Going Wild Adventures With Birds In The Suburban Wilderness:

Going Wild Robert Winkler, 2003-10-01 Armchair travelers can journey with author and naturalist Robert Winkler as he experiences amazing wildlife encounters all within reach of his own backyard An avid nature writer with field experience spanning more than 25 years Winkler writes about his beloved New England where he has logged more than 20 000 miles on foot exploring the woods fields and shores he knows so well This beautifully lyrical book describes Winkler s firsthand encounters with goshawks copperheads flying squirrels Kinglets Chickadees Nuthatches and other birds and animals as he travels into areas many may have overlooked or forgotten Winkler weaves anecdotes and stories about his own life into each chapter how he discovered nature why he watches birds and why his suburban surroundings have held his interest To quote the author Living in society s overpopulated paved over world with all its rules regulations and traffic jams I think we envy the birds wild freedom We want that freedom and wildness for ourselves And so we birders watch listen to identify count list house feed and photograph birds Going Wild is an irresistible invitation to follow in Winkler s footsteps and revel in the wonders on our own doorsteps

Burroughs 1837 1921 was America s most beloved nature writer a best selling author whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs was second only to Emerson in fostering the nature study movement of the nineteenth century and the popularity of his work inspired Houghton Mifflin to publish or reissue the work of numerous other nature writers including that of Thoreau and Muir His first collection of essays Wake Robin was published in 1871 and over the next fifty years Burroughs wrote almost two dozen books and hundreds of essays not only on nature but on literature travel philosophy religion and science By the turn of the century Burroughs was America s most beloved nature writer whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs died in 1921 while on a train ride back to his New York from California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs s emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J Renehan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural

Michael L. Johnson, 2007 Americans have had an enduring yet ambivalent obsession with the West as both a place and a state of mind Michael L Johnson considers how that obsession originated how it has determined attitudes toward and activities in the West and how it has changed over the centuries Spirit of Adventure Wayne Enright, 2019-11-05 When the Spirit of Adventure Calls to our Heart we must go This quote written in memory of Mark Auricht who died on Mt Everest in 2001 reminds us of our enduring connection with nature and the magnetic attraction of adventure It not only enlivens our soul but also has the power to draw from within us a strength courage resilience and passion that for some lies dormant until awakened Beyond the story of triumph and tragedy in the Himalayan landscape this book is also about the journey that takes place within us when we explore the limits of our self imposed boundaries to find the hidden treasures of our heart As the world enters a time of unprecedented change we must evolve new ways of thinking living learning and leading that will help us to navigate the challenging terrain of this new frontier May this heart felt tribute to the enduring spirit of Mark Auricht serve as an inspiration and a compass for future leaders adventurous souls and explorers of human potential Books In
