Racialized Identities in Second Language Learning Uju Anya, 2016-12-01 Winner of the 2019 AAAL First Book Award
Racialized Identities in Second Language Learning Speaking Blackness in Brazil provides a critical overview and original sociolinguistic analysis of the African American experience in second language learning More broadly this book introduces the idea of second language learning as transformative socialization how learners instructors and their communities shape new communicative selves as they collaboratively construct and negotiate race ethnicity gender sexuality and social class identities Uju Anya's study follows African American college students learning Portuguese in Afro Brazilian communities and their journeys in learning to do and speak blackness in Brazil Video recorded interactions student journals interviews and writing assignments show how multiple intersecting identities are enacted and challenged in second language learning Thematic critical and conversation analyses describe ways black Americans learn to speak their material ideological and symbolic selves in Portuguese and how linguistic action reproduces or resists power and inequity The book addresses key questions on how learners can authentically and effectively participate in classrooms and target language communities to show that black students racialized identities and investments in these communities greatly influence their success in second language learning and how successful others perceive them to be Sociolinguistics and Language Education Nancy H. Hornberger, Sandra Lee McKay, 2010-06-17 This book addressed to experienced and novice language educators provides an up to date overview of sociolinguistics reflecting changes in the global situation and the continuing evolution of the field and its relevance to language education around the world Topics covered include nationalism and popular culture style and identity creole languages critical language awareness gender and ethnicity multimodal literacies classroom discourse and ideologies and power Whether considering the role of English as an international language or innovative initiatives in Indigenous language revitalization in every context of the world sociolinguistic perspectives highlight the fluid and flexible use of language in communities and classrooms and the importance of teacher practices that open up spaces of awareness and acceptance of and access to the widest possible communicative repertoire for students Language Teacher Identity Sílvia Melo-Pfeifer, Vander Tavares, 2024-03-04 The first volume to focus on race ethnicity and accent as elements of language teacher identity a valuable guide for in service teachers and teachers in training Language Teacher Identity presents a groundbreaking critical examination of how ideologies of race ethnicity accent and immigration status impact perceptions of plurilingual teachers Bringing together contributions by an international panel of established and emerging scholars this important work of scholarship addresses issues related to native speakerism monolingualism racism competence authenticity and legitimacy while examining their role in the construction of professional identity With an intersectional and holistic approach the authors draw upon case studies of practical teacher experiences from Brazil Canada Germany Norway Mongolia Pakistan and the United States to provide teachers with real world insights on responding to the assumptions biases and prejudices that students, student teachers and teachers may bring into the classroom. Topics include the impact of policies and ideologies on teacher identity development, the intersection between L2 teacher identity and teacher emotion research, awareness of ethnic accent bullying and the use of transraciolinguistic approaches in the classroom. This unique new work provides a broad overview of the different types of challenges language teachers face in their careers. Focuses on race, ethnicity, plurilingualism and accent as fundamental elements of a language teacher's identity. Discusses the sensitive political and social factors that complicate the role of a language teacher in the classroom. Covers the teaching of a wide range of languages including English, Japanese, Portuguese, French, Spanish and Norwegian. Addresses key issues and significant gaps in contemporary research on language teacher education including the experiences of teachers of two or more languages. Employing a variety of methodological and theoretical approaches, Language Teacher Identity is a forward-looking look at an exciting area of research and theory in language teacher education and training. It is essential reading for students training to become language teachers, in-service teachers and for students and scholars in applied linguistics with a focus on TESOL, teacher and language education.

Multilingualism, Identity and Interculturality in Education Ruth Fielding, 2022-10-31. This book brings together research on multilingualism, identity and intercultural understanding from a range of locations across the globe to explore the intersection of these key ideas in education. It addresses the need to better understand how multilingual identity and intercultural approaches intersect for multilingual learners in complex and varied settings. Through global examples, it explores how identities and multilingualism are situated within and surrounding intercultural experiences. This book examines the different theoretical interpretations as encountered and used in different contexts. By doing so, it helps readers better understand how teachers approach multilingualism and diversity in a range of contexts.

Race, Racism, and Antiracism in Language Education Ryuko Kubota, Suhanthie Motha, 2024-10-30. Building on the pioneering 2009 volume Race, Culture and Identities in Second Language Education, this book reflects the significant expansion in the research since its publication and offers a wider breadth of perspectives on the complex theoretical terrain of race, racism and antiracism in language education. Contributors to this book apply a range of conceptual and methodological lenses to teaching diverse world languages. Underscoring the interconnectedness of race and colonialism, world language education and intersectional ideologies, this book offers a forum for engaged dialogues among teachers, teacher educators, teacher candidates, graduate and advanced undergraduate students, curriculum developers, policymakers and educational researchers in a wide range of disciplines including language education. In covering important theoretical frames and constructs including raciolinguistic and anti-oppressive pedagogies, decoloniality, neoliberalism and reverse linguistic stereotyping, this book breaks from the Global North norms in applied linguistics and language instruction. An essential text in TESOL and world language education, this volume weaves meaningful connections among language education, language in education policy and research.

Race and Ethnicity in English Language Teaching Christopher

Joseph Jenks,2017-08-14 This book examines racism and racialized discourses in the ELT profession in South Korea The book is informed by a number of different critical approaches to race and discourse and the discussions contained in the chapters offer one way of exploring how the ELT profession can be understood from such perspectives Observations made are based on the understanding that racism should not be viewed as individual acts of discrimination but rather as a system of social structures While the book is principally concerned with language teaching and learning in South Korea the findings are situated in a wider discussion of race and ethnicity in the global ELT profession The book makes the following argument White normativity is an ideological commitment and a form of racialized discourse that comes from the social actions of those involved in the ELT profession this normative model or ideal standard constructs a system of racial discrimination that is founded on White privilege saviorism and neoliberalism Drawing on a wide range of data sources this book is a must read for anyone interested in critically examining ELT The Handbook of English for Specific Purposes Sue
