Islam Past Present And Future:

Islam Hans Kung, 2007-04-26 For more than two decades the world religions have been a central topic for Hans Kung. In books which have inspired millions throughout human society he has pioneered work towards a new dialogue between cultures. In this extraordinary comprehensive book he gives an in depth account of Islam describing paradigm shifts in its 1400 year history outlining the various currents and surveying the positions of Islam on the urgent questions of the few present day theologians could have written such a complete analysis in a world where understanding of global politics requires a knowledge of Islam. This is a perfect place to start.

Islam Hans Küng, 2007 Past, Present, and Future of Kashmir Raj Kumar Singh, 2008 The book Past Present and Future of Kashmir deals in detail with the problem of the State of Jammu and Kashmir. Beginning with the political history of the state in ancient times it presents a chronology of Kashmiri rulers: Hindus, Muslims and the British respectively. When India was to become independent it was ruled by a Hindu King who failed in either way to decide the fate of the territory like other princely states of India. As a result of the mini war between India and Pakistan a portion of it was held by the latter and is known as Azad Kashmir. In post independence phase it continues to be a contentious issue between the two neighbours and caused four devastating wars over it. Pakistan has complaints over its accession to the Union of India because at the time public at large were not consulted. The very composition of Pakistani society and political system as well witnessed a sea change towards the direction opposite to India. In recent years the two have realised the futility of third party began to look forward for better bilateral understanding to great rid of this vexed problem.

The authors unique qualifications as students of history and the residency in Cyprus of one of the authors provide a unique perspective not likely to be found elsewhere.

From Postmodernism to Postsecularism Eric Walberg,2013-07-31 Eric Walberg s new book From Postmodernism to Postsecularism Re emerging Islamic Civilization provides an overview of imperialism and colonialism in the Muslim world It elaborates on the third of the Great Games addressed in his earlier work Postmodern Imperialism which traced the movement of history from the colonialism of the British and other empires through the neocolonialism of the US empire to the current Great Game marked by the revival of Islam Walberg reviews the Islamic reform traditions from the 19th century on deriving from Al Afghani Qutb incorporating the Islamic critique of the West as well as the Sunni Shia mainstream Sufi Salafi divisions Then he addresses the twentieth century experience of Islamic states Saudi Arabia Pakistan Afghanistan Iran as well as the current dynamics of the Muslim world Saudi Iran Qatar Turkey and now Egypt Tunisia Libya Key actors and milestones in the struggle to free the Muslim world from the imperial yoke are discussed While the Christian Judaic surrender to capitalism led to Marxist secularism and the communist utopia Walberg views the Islamic project as containing an alternative socio economic orientation This prevented the rise of capitalism imperialism in lands populated by

Muslims making them the losers in the technology race of the 19th 20th centuries but the repository of a corrected vision of the rich lost values of the earlier monotheistic traditions Here modernity and postmodernism are critiqued from both left and right and Islam is discussed as both an alternative worldview and world order However the contradictions of the Arab Spring may be resolved as the West continues its decline Walberg projects how the understandings entrenched in Islamic civilization point toward a new old civilizational alternative one not derivative from the West but indigenous to the developing world still under its heel

Islam and China's Hong Kong Wai-Yip Ho, 2013-06-07 Hong Kong is a global city state under the sovereignty of the People's Republic of China and is home to around 250 000 Muslims practicing Islam However existing studies of the Muslim majority communities in Asia and the Northwest China largely ignore the Muslim community in Hong Kong Islam and China's Hong Kong skillfully fills this gap and investigates how ethnic and Chinese speaking Muslims negotiate their identities and the increasing public attention to Islam in Hong Kong Examining a range of issues and challenges facing Muslims in Hong Kong this book focuses on the three different diasporic Muslim communities and reveals the city state's triple Islamic heritage and distinctive Islamic culture It begins with the transition from the colonial to the post colonial era and explores how this has impacted on the experiences of the Muslim diaspora and the ways this shift has compelled the community to adapt to Chinese nationalism whilst forging greater links with the Gulf Then with reference to the rise of new media and technology the book examines the heightened presence of Islam in the Chinese public sphere alongside the emergence of Chinese Islamic websites which have sought to balance transnational Muslim solidarity and sensitivity towards Chinese government's concern of external extremism Finally it concludes by investigating Hong Kong's growing awareness of the Muslim minorities demands for Islamic religious education and how this links with the city state's aspiration to become the new gateway for Islamic finance Indeed Wai Yip Ho posits that Hong Kong is now shifting from its role as the broker that bridged East and West during the Cold War to that of a new mediator between China and the Middle East Drawing on extensive ethnographic research this book thoughtfully charts a new area of inquiry and as such will be welcomed by students and scholars of Chinese studies Islamic studies Asian studies and ethnicity studies

The Idea of European Islam Mohammed Hashas, 2018-07-24 Suspensions about the integration of Islam into European cultures have been steadily on the rise and dramatically so since 9 11 One reason lies in the visibility of anti Western Islamic discourses of salafi origin which have monopolized the debate on the true Islam not only among Muslims but also in the eyes of the general population across Europe these discourses combined with Islamophobic discourses reinforce the so called incompatibility between the West and Islam This book breaks away from this clash between Islam and the West by arguing that European Islam is possible It analyzes the contribution that European Islam has made to the formation of an innovative Islamic theology that is deeply ethicist and modern and it clarifies how this constructed European Islamic theology is able to contribute to the various debates that are related to secular liberal democracies of Western Europe Part I introduces four major projects that defend the idea of European Islam from different disciplines and perspectives politics political theology jurisprudence and philosophy Part II uses the frameworks from three major philosophers and scholars to approach the idea of European Islam in the context of secular liberal societies British
