Islam Oil And Geopolitics Central Asia After September 11:

Islam, Oil, and Geopolitics Elizabeth Van Wie Davis, Rouben Azizian, 2007 Since the tragic events of September 11 Central Asia has been drawn into the intense struggle of the international community against the forces of religious extremism and transnational crime The great powers were able to put aside their geopolitical differences in order to crush al Qaeda and the Taliban With the marginalization of the Taliban and the eviction of al Qaeda from Afghanistan however the tension between the great powers is notably increasing as is the discomfort of Central Asian states who find themselves their political development and their oil reserves in the middle of a renewed Great Game Islam Oil and Geopolitics is a truly international volume including chapters written by senior scholars upcoming students in the field prominent diplomats and renowned academics from Russia China the United States and the Central Asian republics They collaborate to focus on three important issues that are usually and unfortunately analyzed separately Islamic political issues energy security and geopolitical maneuvering Once an obscure and little known region Central Asia has become an important test of America s ability to consistently promote global liberal change of Russia s true foreign policy agenda and of China s readiness to translate economic power into political influence Terrorism economics and politics all converge in this strategic region with important implications for Asia and the world This significant and timely volume helps readers understand current events in Central Asia and how those events affect the rest of the world Contributions by Kamoludin Abdullaev Rouben Azizian Gaye Christoffersen Elizabeth Van Wie Davis Feng Shaolei Pan Guang Shireen Hunter Alisher Khamidov Mikhail A Konarovskiy Najibullah Lafraie Murat Laumulin Sergey I Lounev Aleksei V Malashenko Orhon Myadar Manabu Shimizu Thomas W Simons Jr Robert Smith Sergei Trough Kang Wu and Shi Yinhong

Central Asia and the Rise of Normative Powers Emilian Kavalski, 2012-10-15 This book offers a unique analytical investigation of the international politics of the EU China and India in the context of their security strategies in Central Asia It shows how the interaction between these three actors is likely to change the frameworks and practices of international relations This is studied through their interactions with central Asia using the framework of normative powers and the concept of regional security governance Briefly a normative power shapes a target state s attitudes and perceptions as it internalizes and adopts the perspectives of the normative power as the norm The work comparatively studies the dynamics that have allowed Beijing Brussels and New Delhi to articulate security mechanisms in Central Asia and become rising normative powers This innovative study does not aim to catalog foreign policies but to uncover the dominant perceptions cognitive structures and practices that guide these actors regional agency as exemplified through the context of Central Asia It will be an essential resource for anyone studying international relations international relations theory and foreign policy analysis

China and India in Central Asia Sébastien Peyrouse, 2010-11-08 This book looks at how China and India s growing interests in Central Asia disrupt the traditional Russia U S Great Game at the heart of the old continent In the years to come both Asian powers are looking to redeploy their rivalry on the Central

