Rothblum, Lynne A. Bond, 1996-08-06 In addition to the stresses of everyday life gay men lesbians and bisexuals experience multiple pressures and constraints related to their chosen lifestyles This volume examines the gay and lesbian experience in light of this additional tension which can result in psychopathology and points towards a future free of heterosexism The internationally renowned contributors argue that the stress of coming out uncertainties concerning parenting children and the difficulties facing ethnic minority lesbians gay men and bisexuals cannot be adequately addressed without confronting the heterosexual bias in society They propose methods geared towards eliminating heterosexual bias in a number of settings including health Beyond Sex and Romance? Elaine Hutton, 1998 Elaine Hutton examines the current state of lesbian literature and questions whether it continues to be relevant to lesbians She asks whether the literature is now simply perpetuating heterosexual ideologies instead of challenging them Human Rights in Postcolonial India Om Prakash Dwivedi, V. G. Julie Rajan, 2016-02-26 This volume looks at human rights in independent India through frameworks comparable to those in other postcolonial nations in the Global South It examines wide ranging issues that require immediate attention such as those related to disability violence torture education LGBT neoliberalism and social justice The essays presented here explore the discourse surrounding human rights and engage with aspects linked to the functioning of democracy security and strategic matters and terrorism especially post 9 11 They also discuss cases connected with human rights violations in India and underline the need for a transparent approach and a more comprehensive perspective of India s human rights record Part of the series Ethics Human Rights and Global Political Thought the volume will be an important resource for academics policy makers civil society organisations lawyers and those concerned with human rights It will also be useful to scholars and researchers of Indian politics law and sociology The Transmutation of Love and Avant-Garde Poetics Jeanne Heuving, 2016-05-19 The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics is a probing examination of how the writing of sexual love undergoes a radical revision by avant garde poets in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Today the exploration of love by poets long a fixture of Western poetic tradition is thought to be in decline with love itself understood to be a mere ideological overlay for the more real entities of physical sex and desire In The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics Jeanne Heuving claims that a key achievement of poetry by Ezra Pound H D Robert Duncan Kathleen Fraser

Nathaniel Mackey and others lies significantly in their engagement with the synergistic relations between being in love and writing love These poets she argues have traded the clichéd lover of yore for impersonal or posthuman poetic speakers that sustain the gloire and mystery of love poetry of prior centuries As Robert Duncan writes There is a love in which we are outcast and vagabond from what we are that we call falling in love Heuving claims that this writing of love is defining for avant garde poetics identifying how such important discoveries as Pound's and H.D.'s Imagism Pound's Cantos and Duncan's open field poetics are derived through their changed writing of love She draws attention to how the prevailing concept of language as material is inadequate to the ways these poets also engage language as a medium as a conduit enabling them to address love afresh in a time defined through preoccupations with sexuality They engage love as immanent and change it through a writing that acts on itself The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics ascribes the waning of love poetry to its problematic form a genre in which empowered poetic speakers constitute their speech through the objectification of comparatively disempowered subjects or beloveds Refusing this pervasive practice the poets she highlights reject the delimiting one-sided tradition of masculine lovers and passive feminine beloveds instead they create a more nuanced dynamic poetics of ecstatic exploration what Heuving calls projective love and libidinalized field poetics a formally innovative poetry in which one perception leads directly to the next and all aspects of a poem are generative of meaning

Queering Public Address Charles E. Morris, 2007 Ten noted rhetorical critics disrupt the silence regarding nonnormative sexualities in the study of American historical discourse and upend the heteronormativity that governs much of rhetorical history Enacting both political and radical visions these scholars articulate the promises of gay lesbian bisexual and transgender public address The contributors consider figures such as Abraham Lincoln Eleanor Roosevelt Harvey Milk Marlon Riggs and Lorraine Hansberry and issues as diverse as collective identity nineteenth century semiotics of gender and sexuality the sexual politics of the Harlem Renaissance psychiatric productions of the queer and violence induced traumatic styles

Heaphy,Jeffrey Weeks,2003-09-02 Our families are increasingly a matter of choice and the choices are widening all the time This is particularly true of the non heterosexual world where the last ten years have seen a popular acceptance of same sex partnerships and to a lesser extent of same sex parenting Based on extensive interviews with people in a variety of non traditional relationships this fascinating new book argues that these developments in the non heterosexual world are closely linked to wider changes in the meaning of family in society at large and that each can cast light on the other Same Sex Intimacies gives vivid accounts of the different ways non heterosexual people have been able to create meaningful intimate relationships for themselves and highlights the role of individual agency and collective endeavour in forging these roles as friends partners parents and as members of communities This topical book will provide compelling reading for students of the family sexuality and lesbian and gay studies Territories of the Psyche: The Fiction of Jean Rhys A.

Simpson,2005-01-14 Jean Rhys is widely credited for exposing issues of gender nationality race and class in technically sophisticated arresting narratives Her lifelong exploration of the dynamics of the human psyche has however gone unrecognized This examination places Rhys fiction for the first time within the context of theories that reflect the interrelated perspectives of modern psychoanalysis In clarifying accounts of many approaches that are new to literary scholars as well as those that display the rich legacy of Freudian thought Simpson shows that the paradigms of psychoanalysis illuminate the interpretation of Rhys art With insightful references to the short stories and close readings of her five novels this study testifies to a remarkable achievement as Rhys recorded with unflinching candor the powerful drama of emotional life A

Imagining Sex is a study of pornographic writing in seventeenth century England It explores a wide variety of written material from the period to argue that unlike today pornography was not a discrete genre nor was it one that was usually subject at this time to suppression Pornographic writing was a widespread feature of a range of texts including both popular literature ballads news sheets court reports small books and pamphlets as well as poetry drama and more specialised medical books The book analyses representations of sex sexuality and eroticism in historical context to explore contemporary thinking about these issues but also about broader cultural concerns and shifts in attitudes It questions both modern feminist and psychoanalytical interpretations of pornography arguing that these approaches are neither appropriate nor helpful to an understanding of seventeenth century material Through discussions of sex and reproduction homosexuality flagellation voyeurism and humour the book explores the nature of early modern sexual desire and arousal and explores their relationship to contemporary understandings about how the body worked Imagining Sex presents a radically new interpretation of pornography in this period arguing that concerns about fertility were at the heart of representations of bodies and sex so that images of pleasure were entwined with ideas about conception and reproduction It also shows that these texts legitimized the sexual pleasure of the reader by highlighting the pleasure of looking and the incitement to sexual action that it provided
