Cultured Force Barnett Singer, John W. Langdon, 2004 Bridging gaps between intellectual history biography and military colonial history Barnett Singer and John Langdon provide a challenging readable interpretation of French imperialism and some of its leading figures from the early modern era through the Fifth Republic They ask us to rethink and reevaluate pulling away from the usual shoal of simplistic condemnation In a series of finely etched biographical studies and with much detail on both imperial culture and wars including World War I and II they offer a balanced deep strong portrait of key makers and defenders of the French Empire one that will surely stimulate much historical work in the field

Valley of Death Ted Morgan, 2010-02-23 Pulitzer Prize winning author Ted Morgan has now written a rich and definitive account of the fateful battle that ended French rule in Indochina and led inexorably to America's Vietnam War Dien Bien Phu was a remote valley on the border of Laos along a simple rural trade route But it would also be where a great European power fell to an underestimated insurgent army and lost control of a crucial colony Valley of Death is the untold story of the 1954 battle that in six weeks changed the course of history A veteran of the French Army Ted Morgan has made use of exclusive firsthand reports to create the most complete and dramatic telling of the conflict ever written Here is the history of the Vietminh liberation movement's rebellion against French occupation after World War II and its growth as an adversary eventually backed by Communist China Here too is the ill-fated French plan to build a base in Dien Bien Phu and draw the Vietminh into a debilitating defeat which instead led to the Europeans being encircled in the surrounding hills besieged by heavy artillery overrun and defeated Making expert use of recently unearthed or released information Morgan reveals the inner workings of the American effort to aid France with Eisenhower secretly disdainful of the French effort and prophetically worried that no military victory was possible in that type of theater Morgan paints indelible portraits of all the major players from Henri Navarre head of the French Union forces a rigid professional unprepared for an enemy fortified by rice carried on bicycles to his commander General Christian de Castries a privileged miscast cavalry officer and General Vo Nguyen Giap a master of guerrilla warfare working out of a one room hut on the side of a hill Most devastatingly Morgan sets the stage for the Vietnam quagmire that was to come Superbly researched and powerfully written Valley of Death is the crowning achievement of an author whose work has always been as compulsively readable as it is important
