Language Diversity Endangered Mouton Reader:

Language Diversity Endangered Matthias Brenzinger, 2015-07-31 This book presents a comprehensive overview of endangered languages with a global coverage. It features such well known specialists as Michael Krauss, Willem F. H. Adelaar, Denny Moore, Colette Grinevald, Akira Yamamoto, Roger Blench, Bruce Connell, Tapani Salminen, Olga Kazakevich, Aleksandr Kibrik, Jonathan Owens, David Bradley, George van Driem, Nicholas Evans, Stephen A. Wurm, Darrell Tryon, and Matthias Brenzinger. The contributions are unique in analysing the present extent and the various kinds of language endangerment by applying shared general indicators for the assessment of language endangerment. Apart from presenting the specific situations of language endangerment at the sub continental level, the volume discusses major issues that bear universally on language endangerment. The actual study of endangered languages is carefully examined for example against the ethics and pragmatics of fieldwork. Practical aspects of community involvement in language documentation are discussed such as the setting up of local archives and the training of local linguists. Numerous case studies illustrate different language shift environments with specific replacing factors such as colonial and religious conquests, migrations and governmental language education. The book is of interest to students and scholars of linguistics with particular focus on endangered languages and their documentation, typology and sociolinguistics as well as to anthropologists and language activists. Conversational structures of Alto Perené (Arawak) of Peru Elena Mihas, 2017-01-19 Drawing on extensive fieldwork in the research community, the book is a focused exploration of discourse patterns of Alto Perené Arawak with emphasis on conversational structures. The book's methodological scaffold is based on proposals and insights from multiple research fields such as comparative conversation analysis, sociology, interactional linguistics, documentary linguistics, anthropological linguistics and prosodic typology. The interactional patterns of a small Arawak language of Peru are shown to share the common infrastructure reported in the organization of conversation across other languages and cultures. Yet the analysis demonstrates a variety of unique nuances in the organization of interactional behavior of Alto Perené Arawak participants. The peculiarities observed are attributed to the language specific semiotic resources and participants' orientation to the local cultural norms. The book's structured examination of conversational data of a small indigenous language of South America is anticipated to be of utility to linguistic research on understudied non Western languages. A Grammar of Alto Perené

(Arawak) Elena Mihas, 2015-06-26 Ash ninka Perené belongs to the Kampa group of the Arawak family located in the central Peruvian Amazon in the foothills of the Andes mountains. While limited grammatical studies of Kampa languages exist, this grammar is by far the most comprehensive study of any language of this sub family and is one of only two or three comparable studies of Arawak languages more generally. The Languages and Linguistics of Australia Harold

Remediating Cartographies of Erasure Bernard C. Perley, Languages in Africa Elizabeth C. Zsig, One Tlale Boyer, Ruth Kramer, 2015-03-03 People in many African communities live within a series of concentric circles when it comes to language In a small group a speaker uses an often unwritten and endangered mother tongue that is rarely used in school A national indigenous language written widespread sometimes used in school surrounds it An international language like French or English a vestige of colonialism carries prestige is used in higher education and promises mobility and yet it will not be well known by its users The essays in Languages in Africa explore the layers of African multilingualism as they affect language policy and education Through case studies ranging across the continent the contributors consider multilingualism in the classroom as well as in domains ranging from music and film to politics and figurative language The contributors report on the widespread devaluing and even death of indigenous languages They also investigate how poor teacher training leads to language related failures in education At the same time they demonstrate that education in a mother tongue can work linguists can use their expertise to provoke changes in language policies and linguistic creativity thrives in these multilingual communities
