

The background of the cover is a dark, deep blue or black space. It is filled with dynamic, flowing energy. Broad, translucent waves of color sweep across the frame from the bottom left towards the top right. These waves transition through a spectrum of colors: bright blue and white at the bottom left, then purple, magenta, red, orange, and finally yellow and green at the top right. Superimposed on these waves are numerous thin, glowing white lines that curve and loop, resembling particle tracks or magnetic field lines. Small, bright white and yellow dots are scattered throughout the scene, giving the impression of distant stars or subatomic particles. The overall effect is one of intense, futuristic energy and motion.
