Killing Neighbors Webs Of Violence In Rwanda:

Killing Neighbors Lee Ann Fujii, 2011-07-07 In the horrific events of the mid 1990s in Rwanda tens of thousands of Hutu killed their Tutsi friends neighbors even family members That ghastly violence has overshadowed a fact almost as noteworthy that hundreds of thousands of Hutu killed no one In a transformative revisiting of the motives behind and specific contexts surrounding the Rwandan genocide Lee Ann Fujii focuses on individual actions rather than sweeping categories Fujii argues that ethnic hatred and fear do not satisfactorily explain the mobilization of Rwandans one against another Fujii's extensive interviews in Rwandan prisons and two rural communities form the basis for her claim that mass participation in the genocide was not the result of ethnic antagonisms Rather the social context of action was critical Strong group dynamics and established local ties shaped patterns of recruitment for and participation in the genocide This web of social interactions bound people to power holders and killing groups People joined and continued to participate in the genocide over time Fujii shows because killing in large groups conferred identity on those who acted destructively The perpetrators of the genocide produced new groups centered on destroying prior bonds by killing kith and kin The Politics of Victimhood in

Post-conflict Societies Vincent Druliolle, Roddy Brett, 2018-02-20 This volume sheds new light upon the role of victims in the aftermath of violence Victims are central actors in transitional justice the politics of memory and conflict resolution yet the analysis of their mobilisation and political influence in these processes has been neglected After introducing and explaining the reasons for this limited interest the book's chapters focus on a range of settings and draw on different disciplines to offer insights into the interrelated themes of victimhood victims their individual and collective identities and their role in and impact upon post conflict societies and the politics of victimhood meaning how victimhood is defined negotiated and contested both socially and politically Because it outlines a stimulating research agenda and challenges the view that victims are passive or apolitical this interdisciplinary volume is a significant contribution to the literature and will be of interest to scholars from disciplines such as law anthropology political science human rights international studies and to practitioners

The Oxford Handbook on Atrocity Crimes Barbora Holá, Hollie Nyseth Nzititira, Hollie Nyseth Brehm, Maartje Weerdesteijn, 2022 The Oxford Handbook on Atrocity Crimes surveys and further develops the evolving field of atrocity crime studies through interdisciplinary research on war crimes crimes against humanity and genocide in one comprehensive volume encompassing contributions of leading scholars Handbook of Genocide Studies David J. Simon, Leora

Kahn, 2023-02-14 Providing an intellectual biography of the challenging concept of genocide this topical Handbook takes an interdisciplinary approach to shed new light on the events processes and legacies in the field A Biographical Encyclopedia of Contemporary Genocide Paul R. Bartrop, 2012-07-06 This book documents the devastating effects of genocide in the world's most destructive human environments since the end of World War II and explores why such events still occur A Biographical Encyclopedia of Contemporary Genocide Portraits of Evil and Good is a unique study of humanity's most reprehensible actions It documents genocides that have occurred after World War II a period that was supposed to be the fulfillment of the promise never again by providing biographies rather than extensive historical narratives The entries describe the personal backgrounds careers and relationship to genocidal events humanitarian actions or international initiatives relevant to each person in the book Beyond examining the genocidaires who played key roles in mass murder individuals who contributed to efforts to stop genocide are also profiled By adopting a biographical approach to post World War II genocide the author sheds light on why people behave the way they do toward their fellow human beings and provides vital insights into the extremes of human positivity and negativity that have characterized this period of history Serving as a vital tool for scholars and students of genocide as well as compelling reading for general audiences the book highlights individual human behaviors motivations backgrounds and intentions that can form a platform from which to raise and discuss issues of morality and ethics in the modern world Genocide Studies Jeffrey S. Bachman, 2024-10-11 In recent years the world has been shaken by numerous events that have caused and continue to cause massive human suffering from the COVID 19 pandemic to intrastate and interstate armed conflicts Moreover climate change continues to plow ahead contributing to growing tensions population movements and resource scarcity Meanwhile the methods by which groups and group life are threatened and the means by which violence is incited and perpetrated continue to evolve Such divergent crises even when they overlap or intersect confound definition and label This book seeks not to answer the question What is genocide but rather What is genocide studies When Raphael Lemkin coined the term genocide in 1944 he could not have foreseen what the world would look like today Now is the time to think about current manifestations of genocide and those likely to emerge in the future Conditions of Violence Christian Gerlach, 2024-11-04 Mass violence comes not only from states but also from people By analyzing mass violence as social interaction through survivor accounts and other sources this book presents understudied agents aims and practices of direct violence and ways of action of those under persecution Sound history examining the noises of mass violence and persecution is particularly telling about such practices This volume shows that violence can become socially hegemonic and some people claim a freedom to kill as a political right To scrutinize indirect violence which is often imperialist in character and claims many victims the book proposes the concept of conditions of violence These conditions are produced by definable groups of actors and foreseeably harm definable groups which differs from the anonymous and static structural violence This is exemplified in a case study concerning famines in World War II and another on COVID 19 as mass violence Less global in character other case studies in this volume deal with Rwanda Bangladesh East Pakistan and the Soviet Union On the Social History of Persecution Christian Gerlach, 2023-03-06 This multi disciplinary volume is one of the few collections about social change covering various cases of mass violence and genocide In life under persecution social relations and social structures were not absent and not simply replaced by an ethno racial order The studies in this book show the influence of social structures like gender age and class on life under persecution Exploring practices in family and labor relations and of collective action they counter claims of an atomization of society or total uprootedness of victims Despite being exposed to poverty and want and under the permanent threat of political violence persecuted people tried to develop their own agency Case studies are about the Jewish and Armenian persecutions Rwanda the war of decolonization in Mozambique and civilian refugees in Belarus during World War II The authors are a mix of experienced scholars and young researchers

