Islamic Book In Bangla:

Islam in Bangladesh Razia Akter, 2021-12-06 This study done within the comprehensive Weberian framework focuses on religion and social change in Bangladesh through an imaginative use of qualitative as well as quantitative methods of modern social research. It first provides a sociological interpretation of the origin and development of Islam in Bengal using historical and literary works on Bengal. The main contribution is based on two sample surveys conducted by Mrs Banu in 20 villages of Bangladesh and in three areas in the metropolitan Dhaka city. Using these survey data, she gives a sociological analysis of Islamic religious beliefs and practices in contemporary Bangladesh and more importantly, she studies the impact of the Islamic religious beliefs on the socio-economic development and political culture in present-day Bangladesh. She also shows how Islam compares with modern education in social transforming capacity. This careful and rigorous work is a notable contribution to sociology of religion and helps to deepen our understanding of the interactions between religious and social changes common to many parts of the Third World.

Islamic NGOs in Bangladesh Mohammad Musfequs Salehin, 2016-01-13 NGOs (Non Governmental Organizations) have emerged in both a development and aid capacity in Bangladesh, providing wide-reaching public services to the country's population living in extreme poverty. However, resistance to and limitations of NGO-led development, which in conjunction with Bangladesh's social transformation, led to a new religious-based NGO development practice. Looking at the role of Islamic NGOs in Bangladesh, the book investigates new forms of neoliberal governmentality supported by international donors. It discusses how this form of social regulation produces and reproduces subjectivities, particularly Muslim women's subjectivity, and has combined religious and economic rationality, further complicating the boundaries and the relationship between Islam, modernity, and development. The book argues that both secular and Islamic NGOs target women in the name of empowerment, but more importantly, as the most reliable partners to meet their debt obligations of micro-financing schemes, including sharia-based financing. The targeted women, in turn, experience Islamic NGOs as less coercive and more sensitive to their religious environment in the rural village community than are secular NGOs. Providing a comparative study of the role of religious and secular NGOs in the implementation of neoliberal policies and development strategies, this book will be a significant addition to research on South Asian Politics, Development Studies, Gender Studies, and Religion.

Islam and Politics in Bangladesh Mubashar Hasan, 2020-01-27 This book conceptualizes the politics of Bangladesh through an Islamic concept called ummah or the global brotherhood of Muslims. It demonstrates that, against the backdrop of geopolitics, capitalism, and free flow of ideas, localization of this global religious concept at individual level, institutional level, major party platforms, and state has cemented the current political condition in Bangladesh, in which religiosity, religious intolerance, Islamization, and extremism take place. By exploring the effects of ummah in Bangladeshi politics, this book shows how major political parties have mainstreamed political Islam in the country. The book rejects the long-standing scholarly claim of religious/secular distinction in Bangladeshi politics and argues that with most Muslim dominated states there are no major secular parties in Bangladesh There are only Islamic parties which are more or less Islamic The purely rational domain of politics in Bangladesh is long lost and political Islam sets the framework for politics in the country The reason behind this logic of Bangladeshi politics is formed contained and expanded by ummah
