Levinas and the Crisis of Humanism Claire Elise Katz, 2013 Reexamining Emmanuel Levinas's essays on Jewish education Claire Elise Katz provides new insights into the importance of education and its potential to transform a democratic society for Levinas's larger philosophical project Katz examines Levinas's Crisis of Humanism which motivated his effort to describe a new ethical subject Taking into account his multiple influences on social science and the humanities and his various identities as a Jewish thinker philosopher and educator Katz delves deeply into Levinas's works to understand the grounding of this ethical subject

U.S. Foreign Policy Donald M. Snow, Patrick J. Haney, 2017-08-02 U S Foreign Policy Back to the Water's Edge is based on the old idea that despite domestic differences and party politics Americans should unite at the water's edge and present a cohesive front to a hostile world The fifth edition explores this theme through coverage of the Trump administration its early policies and how Trump's initiatives fit into the broader historical patterns of foreign policy in the United States More compact than most of its competitors the fifth edition packs necessary information and concepts into a lean but readable format It contains rich historical content providing the reader with snapshots of some of the truly classic highlights and lowlights of America's record in foreign affairs Written with the student reader in mind each chapter offers several pedagogical aids designed to reinforce and extend comprehension of the material This text is also accompanied by a companion reader Regional Cases in Foreign Policy Second Edition was written by Don Snow with the specific intention of providing material and perspectives not contained in the text The reader contains fourteen mini cases that can accompany classroom discussions or lectures on subjects as diverse as relations with Russia Israel or the Islamic State specific questions like the border fence with Mexico U S Cuban relations or the British withdrawal from the European Union Brexit Case examples are drawn from all parts of the world

Ceramics, Cuisine and Culture Michela Spataro, Alexandra Villing, 2015-10-31 The 23 papers presented here are the product of the interdisciplinary exchange of ideas and approaches to the study of kitchen pottery between archaeologists material scientists historians and ethnoarchaeologists They aim to set a vital but long neglected category of evidence in its wider social political and economic contexts Structured around main themes concerning technical aspects of pottery production cooking as socioeconomic practice and changing tastes culinary identities and cross cultural encounters a range of social economic and technological models are discussed on the basis of insights gained from the study of kitchen pottery production use and evolution Much discussion and work in the last decade has focussed on technical and social aspects of coarse ware and in particular kitchen ware The chapters in this volume contribute to this debate moving kitchen pottery beyond the Binfordian technomic category and embracing a wider view linking processualism ceramic ecology behavioral schools and ethnoarchaeology to research on historical developments and cultural transformations covering a broad geographical area of the Mediterranean region and spanning a long chronological sequence

Trends in Neuroergonomics: A Comprehensive Overview Klaus Gramann, Stephen H.

