Questioning the 'Muslim Woman' Nida Kirmani,2016-03-16 The marginalisation of Muslims in India has recently been the subject of heated public debate In these discussions however Muslim women are often either overlooked or treated as a homogenous group with a common set of interests Focusing on the narratives of women living in a predominantly Muslim colony in South Delhi this book attempts to demonstrate the complexity of their lives and the multiple levels of insecurity they face Unlike other studies on Indian Muslims that focus on Islam as a defining factor this book highlights the ways in which religious identity intersects with other identities including class status regional affiliation and gender The author also sheds light on the impact of such events as the Babri Masjid demolition in 1992 and the subsequent riots the Gujarat communal carnage in 2002 and the anti Sikh violence in New Delhi in 1984 along with the rise of Hindutva and growing Islamophobia experienced worldwide in the post 9 11 period on the articulation of identities at the local level and increasing religion based spatial segregation in Indian cities The study highlights how these incidents combine in different ways to increase the sense of marginalisation experienced by Muslims at the level of the locality Understanding the need to look beyond preconceived religious categories this book will serve as essential reading for those interested in sociology anthropology gender religious and urban studies as well as policymakers and organisations concerned with issues related to

Ittaman, 2003-06 Transformation of forms of Indian temples takes place through a dual process time as well as space These two patterns of transformation through time and while representing time in space reflect one another closely Both are processes of emergence expansion and proliferation which simultaneously imply differentiation and fusion growth from the dissolution into unity One of the richest traditions of temple building that India has produced took shape in the 7th century A D centred in what is now the state of Karnataka and lasted until the 13th This was one of the two main branches of Dravida or Southern temple architecture giving rise to such famous temples as the Virupaksa Pattadakal Ellora and the Hoysalesvara Halebid These are analysed alongwith more than 250 other buildings in this monumental study that for the first time explains the Karnata Dravida tradition as one continuous coherent development The book with its numerous analytical drawings will be welcomed for the way it shows how to look at these great monuments and makes their complex architecture accessible It is clearly shown how the formal structure of a temple makes concrete the idea of manifestation of the transmutation of the eternal and infinite into the shifting multiplicity of existence and the
