Older Age Katie Walsh, Lena Näre, 2016-03-10 This book examines the transformations in home lives arising in later life and resulting from global migrations It provides insight into the ways in which contemporary demographic processes of aging and migration shape the meaning experience and making of home for those in older age Chapters explore how home is negotiated in relation to possibilities for return to the homeland family networks aging and health care cultures and belonging The book deliberately crosses emerging sub fields in transnationalism studies by offering case studies on aging labour migrants retirement migrants and return migrants as well as older people affected by the movement of others including family members and migrant care workers The diversity of people s experiences of home in later life is fully explored and the impact of social class gender and nationality as well as the corporeal dimensions of older age are all in evidence

Juridification In Bioethics: Governance Of Human Pluripotent Cell Research Calvin Wai-loon Ho,2016-07-28 What is legal about bioethics What are the ideas and artefacts that bioethics encompasses and how are they related to law What is the role of law in bioethics In this work Calvin Ho attempts to address these questions in the context of the governance of human pluripotent stem cell research In essence he argues that the hybridization of law through processes devices and techniques of juridification has helped to constitute bioethics as a public sphere and an emergent civic epistemology Drawing on his multi sited ethnographic fieldwork and on Actor Network Theory Ho explains how the law has through bioethics contributed to the scientific and public understanding of human pluripotent stem cell research and its artefacts particularly the embryo and human animal combinations Although the focus of his work is on bioethical developments in Singapore over a period of more than 15 years parallel developments in key jurisdictions especially the United States of America and the United Kingdom and in international science policy are also evaluated It is through appreciating how it has progressed that bioethics will be better able to engage with future challenges presented by advances in human embryo research and gene editing techniques among others

Tambiah, 2013 Contributions from scholars in anthropology religion and area studies stemming from research in East and Southeast Asia Africa Europe and the Americas collected to represent a form of historically grounded ethnographically driven social science that seeks to understand social phenomena by dialogically engaging global and local perspectives Linguistic Ethnography Fiona Copland, Sara Shaw, Julia Snell, 2016-04-29 The collection demonstrates the ways in which established traditions and scholars have come together under the umbrella of linguistic ethnography to explore important questions about how language and communication are used in a range of settings and contexts and with what effect Narrating Social Work Through Autoethnography Stanley L Witkin, 2014 Autoethnography is an innovative approach to inquiry located in the interstices between science and literature Blending researcher and subject roles autoethnographers use analytical strategies to explore the social and cultural contexts of meaningful life experiences and their implications for the present Social issues are described from the inside out producing narratives that reflect the messy experiential encounters of everyday life This collection illustrates the value of autoethnography as an inquiry approach for social work practice Covering such topics as international adoption cross dressing divorce cultural competence life threatening illness and transformative change contributors showcase the ambiguities doubts contradictions insights tensions and epiphanies that accompany their experiences This anthology provides a readable and unique example of an exciting new trend in qualitative research Research Handbook on Modern Legal Realism Shaubin Talesh, Elizabeth Mertz, Heinz Klug, 2021-03-26 This insightful Research Handbook provides a definitive overview of the New Legal Realism NLR movement reaching beyond historical and national boundaries to form new conversations Drawing on deep roots within the law and society tradition it demonstrates the powerful virtues of new legal realist research and its attention to the challenges of translation between social science and law It explores an impressive range of contemporary issues including immigration policing globalization legal education and access to justice concluding with an examination of how different social science disciplines intersect with NLR Identities in Practice Laura Hirvi, 2013-10-18 Identities in Practice draws a nuanced picture of how the experience of migration affects the process through which Sikhs in Finland and California negotiate their identities What makes this study innovative with regard to the larger context of migration studies is the contrast it provides between experiences at two Sikh migration destinations By using an ethnographic approach Hirvi reveals how practices carried out in relation to work dress the life cycle as well as religious and cultural sites constitute important moments in which Sikhs engage in the often transnational art of negotiating identities
