Greene, 2017-07-12 In recent years theoreticians researchers and practitioners have become increasingly interested in older adults and the aging process This volume draws on related disciplines to better understand the biological psychological and social aspects of aging Social Work with the Aged and Their Families covers areas of central interest to those coping with the needs of an aging population Among the topics addressed are assessment of the aging taking into account biological age psychological age and socio cultural and spiritual age Greene also considers the importance of the family system family roles and development functional age individual and family intervention and group and community interventions The scientific and systematic study of aging is known as gerontology Geriatric social workers are those who have applied established social work theories in an attempt to find suitable techniques for working with their elderly clients The need for specialized services has given birth to various services and programs For example meals on wheels and home health care services have been designed to meet specific physical needs of older adults However mental health services have lagged far behind as practitioners struggled to adapt such specialties as family therapy to families of later years A major contribution of this book now in its third edition is the functional age model of intergenerational treatment FAM which is an outgrowth of that demand The functional age model of intergenerational treatment is an integrative theoretical framework for social workers interested in clinical social work practice with older adults and their families Since its initial construction in 1986 the model has been augmented by more recent concepts related to successful aging spirituality and resiliency These additions together with the original assessment and intervention strategies present the major converging conceptual trends that constitute a model for twenty first century social work practice in the field of aging

Applications of Counseling and Psychotherapy Earl J. Ginter, Gargi Roysircar, Lawrence H. Gerstein, 2018-03-22 Theories and Applications of Counseling and Psychotherapy provides students with the foundational knowledge needed to implement various therapeutic approaches in individual and family counseling. The dynamic author team presents theories through a multicultural and social justice oriented lens including evidence to support each theory. The papers which appear here were presented at the 2nd Convention of the Asian Psychological Association hosted by the University of Malaya in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, during June 2008. The Asian Psychological Association (APSA) was founded in Bali, Indonesia, in August 2006 to give a voice to academic psychologists from all countries teaching throughout Asia and to psychologists practicing in China, Malaysia, Indonesia, India, Bangladesh, Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos, Japan, Thailand, Korea, Pakistan, Iran, Turkey, the Philippines, and other countries on the Asian continent. Until its recent establishment, no large professional organization existed for Asian psychologists. Psychology is growing more rapidly as a discipline within Asia than in any other part of the world. It is adapting to the philosophies, history, and religions within Asia as it blends Western science with Eastern practices. The information presented here is a valuable window into how the discipline is developing in Asia and a must read for psychologists, counsellors, academics, and others with an interest in psychology throughout the world. Counselor As Consultant David A. Scott, Chadwick W. Royal, Daniel B. The book's strong focus on intentionality, reflection, and wellness helps readers develop a strong sense of counselor identity while its structure and exercises reinforce learning. Abundant exercises and case illustrations help counselors in training translate theory into practice and learn the essential skills needed for consultation positions. A Counseling Primer Mary H. Guindon, Jessica J. Lane, 2019-09-19 A Counseling Primer, second edition, introduces students to the profession of counseling, reviews its training curriculum, discusses current professional standards, and presents basic counseling skills. The text is designed to answer students' most commonly asked questions around the who, what, where, when, why, and how of counseling. Updated and aligned with the eight 2016 CACREP core areas, the second edition includes new chapters by experts from seven entry-level specialty areas including school counseling, career counseling, and mental health counseling. The book also contains useful features to enhance the learning experience, including case examples, class handouts, and activities, a sample syllabus, discussion questions, and more. Glanzer,2022-07-18 American higher education historically and inherently is a morally formative endeavor Yet in order to respond to America s moral pluralism higher education has increasingly taken a reductionistic approach to moral formation Consequently it abandoned the effort to supply students with moral expertise Current approaches help students learn how to be excellent professionals and citizens but they fail to provide the necessary tools for living the good life in college and beyond Identity Excellence A Theory of Moral Expertise for Higher Education addresses this problem by setting forth a multi disciplinary theory of moral expertise for fostering moral excellence in an array of important identities To this end it teases apart the essential elements of what it means to be excellent in an identity before discussing the philosophical sociological psychological and educational processes necessary for students to internalize traditions of identity excellence as part of their own moral identities Overall the emergent theory exposes the shortcomings in contemporary general education professional ethics and co curricular education Finally this book sets forth a bold but compelling vision for a more hopeful future for American higher education As outlined within such education involves teaching students excellence in the Great Identities as well as how to prioritize and integrate their pursuit of identity excellence The Counselor Educator's Survival Guide Dilana M.
