Last Writings Nothingness And The Religious Worldview:

Last Writings Nishida Kitaro, 1993-06-01 Nishida Kitar Japan's premier modern philosopher was born in 1870 and grew to intellectual maturity in the final decades of the Meiji period 1868-1912. He achieved recognition as Japan's leading establishment philosopher during his tenure as professor of philosophy at Kyoto University. After his retirement in 1927 and until his death in 1945, Nishida published a continuous stream of original essays that can best be described as intercivilizational, a meeting point of East and West. His final essay, The Logic of the Place of Nothingness and the Religious Worldview, completed in the last few months before his death, is a summation of his philosophy of religion and has come to be regarded as the foundational text of the Kyoto school. It is one of the few places in his writings where Nishida draws openly and freely on East Asian Buddhist sources as analogs of his own ideas. Here Nishida argues for the existential primordality of the religious consciousness against Kant while also critically engaging the thought of such authors as Aristotle, the Christian Neo-Platonists, Spinoza, Fichte, Hegel, Barth, and Tillich. He makes it clear that he is also indebted to Pascal, Kierkegaard, and Dostoevsky, as well as to Nishida's Chinese masters, Shinran, Dogen, and other Buddhist thinkers. This book, a translation of the most seminal work of Nishida's career, also includes a translation of his Last Writing Zeppitsu, written just two days before his death.

Last Writings Kitarō Nishida, 1987     Merleau-Ponty and Nishida Adam Loughnane, 2019-12-19

Places the phenomenologies of Merleau-Ponty and Nishida in dialogue and uncovers a demand for a motor-perceptual form of faith in both philosophers' meditations on artistic expression. In Merleau-Ponty and Nishida, Adam Loughnane initiates a fascinating new dialogue between two of the twentieth century's most important phenomenologists of the Eastern and Western philosophical worlds. Throughout the book, the reader is guided among the intricacies and innovations of Merleau-Ponty's and Nishida's ontological approaches to artistic expression with a focused look at a rarely explored connection between faith and negation in their philosophies. Exploring the intertwining of these concepts in their broader ontologies invokes a reappraisal of the ambiguous status of religion and art in the writings of both thinkers. Measuring these ambiguities, the ontologies of Flesh and Bashō are read in depth alongside great artworks and the motor-perceptual practices of seminal landscape artists such as Cézanne, Sesshū, Taiga, and Hasegawa, as well as other major figures of European, Chinese, and Japanese art history. Loughnane studies these artists' bodily practices, focusing on the intimate relations realized with the landscapes they paint and illuminating a valence of their expressive disciplines as a motor-perceptual form of faith. Merleau-Ponty and Nishida is an exciting intercultural reading, expanding two philosophers' projects toward new horizons of research, revealing incitements in their writings that challenge unambiguous distinctions between art, philosophy, faith, and ultimately philosophy. East and West, Loughnane illuminates the ambiguous chiasmic and dynamic relationality between the body and the world, providing concrete examples from art history, East and West. He not only skillfully explains Nishida's and Merleau-Ponty's ontological notions but also puts their philosophy to the test of art works, proving that their thinking reveals an important truth of art.

Takeshi Kimoto Chukyo University      Demythologizing Pure Land Buddhism Paul B. Watt, 2016-01-31 The True Pure Land sect of Japanese Buddhism or Shin Buddhism grew out of the teachings of Shinran 1173-1262 a Tendai trained monk who came to doubt the efficacy of that tradition in what he viewed as a degenerate age Shinran held that even those unable to fulfill the requirements of the traditional Buddhist path could attain enlightenment through the experience of shinjin the entrusting mind an expression of the profound realization that the Buddha Amida who promises birth in his Pure Land to all who trust in him was nothing other than the true basis of all existence and the sustaining nature of human beings Over the centuries the subtleties of Shinran's teachings were often lost Elaborate rituals developed to focus one's mind at the moment of death so one might travel to the Pure Land unimpeded and a rich artistic tradition celebrated the moment when Amida and his retinue of bodhisattvas welcome the dying believer What is more many Western interpreters tended to reinforce this view of Pure Land Buddhism seeing in it certain parallels to Christianity This volume introduces the thought and selected writings of Yasuda Rjin 1900-1982 a modern Shin Buddhist thinker affiliated with the Otani or Higashi Honganji branch of Shin Buddhism Yasuda sought to restate the teachings of Shinran within a modern tradition that began with the work of Kiyozawa Manshi 1863-1903 and extended through the writings of Yasuda's teachers Kaneko Daiei 1881-1976 and Soga Ryjin 1875-1971 These men lived through the period of Japan's rapid modernization and viewed the Shin tradition as possessing existential significance for modern men and women For them and Yasuda in particular Amida did not exist in some other worldly paradise but rather Amida and his Pure Land were to be experienced as lived realities in the present In the writings and lectures presented here Yasuda draws on not only classical Shin and Mahayana Buddhist sources but also the thought of Nishida Kitaro 1870-1945 the founder of the Kyoto School of philosophy and modern Western philosophers such as Heidegger Nietzsche and Buber      Nostra Aetate, Non-Christian Religions, and Interfaith Relations Kail C. Ellis, 2020-10-01 This book explores how Nostra Aetate the Declaration on the Relation of the Church with Non-Christian Religions of the Second Vatican Council can influence inter-religious dialogue and understanding in the modern world Although influential in religious academic and scholarly circles it is relatively unknown outside these areas The contributors remedy that deficit by highlighting the declaration's difficult historical and social context and the Church's evolving relationship with non-Christians Contentious topics are examined such as the link between the Jewish people and the land and state of Israel that questions the Catholic understanding of the relativity of national borders and identity and the challenges posed to the Church's relationship with Islam by its prioritization of human rights and religious freedom for Christians and minorities in certain Muslim regimes Given its scope it is an ideal resource for graduate students and researchers in the fields of political science international relations religion and minority studies      New Essays in Japanese Aesthetics A. The One in the Many Joseph A. Bracken, 2001 Classical notions of truth and objectivity have steadily eroded in the face of postmodernism Meeting this challenge head on Joseph Bracken here reconstructs the metaphysical tradition of the West on solid new foundations Drawing on the thought of Alfred North Whitehead Ervin Laszlo and Jürgen Habermas Bracken presents a new philosophical perspective that roots the relationship between God and the world in community Bracken first answers objections to the possibility of developing a new metaphysics in our postmodern age He then lays out the vertical and horizontal dimensions of his new metaphysical scheme a constructive perspective that results in a consciously communitarian understanding of the God world relationship The uniqueness of Bracken's position is its advocacy of a strictly social ontology in which the classical relationship of the One and the Many is reversed not the transcendence of the One over the Many but its emergence out of the Many in dynamic relationship

Stanley Cavell and the Education of Grownups Naoko Saito, Paul Standish, 2012 What could it mean to speak of philosophy as the education of grownups This book takes Cavell's enigmatic phrase as a provocation to explore the themes of education that run throughout his work from his response to Wittgenstein Austin and ordinary language philosophy to his readings of Thoreau and of the moral perfectionism he identifies with Emerson to his discussions of literature and film Hilary Putnam has described Cavell as not only one of the most creative thinkers of today but as one of the few contemporary philosophers to explore philosophy as education Cavell's sustained examination of the nature of philosophy cannot be separated from his preoccupation with what it is to teach and to learn This is the first book to address the importance of education in Cavell's work and its essays are framed by two new pieces by Cavell himself Together these texts combine to show what it means to read Cavell and simultaneously what it means to read philosophically in itself a part of our education as grownups
