Imperial Alchemy: Nationalism and Political Identity in Southeast Asia Anthony Reid, 2023-01-05 Traditional Chinese edition of Imperial Alchemy Nationalism and Political Identity in Southeast Asia Asian Place, Filipino Nation Nicole CuUnjieng Aboitiz, 2020-07-14 The Philippine Revolution of 1896 1905 which began against Spain and continued against the United States took place in the context of imperial subjugation and local resistance across Southeast Asia Yet scholarship on the revolution and the turn of the twentieth century in Asia more broadly has largely approached this pivotal moment in terms of relations with the West at the expense of understanding the East East and Global South connections that knit together the region's experience Asian Place Filipino Nation reconnects the Philippine Revolution to the histories of Southeast and East Asia through an innovative consideration of its transnational political setting and regional intellectual foundations Nicole CuUnjieng Aboitiz charts turn of the twentieth century Filipino thinkers and revolutionaries Asianist political organizing and proto national thought scrutinizing how their constructions of the place of Asia connected them to their regional neighbors She details their material and affective engagement with Pan Asianism tracing how colonized peoples in the periphery of this imagined Asia focusing on Filipinos but with comparison to the Vietnamese reformulated a political and intellectual project that envisioned anticolonial Asian solidarity with the Asian center of Japan CuUnjieng Aboitiz argues that the revolutionary First Philippine Republic's harnessing of transnational networks of support activism and association represents the crucial first instance of Pan Asianists lending material aid toward anticolonial revolution against a Western power Uncovering the Pan Asianism of the periphery and its critical role in shaping modern Asia Asian Place Filipino Nation offers a vital new perspective on the Philippine Revolution's global context and content Imperial Alchemy Sotheby's Hong Kong, Ltd, 2018 Chasing Archipelagic Dreams David R. Saunders, 2024-12-15 In Chasing Archipelagic Dreams David R Saunders demonstrates that the withdrawal of the British imperial state from Sabah did not result in the decolonization of the territory From the late 1940s to the 1960s international anti colonialism interacted with regional competition over Sabah to result in a paradoxical increase of British power and influence on the ground Meanwhile ethnic social and political heterogeneity in Sabah contributed to fragmentation and disunity undermining the development of a local anti colonial movement Instead a class of influential local elites seized power as competing attempts by the Philippines Indonesia and Malaya to incorporate the territory into their respective archipelagic spheres grew in strength Due to these local and international rivalries Saunders argues Sabah's eventual merger with the Federation of Malaysia in 1963 prompted an extension of colonial style rule resource extraction the suppression of local autonomy and the imposition of an externally configured national identity Chasing Archipelagic Dreams underscores the significance of regional rivalries in the South China Sea and highlights the fate of subaltern communities bisected by post colonial borders The New Kingdom of Granada Santiago Muñoz-Arbeláez, 2025-04-11 The New Kingdom of Granada tells the history of the making and unmaking

of empire in the diverse and decentralized Indigenous landscapes of the Northern Andes Santiago Mu oz Arbel ez examines the intricate and disputed processes that reshaped the peoples and landscapes of present day Colombia into a kingdom within the global Spanish monarchy Drawing on correspondence visitation reports judicial records maps textiles and accounting and legal documents created by Europeans and Indigenous peoples Mu oz Arbel ez outlines the painstaking century long effort between 1530 and 1630 to consolidate the kingdom A diverse group of people that included Indigenous interpreters scribes and intellectuals spearheaded these projects which eventually expanded colonial control outward from its base in the highland Andean plateaus down to the lowland river valleys Meanwhile autonomous Indigenous political projects constantly threatened imperial rule as rebels often encircled the kingdom and seized the corridors that linked it to Spain By foregrounding the kingdom s difficult establishment and tenuous hold on power Mu oz Arbel ez challenges traditional understandings of imperial politics and the myriad ways Indigenous peoples participated in disputed and negotiated the establishment of colonial rule Race and Gender in Modern Western Warfare David Ulbrich, Bobby A. Wintermute, 2018-12-03 This book fills a gap in the historiographical and theoretical fields of race gender and war In brief Race and Gender in Modern Western Warfare RGMWW offers an introduction into how cultural constructions of identity are transformed by war and how they in turn influence the nature of military institutions and conflicts Focusing on the modern West this project begins by introducing the contours of race and gender theories as they have evolved and how they are employed by historians anthropologists sociologists and other scholars The project then mixes chronological narrative with analysis and historiography as it takes the reader through a series of case studies ranging from the early nineteenth century to the Global War of Terror The purpose throughout is not merely to create a list of so called great moments in race and gender but to create a meta landscape in which readers can learn to identify for themselves the disjunctures flaws and critical synergies in the traditional memory and history of a largely monochrome and male exclusive military experience The final chapter considers the current challenges that Western societies particularly the United States face in imposing social diversity and tolerance on statist military structures in a climates of sometimes vitriolic public debate RGMWW represents our effort to blend race gender and military war to problematize these intersections and then provide some answers to those problems