Asian and Afghan theatres on a geopolitical but also political and economic level The New Silk Road Diplomacy Hasan H. Karrar, 2010-07-01 With the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 independent states such as Kazakhstan sprang up along China's western frontier Suddenly Beijing was forced to confront internal challenges to its authority at its border as well as international competition for energy and authority in Central Asia Hasan Karrar traces how China cooperated with Russia and the Central Asian republics to stabilize the region facilitate commerce and build an energy infrastructure to import the region's oil While China's gradualist approach to Central Asia prioritized multilateral diplomacy it also brought Beijing into direct competition with the United States which views Central Asia as vital to its strategic interests The New Silk Road leads through the Arab Peninsula Anna Visvizi, Miltiadis D. Lytras, Wade Alhalabi, Xi Zhang, 2019-07-10 This book is an incisive query into the origins implications and opportunities that China's Belt and Road Initiative creates for stakeholders in Asia and the Arab World It emphasises the role of cutting edge technology in boosting collaboration in the fields of politics economics business and culture across regions countries and continents The Great Powers versus the Hegemon E. Ahrari, 2011-11-15 This is a study of great power relations China India and Russia among themselves and with the hegemon United States Ahrari argues that the next decade may witness the emergence of a bipolar order where China's dominance in economics is certain however China will not seriously challenge the military dominance of the U S Energy Economy in China Kang Wu, 2013 The key subjects of the book are policy imperatives market dynamics and regional developments concerning oil and gas as well as energy as a whole in China In addition to national policies and issues the objective of this book is to study China's regional and provincial oil and gas demand supply and trade energy balances and economic development with projections up till 2020 Particular emphasis will be given to challenges facing the Chinese government in ensuring future oil and gas supplies energy security the use of natural gas in coastal provinces for power generation oil and gas related environmental issues and the need for foreign investment in the oil and gas sector development The impact of China's oil market development and imports on the Asia Pacific region will also be examined Energy Economy in China also reviews all current and future domestic and international oil and gas pipelines import plans and emerging new gas markets in China over the next fifteen years The Geopolitics of XXI Century in Central Asia Murat Turarovich Laumulin, 2007 Faces of the 21st Century, 2008 World Terrorism: An Encyclopedia of Political Violence from Ancient Times to the Post-9/11 Era James Ciment, 2015-03-10 First Published in 2015 This collection holds three volumes Terrorism is a term that defies easy definition and its meaning has also changed over the course of history Because this encyclopedia aims at comprehensiveness across time geography and the conceptual landscape it applies the broadest definition of terrorism the use of violence or the threat of violence to effect political change through fear in which the victims of the violence The encyclopedia is divided into six parts Encyclopedia of Military Science G. Kurt Piehler, 2013-07-24 The Encyclopedia of Military Science provides a comprehensive ready reference on the organization traditions training purpose and functions of today's military. Entries in this four volume work include coverage of the duties, responsibilities and authority of military personnel and an understanding of strategies and tactics of the modern military and how they interface with political, social, legal, economic and technological factors. A large component is devoted to issues of leadership, group dynamics, motivation, problem solving and decision making in the military context. Finally, this work also covers recent American military history since the end of the Cold War with a special emphasis on peacekeeping and peacemaking operations: the First Persian Gulf War, the events surrounding 9/11 and the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq, and how the military has been changing in relation to these events. Ahrari, 2010-02-26. Asia's rising power and wealth offer its many oppressed ethnic minorities hope for greater political freedom and an end to violence. But the reality of this hope is cast into doubt by acute separatist conflict. This book provides fresh and factual assessments of separatist struggles and prospects for conflict resolution in eight countries of Asia. The Future of China-Russia Relations James A. Bellacqua, 2010-02-05. Relations between China and Russia have evolved dramatically since their first diplomatic contact, particularly during the twentieth century. During the past decade, China and Russia have made efforts to strengthen bilateral ties and improve cooperation on a number of diplomatic fronts. The People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation maintain exceptionally close and friendly relations, strong geopolitical and regional cooperation and significant levels of trade. In The Future of China-Russia Relations, scholars from around the world explore the current state of the relationship between the two powers and assess the prospects for future cooperation and possible tensions in the new century. The contributors examine Russian and Chinese perspectives on a wide range of issues including security, political relationships, economic interactions and defense ties. This collection explores the energy courtship between the two nations and analyzes their interests and policies regarding Central Asia, the Korean Peninsula and Taiwan. Representations of Islam in the News Stefan Mertens, Hedwig de Smaele, 2016-04-15. The representation of Islam is unquestionably a critical test for comparing journalistic reporting across countries and cultures. The Islamic religion has weight in international reporting, defining what we termed foreign Islam, but it is also the religion of numerically important minority groups residing in Europe: national Islam. The first part of the book is setting the scene. Three chapters provide insights in dominant patterns of the representation of Islam as detected by various authors and studies involved with Islam representation in Europe. Part two, the core section of the book, contributes to the development of the field of comparative journalism studies by comparing several countries and six media systems in Western Europe: the Dutch speaking part of Belgium (Flanders), the French speaking part of Belgium (Wallonia), the Netherlands, France, Germany and the U.K. Part three of this book presents two reception studies: one qualitative and the other quantitative. Equally important as the bulk of attention goes to Western Europe is the extension towards the representation of Muslims and Islam outside Western Europe. Part four of the book is devoted to the representation of Islam

