Justice Not Silence Ezra Chitando, Sophia Chirongoma, 2013-09-01 The editors of this volume highlight the fact that although the Church often stands up for other public issues such as human rights democratic political rights economic justice etc sexual and gender based violence do not receive the attention they deserve There are no theological or cultural arguments that can justify such a position Sexual and gender based violence are a scourge that defies our Christian understanding of human dignity and challenges the Church in all its formations to respond Although most of the case studies are from Zimbabwe they challenge us regardless of which country we are living in or the tradition of our specific denomination In the context of Southern Africa where the HIV and AIDS burden is among the highest in the world sexual and gender based violence are a major contributor to the spread of the disease This will only change if the Church challenges this practice as part of its educational and public work in theological institutions in congregations but also in its pastoral work within families

Why? Sharon Dirckx, 2013-01-18 Suffering and tragedy can cause us all to ask Why Why do bad things happen If God exists why doesn't he do something Why am I being singled out Of all the hurdles to faith surely suffering must be the greatest It tears lives apart and raises questions for us all But when we ask why to whom are we addressing our question Where do the most satisfying answers come from Does it matter Sharon Dirckx unpacks our questions sensitively and wisely weaving her arguments with real life stories of anguish and pain She concludes I would like to show you that even though we don't understand everything it is still possible to believe in a powerful loving God and acknowledge the reality of evil and suffering Not only that but seeing life from this perspective helps us make more not less sense of our hurting world While we may never have all the answers it does not mean that there are no answers at all

The Wrath of God Satisfied? Tom Stuckey, 2012-08-22 What do Robben Island Colonel Gaddafi the earthquake in Haiti the riots in London credit crunch child abuse and the death of Christ have in common They are all linked by the common thread of violence Tom Stuckey reexamines the traditional theories of atonement which he argues are contextual and utilitarian as he searches for meaning and hope in these contemporary events In The Wrath of God Satisfied Tom Stuckey argues that because we live in a violent world we should not dismiss the idea of the wrath of God or the disturbing metaphors of blood debt satisfaction and sacrifice While not subscribing to the theory of penal substitution he does not dismiss it Within a dynamic interpretation of the Trinity the author draws on the insights of Athanasius Anselm Abelard Luther Calvin Julian Girard Augustine Barth and contemporary theologians to show how divine

Kahan, 2015-08-06 The relationship between democracy and religion is as important today as it was in Alexis de Tocqueville's time Tocqueville Democracy and Religion is a ground breaking study of the views of the greatest theorist of democracy writing about one of today's most crucial problems Alan S Kahan one of today's foremost Tocqueville scholars shows how Tocqueville's analysis of religion is simultaneously deeply rooted in his thoughts on nineteenth century France and America and pertinent to us today Tocqueville thought that the role of religion was to provide checks and balances for democracy in the spiritual realm just as secular forces should provide them in the political realm He believed that in the long run secular checks and balances were dependent on the success of spiritual ones Kahan examines how Tocqueville thought religion had succeeded in checking and balancing democracy in America and failed in France as well as observing Tocqueville's less well known analyses of religion in Ireland and England and his perspective on Islam and Hinduism He shows how Tocqueville's post secular account of religion can help us come to terms with religion today More than a study of Tocqueville on religion in democratic society this volume offers us a re interpretation of Tocqueville as a moralist and a student of human nature in democratic society a thinker whose new political science was in the service of a new moral science aimed at encouraging democratic people to attain greatness as human beings Tocqueville Democracy and Religion gives us a new Tocqueville for the twenty first century Why Politics Needs Religion Brendan Sweetman, 2010-07-17 Can religion and politics mix Many voices reply No way Yet in this provocative and timely book Brendan Sweetman argues against this charge and the various sophisticated arguments that support it As we witness the clash of religious and secular worldviews he claims that our pluralistic democratic society will be best served when the faith elements of secularism are acknowledged and the rational elements of religious arguments are allowed to inform the momentous debates taking place in the public square In fact Sweetman contends that politics needs religion if it is to be truly democratic concerned with fairness among worldviews equality and a vigorous public discussion God and the Philosophers Keith Ward, This timely new book from renowned theologian and philosopher Keith Ward tells us what Western philosophy's greatest thinkers from Plato and Aquinas to Kant and Hegel thought about questions such as the existence of God the nature of reality and humanity meaning value and purpose Far from being the enemy of religion philosophy has more often than not supported a non materialist view of the universe argues Ward This book will be seen as both a brilliant armchair philosophers primer on the history of religious thought Parliamentary Assembly-official Report of Debates-2005 Ordinary Session (Fourth Part) 3-7 October 2005 Council of Europe Staff, Council of Europe: Parliamentary Assembly, 2006-05-01 This volume is a collection of verbal proceedings of debates of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe at the fourth part of the 2005 Ordinary Session 3-7 October 2005 The Assembly meets four times every