Histories of the Holocaust Dan Stone, 2010-06-17 A comprehensive and accessible guide to the major themes and debates in Holocaust historiography over the last two decades

Critical Approaches to Genocide Hülya Adak, Fatma Müge Göçek, Ronald Grigor Suny, 2023-09-28 The study of genocide has been appropriate in emphasizing the centrality of the Holocaust yet other preceding episodes of mass violence are of great significance Taking a transnational and transhistorical approach this volume redresses and replaces the silencing of the Armenian Genocide Scholarship relating to the history of denial comparative approaches in the deportations and killings of Greeks and Armenians during the First World War and women's histories during the genocide and post genocide proliferated during the centennial of the Armenian Genocide in 2015 Collectively however these studies have not been enough to offer a comprehensive account of the historical record documentation and interpretation of events during 1915-1916 This study seeks to bridge the gap by unsettling nationalist narratives and addressing areas such as aesthetics gender and sexuality By bringing forward various dimensions of the human experience including the political socioeconomic cultural social gendered and legal contexts within which such silencing occurred the essays address the methodological silences and processes of selectivity and exclusion in scholarship on the Armenian Genocide The interdisciplinary approach makes Critical Approaches to Genocide a useful resource for all students and scholars interested in the Armenian Genocide and memory studies

The Routledge International Handbook of Perpetrator Studies Susanne C. Knittel, Zachary J. Goldberg, 2019-10-30 The Routledge International Handbook of Perpetrator Studies traces the growth of an important interdisciplinary field its foundations key debates and core concerns as well as highlighting current and emerging issues and approaches and pointing to new directions for enquiry With a focus on the perpetrators of mass killings political violence and genocide the handbook is concerned with a range of issues relating to the figure of the perpetrator from questions of definition typology and conceptual analysis to the study of motivations and group dynamics to questions of guilt and responsibility as well as representation and memory politics Offering an overview of the field its essential concepts and approaches this foundational volume presents contemporary perspectives on longstanding debates and recent contributions to the field that significantly expand the theoretical temporal political and geographical discussion of perpetrators and their representation through literature film and art It points to emerging areas and future trends in the field thus providing scholars with ideas or encouragement for future research activity As such It will appeal to scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology anthropology criminology philosophy memory studies psychology political science literary

Language Policies in Education James W. Tollefson, 2013 How do language policies in schools create inequalities among learners How do policies marginalize some students while granting privilege to others How do language policies in education serve the interests of dominant groups within societies How can linguistic minorities further their interests through attempts to change language policies in schools This new edition of Language Policies in Education takes a fresh look at these enduring questions at the heart of fundamental debates about the role of schools in society the links between education and employment and conflicts between linguistic minorities and mainstream populations Reflecting developments in language policy since the publication of the first edition in 2002 all chapters are original and substantial contributions to the study of language policy and exemplify major theories and research methods in the field Chapter authors are major scholars in language policy and critical language studies The case studies international in scope present cutting edge analyses of important language policy debates in countries around the world