Fairclough, Thorsten O. Zander, Hasan Ayaz, 2017-07-04 This Research Topic is dedicated to Raja Parasuraman who unexpectedly passed on March 22nd 2015 Raja Parasuraman's pioneering work led the emergence of Neuroergonomics as a new scientific field He combined his research interests in the field of Neuroergonomics which he defined as the study of the human brain in relation to performance at work and everyday settings Raja Parasuraman was a pioneer a truly exceptional researcher and an extraordinary person He made significant contributions to a number of disciplines from human factors to cognitive neuroscience His advice to young researchers was to be passionate in order to develop theory and knowledge that can guide the design of technologies and environments for people His legacy the field of Neuroergonomics will live on in countless faculties and students whom he advised and inspired with unmatched humility throughout the whole of his distinguished career Raja Parasuraman was an impressive human being a very kind person and an absolutely inspiring individual who will be remembered by everyone who had the chance to meet him About this Research Topic Since the advent of neuroergonomics significant progress has been made with respect to methodology and tools for the investigation of the brain and behavior at work This is especially the case for neuroscientific methods where the availability of ambulatory hardware wearable sensors and advanced data analyses allow for imaging of brain dynamics in humans in applied environments Methods such as electroencephalography EEG functional near infrared spectroscopy fNIRS and stimulation approaches like transcranial direct current stimulation tDCS have made significant progress in both recording and altering brain activity while allowing full body movements outside laboratory environments For neuroergonomics the application of brain imaging in real world scenarios is highly relevant Traditionally brain imaging experiments in human factors research tend to avoid active behavior for fear of artifacts and a contaminated data set that would provide limited insight into brain dynamics in real working environments To overcome these problems new analyses approaches have to be developed that identify artifacts resulting from hostile recording environments and movement related non brain activity stemming from eye head and full body movements The application of methodology from the field of Brain Computer Interfacing BCI for neuroergonomics is one approach that has significant potential to enhance ambulatory monitoring and applied testing Passive BCIs allow for assessing aspects of the user state online such that systems can automatically adapt to their user This neuroadaptive technology could lead to highly efficient working environments to auto adaptive experimental paradigms and to a continuous tracking of cognitive and affective aspects of the user state Hence deployment of portable neuroimaging technologies to real time settings could help assess cognitive and motivational states of personnel assigned to perform critical tasks This Research Topic gathers submissions that cover new approaches in neuroergonomics Different article type cover advanced neuroscience methods and neuroergonomics techniques as well as analysis approaches to investigate brain dynamics in working environments The selection of papers provides insights into new neuroergonomic research approaches that demonstrate significant advances in brain imaging technologies that become more and more mobile Moreover a strong trend for new analyses approaches and paradigms investigating real work settings can be seen Together this unique collection of latest research papers provides a comprehensive overview on the latest developments in neuroergonomics

Environmental Interests in Investment Arbitration Flavia Marisi, 2020-01-24 Environmental Interests in Investment Arbitration Challenges and Directions Flavia Marisi Economic growth social inclusion and environmental protection stand at the core of sustainable development which aims to deliver long term growth for current and future generations Foreign Direct Investment FDI can play a key role in sustainable development Host states benefits descending from FDI inflows include tax revenues technology transfer specialised training of local human resources network with satellite activities better availability of quality products and customer centric services These downstream effects jointly stimulate economic growth and social inclusion This thoroughly researched book explores the relationship between environmental protection the third component of sustainable development and FDI In practice the intersection between environmental protection and foreign investment not only has generated remarkable success stories such as cross sectoral green investment but has also in some instances led to severe cases of environmental degradation Certain foreign investments resulted in open pit mines leaking harmful substances into the soil excessive deforestation improper treatment of water pollution of groundwater and contamination of mud pits following oil exploitation leaving the host state with significant environmental damage Some other cases have witnessed the host state withdrawing or infringing its own environmental policies which could in principle lead to a decrease in the value of the foreign investment as a result of natural resources deterioration In recent years an increasing number of investment arbitration cases have seen a clash between the states commitments towards their citizens which include the duty to protect the environment their health and well being and the commitment towards foreign investors to protect their investments In this book the author focuses on investor state cases in which environmental protection measures have been contested and discusses substantive mechanisms in treaty drafting rules of Customary International Law and interpretation doctrines which are aimed at taking environmental concerns into consideration The topics covered include the following statistical analysis of investor state cases where environmental protection measures have been contested the role of environmental principles in investor state arbitration treaty mechanisms addressing environmental concerns legal tools available under Customary International Law to address environmental interests the application of the doctrines of proportionality police powers and margin of appreciation and environmental counterclaims as an instrument to claim compensation for environmental damage The author provides a detailed framework on the normative architecture offers an extensive analysis of the relevant case law and proposes concrete solutions to the identified clashes aimed at refining the balance between environmental and investment protection With its in depth analysis and careful documentation this book aptly captures the inherent fragmentation of international law and undoubtedly represents an invaluable resource for both international law practitioners and scholars The solution oriented approach adopted in the book will be welcomed by legal counsel law firms investment treaty negotiators and decision makers at the different stages of investment lawmaking and practice as well as by international institutions and academics