On the Threshold of Eurasia Leah Feldman,2018-10-15 On the Threshold of Eurasia explores the idea of the Russian and Soviet East as a political aesthetic and scientific system of ideas that emerged through a series of intertextual encounters produced by Russians and Turkic Muslims on the imperial periphery amidst the revolutionary transition from 1905 to 1929 Identifying the role of Russian and Soviet Orientalism in shaping the formation of a specifically Eurasian imaginary Leah Feldman examines connections between avant garde literary works Orientalist historical geographic and linguistic texts and political essays written by Russian and Azeri Turkic Muslim writers and thinkers Tracing these engagements and interactions between Russia and the Caucasus Feldman offers an alternative vision of empire modernity and anti imperialism from the vantage point not of the metropole but from the cosmopolitan centers at the edges of the Russian and later Soviet empires In this way On the Threshold of Eurasia illustrates the pivotal impact that the Caucasus and the Soviet periphery more broadly had through the founding of an avant garde poetics animated by Russian and Arabo Persian precursors Islamic metaphysics and Marxist Leninist theories of language on the monumental aesthetic and political shifts of the early twentieth century

Anxieties, Fear and Panic in Colonial Settings Harald Fischer-Tiné,2017-01-23 This book argues that the history of colonial empires has been shaped to a considerable extent by negative emotions such as anxiety fear and embarrassment as well as by the regular occurrence of panics The case studies it assembles examine the various ways in which panics and anxieties were generated in imperial situations and how they shook up the dynamics between seemingly all powerful colonizers and the apparently defenceless colonized Drawing from examples of the British Dutch and German colonial experience the volume sketches out some of the main areas such as disease native savagery or sexual transgression that generated panics or created anxieties in colonial settings and analyses the most common varieties of practical discursive and epistemic strategies adopted by the colonisers to curb the perceived threats Imagining Malaya Bernard Z.

Keo,2025-01-02 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The end of Britain s empire in Southeast Asia in the wake of World War II generated new opportunities for colonial subjects across the region to reimagine themselves as citizens of a dizzying array of potential new nations While post war optimism and a global push for decolonisation created an environment where myriad communities felt a palpable sense of possibility for bringing their aspirations of nationhood to life many of these desires were unfulfilled Imagining Malaya is an exploration of one of those many imagined nations that never came to be It narrates a series of seemingly disparate and contradictory political acts by the Peranakan Chinese a creolised community borne of intermarriage between the earliest Chinese migrants to the region and indigenous Malays in the post World War II period to demonstrate that the community were in fact seeking to bring to life a cosmopolitan inclusive and multi ethnic imagination of the Malay si an nation Engaging in a critical re examination of the intertwined processes of decolonization and nation making Imagining Malaya provides an alternative reading of Malay si a s path to merdeka independence from the perspective of the Peranakan It narrates how a once powerful community at the centre of Malay si an politics and society came undone by their attempts to present an alternative imagination of the nation which challenged the ethnocentrism that came to dominate the country s political life Rewriting the Peranakan into the centre of Malaysia s national story rather than its periphery is a parable on the complexities and pitfalls of attempting to forge a representative nation state from a multi ethnic society during the transition between colony and nation By bringing the Peranakan imaginary of the nation to life Bernard Z Keo makes a case for how studying nations that were unrealized can reveal just as much as investigating those that were

The Crown and the Capitalists Wasana Wongsurawat, 2019-11-18 Despite competing with much larger imperialist neighbors in Southeast Asia the Kingdom of Thailand or Siam as it was formerly known has succeeded in transforming itself into a rival modern nation state over the last two centuries Recent historiography has placed progress or lack thereof toward Western style liberal democracy at the center of Thailand s narrative but that view underestimates the importance of the colonial context In particular a long standing relationship with China and the existence of a large and important Chinese diaspora within Thailand have shaped development at every stage As the emerging nation struggled against colonial forces in Southeast Asia ethnic Chinese entrepreneurs were neither a colonial force against whom Thainess was identified nor had they been able to fully assimilate into Thai society Wasana Wongsurawat demonstrates that the Kingdom of Thailand s transformation into a modern nation state required the creation of a national identity that justified not only the hegemonic rule of monarchy but also the involvement of the ethnic Chinese entrepreneurial class upon whom it depended Her revisionist view traces the evolution of this codependent relationship through the twentieth century as Thailand struggled against colonial forces in Southeast Asia found itself an ally of Japan in World War II and reconsidered its relationship with China in the postwar era Boundary 2, 2012