Mobilizing Transnational Gender Politics in Post-Genocide Rwanda Rirhandu Mageza-Barthel, 2016-03-03 Mageza Barthel provides a context sensitive analysis of how Rwanda's women's movement used the United Nations UN gender norms in its efforts to insert gender specific demands in the post genocide period The overall goal of these women and their supporters has been to further gender equality and equity in Rwanda This study details which political processes could be engendered It further illustrates why certain gender norms were adopted and adapted whereas others were not The study addresses issues of global governance in gender politics through such international frameworks as CEDAW the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action as well as Resolution 1325 These instruments have been brought forth by a transnational women's movement to benefit women and women's rights across the globe It shows how these gender norms were introduced adapted and contested locally at a crucial time of the transformation process underway Concerned with the interplay of domestic and international politics it also alludes to the unique circumstances in Rwanda that have led to unprecedented levels of women's political representation Which tools have been the most significant in women's mobilisation and how these relate to precedents set within international relations is of interest to a wide community of scholars and policy makers alike

The Genocide in Rwanda in Comparative Perspective Klaus Bachmann, 2025-03-31 This book combines social science concepts history and transitional justice studies to examine the social dynamics specific actors and ideologies involved in the genocide in Rwanda and examines what makes this genocide a unique case of mass violence and political transition compared with other cases of mass violence It analyzes the conditions necessary for people to engage in intimate violence against their neighbors and family members asking what inclines ordinary men and women to join gangs of killers and what role policies authorities ideologies emotions negotiations and material incentives play in the mobilization for mass atrocities Comparing genocidal events elsewhere in time and location the book provides an up to date overview of the 1994 events in Rwanda and offers new and surprising insights from previously inaccessible archival records explaining how to facilitate foreign intervention in the future This book is of key interest to scholars and students of African politics genocide studies and more broadly to security studies conflicts and conflict resolution studies decolonization studies and contemporary and comparative history

Memory Sites and Conflict Dynamics Karina V. Korostelina, 2024-10-21 This book explores the ways in which memory sites contribute to the dynamics of identity based conflicts fueling fears and sharpening divisions or promoting commonalities and reducing violence Through an analysis of the dynamics of identity based conflicts the book shows how memory sites become intertwined with the transformations of social boundaries and perceptions of relative deprivation outgroup threat collective axiology and power relations It posits that these two sets of factors the functioning of collective memory as an ideological construct and the transformation of conflictual social relations define the role and influence of memory sites in the dynamics of identity based conflicts Through multiple case studies representing different dynamics dealing with fascist and communist pasts in Italy post colonial relations between South Korea and Japan ethnic conflict in Kosovo and tribal acknowledgment for Native American Nations the book discusses how memory sites contribute to competition over ownership fights for legitimacy claims of entitlements and negative portrayals of the Other In doing so it outlines four major functions of memory sites enhancing ascribing interacting and legitimizing and shows how they contribute to and shape the structure and dynamics of conflict Concentrating on the linkages between memory sites violence prevention and reconciliation the book proposes solutions for promoting peace including the focus on plurality of heritage recognition of fluidity of meanings and resistance to singular interpretations and manipulations by identity entrepreneurs This volume will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies memory studies and International Relations in general

Inside Rwanda's /Gacaca/ Courts Bert Ingelaere, 2016-12-06 Comprehensively documents how local courts after the Rwandan genocide gradually shifted from confession to accusation from restoration to retribution

Just Following Orders Emilie A. Caspar, 2024-07-25 How can obedience and carrying out orders lead to horrific acts such as the Holocaust or the genocides in Rwanda Cambodia or Bosnia For the most part it is a mystery why obeying instructions from an authority can convince people to kill other human beings sometimes without hesitation and with incredible cruelty Combining social and cognitive neuroscience with real life accounts from genocide perpetrators this book sheds light on the process through which obedience influences cognition and behavior Emilie Caspar a leading expert in the field translates this neuroscientific approach into a clear uncomplicated explanation even for those with no background in psychology or neuroscience By better understanding humanity's propensity for direct orders to short circuit our own independent decision making we can edge closer to effective prevention processes