Conflict Management and Peace Making in Myanmar Effort and Its Effects Myanmar's Reforms and Opening the New Chapter with ASEAN Learning from the Past Vietnamese Foreign Policy in a Changing World Choice, 2007 The United States and Asia Robert G. Sutter, 2019-10-17 Now in a fully revised and updated edition this cogent book provides an overview of the historical context and enduring patterns of U S relations with Asia Noted scholar Robert G Sutter offers a balanced analysis of post Cold War dynamics in Asia which involve interrelated questions of security economics national identity and regional institution building He demonstrates how these critical concerns manifest a complex mix of realist liberal and constructivist tendencies that define the regional order He describes how the United States has responded to Asia's growing strength and importance while at the same time trying to maintain its leading position as an Asian power despite China's rising influence Considering the most important transition in American policy toward Asia since the end of the Cold War Sutter assesses the growing U S China rivalry that now dominates both regional dynamics in the Asia Pacific and U S policy in the region Geopolitics of Energy in Central Asia Ramakrushna Pradhan, 2020-12-23 This book focuses on the geopolitics of Central Asia which has emerged as the new fertile ground for oil and energy resources It analyses the scramble for energy and control over the region by many nations and their diplomatic manoeuvrings to ensure energy sufficiency and economic growth The book provides a quantitative analysis of the Central Asian energy potential and offers an understanding of the unique position that each country occupies in the geopolitics of oil and energy in the region It looks at aggressive foreign policies by countries like the US China the European Union Japan Israel Iran and Pakistan focusing primarily on India's position and strategies in the region within the new great game The book further examines the dynamics between Central Asia and India and India's policies for geopolitical engagement and diversification of energy sources This volume will be of interest to researchers and students of political studies international relations economics sociology and Asian studies It will also be useful for policymakers and professionals working in the field of energy security and geo economics The Kazakhs Chokan Laumulin, Murat Laumulin, 2009-08-01 Here is a well informed concise introduction to the culture and history of the vast territory of Kazakhstan equivalent to the size of Western Europe located at the centre of geographical Eurasia Written by two brothers one a distinguished scholar and the other well known in Kazakhstan's media the book focuses on the Kazakh people who today make up over half the population of some 15 million Topics covered include Kazakhstan's historical heritage including the Soviet legacy its geography and the national psychology religion and culture and how to do business Kazakhstan first appeared on the world stage in 2001 with the opening of its oil pipeline linking its vast Tengiz oil field with the Russian Black Sea port of Novorossiysk China's New Diplomacy Professor Zhiqun Zhu, 2013-11-28 In the first edition 2010 Zhiqun Zhu examined the rationale and strategies of China's new multi directional diplomacy since the early 1990s and assessed its impact on international political economy as well as responses from the international community This fully revised second edition is still based on extensive research addressing these and other important policy issues whilst incorporating the latest major Chinese diplomatic activities since the last edition was published. This book continues to cover Chinese initiatives in the Middle East, Latin America and the Caribbean, Africa, Central Asia, Southeast Asia and the South Pacific and studies China's current efforts to secure energy and other resources to expand trade and investment and to enhance soft power around the world. The author further evaluates how China's activities affect these regions' political economy and how the international community, especially the United States, has reacted to China's new diplomacy. Whilst continuing to answer some lingering questions about Chinese foreign policy and its implications for both China and the international community as they become increasingly interdependent, this paperback edition is adapted for classroom use and provides questions for discussion to help readers review the key empirical and theoretical points of each chapter.