The Qiaopi Trade and Transnational Networks in the Chinese Diaspora Gregor Benton, Hong Liu, Huimei Zhang, 2018-05-03 Originating in the 1820s and used for 150 years thereafter qiaopi is the name given in Chinese to letters written home by Chinese emigrants to accompany remittances Their key function was to preserve family ties Although such correspondence focused principally on the provision of economic support the qiaopi also touched on cultural political educational and gender themes This book therefore seeks to examine the qiaopi from two interconnected perspectives One views qiaopi from a political and institutional angle the other from a financial and social angle Bringing together the extensive research of a group of international scholars this multi authored volume sheds light on the larger significance of the qiaopi for modern China Taking an empirical evidence driven approach the contributors employ a wide range of primary sources in both Chinese and English and relate their findings to scholarship in both the Chinese speaking world and in non Chinese interdisciplinary fields In so doing this book helps to bridge the gap between Chinese and English speaking researchers in the field of qiaopi studies As one of the first books in English on the qiaopi trade and its significance this book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese history and Chinese migration as well in Migration Studies and Diaspora Studies more generally

After the Empires P. Preston, 2014-08-26 The shift to the modern world in East Asia was accomplished in part via the experience of colonial rule in the late nineteenth century Following imperial crisis in the 1930s and 1940s independent nation states formed from which the political structure of East Asia is based today

Cuban Counterpoint, Tobacco and Sugar Fernando Ortiz, 1995 First published in 1940 and long out of print Fernando Ortiz's classic work Cuban Counterpoint is recognized as one of the most important books of Latin American and Caribbean intellectual history Ortiz's examination of the impact of sugar and tobacco on Cuban society is unquestionably the cornerstone of Cuban studies and a key source for work on Caribbean culture generally Ortiz presents his understanding of Cuban history in two complementary sections written in contrasting styles a playful allegorical tale narrated as a counterpoint between tobacco and sugar and a historical analysis of their development as the central agricultural products of the Cuban economy His work shows how transculturation a critical category Ortiz developed to grasp the complex transformation of cultures brought together in the crucible of colonial and imperial histories can be used to illuminate not only the history of Cuba but more generally that of America as well This new edition includes an introductory essay by Fernando Coronil that provides a contrapuntal reading of the relationship between Ortiz's book and its original introduction by the renowned anthropologist Bronislaw Malinowski Arguing for a distinction between theory production and canon formation Coronil demonstrates the value of Ortiz's book for anthropology as well as Cuban Caribbean and Latin American studies and shows Ortiz to be newly relevant to contemporary debates about modernity postmodernism and postcoloniality

Resettling the Borderlands Farid Shafiyev, 2018-03-21 Until the arrival of the Russian Empire in the early nineteenth century the South Caucasus was traditionally contested by two Muslim empires the Ottomans and the Persians Over the following two centuries Orthodox Christian Russia and later the officially atheist Soviet Union expanded into the densely populated Muslim towns and villages and began a long process of resettlement deportation and interventionist population management in an attempt to incorporate the region into its own lands and culture Exploring the policies and implementations of the Russian Empire and the Soviet Union Resettling the Borderlands investigates the nexus between imperial practices foreign policy religion and ethnic conflicts Taking a comparative approach Farid Shafiyev looks at the most active phases of resettlement when the state imported and relocated waves of German Russian sectarian and Armenian settlers into the South Caucasus and deported thousands of others He also offers insights on the complexities of empire building and managing space and people in the Muslim borderlands to reveal the impact of demographic changes on the

Armenian Azerbaijani conflict Combining in depth and original analysis of archival material with a clear and accessible narrative Resettling the Borderlands provides a new interpretation of the colonial policies ideologies and strategic visions in the Russian Empire and the Soviet Union Alternatives in Mobilization Jóhanna Kristín Birnir, Nil Seda Şatana, 2022-05-26 What determines which identity cleavage ethnicity or religion is mobilized in political contestation be it peaceful or violent In contrast to common predictions that the greatest contention occurs where identities are fully segmented most identity conflicts in the world are between ethnic groups that share religion Alternatives in Mobilization builds on the literature about political demography to address this seeming contradiction The book proposes that variation in relative group size and intersection of cleavages help explain conundrums in the mobilization of identity across transgressive and contained political settings This theory is tested cross nationally on identity mobilization in civil war and across violent conflict in Pakistan Uganda Nepal and Turkey and peaceful electoral politics in Indonesia This book helps illustrate a more accurate and improved picture of the ethnic and religious tapestry of the world and addresses an increasing need for a better understanding of how religion contributes to conflict
