Integrating Use Of Force Training:

Integrating Use of Force Training Daniel Rice, 2013-10-15 Integrating Use of Force Training is a practical guide detailing the how to in proposing designing and implementing a scenario based integrated use of force law enforcement training program Rather than discuss theological points of statistics and physiological behaviors of police training this book gives the use of force practical guidance on running a scenario based training program It doesn't matter the size of the agency this program can be and should be used in every law enforcement agency because it works It works because officers quickly learn what works and what doesn't using dynamic training Reduce litigation risks in police use of force reduce injuries to both officers and suspects and increase officer safety through the best training possible There is no other method of training that meets the results of dynamic scenario based fully integrated use of force training as described in this book If you are a firearms instructor or a defensive tactics instructor read this book now and you will immediately understand that you are not what you thought you were You are a use of force instructor and you can make the most dramatic and positive change in your agency than anyone has done in the history of your agency This book is a no holds barred attempt to give you the foundations of this program in order to be up and running quick without having to spend months or years in study and research Scenario based training is not new however using scenario based training in use of force training where officers have the ability to use any tool on the entire use of force continuum is new Don't be the only agency in your area still relying on outdated and ineffective training methods Excite your officers to learn with effective training that they will look forward to attending rather than try to avoid The author gives over a decade of experience of a use of force instructor state certified defensive tactics instructor state certified firearms instructor multiple certified use of force instructor PPCT and others and developer of one of the first integrated use of force programs in the country POLICE TRAINING Michael T. Charles, 2000-01-01 In his capacity as researcher and director of the Police Training Institute at the University of Illinois Michael T Charles undertook the difficult task of making needed changes to the police training academy curriculum In Police Training Breaking All the Rules he gives the reader an overview of the history of police training in Illinois and follows with a description of the organizational and cultural changes that he helped to bring about These include discussions of changes in areas such as method of teaching pedagogical versus andragogical discipline quasi military versus nonmilitary and fitness training morning program versus wellness program The author also describes the steps taken to redefine student rules and regulations regarding an Honor Code and dress code He outlines the administrative goal of providing recruits the opportunity to learn to follow orders in an atmosphere of mutual respect an expectation of success and team effort Instructional personnel and staff were key to the process of changing the Institute and its culture The author relates the actions taken to develop standards of quality including a mission statement goals and organizational philosophy As a result of the director's efforts the Institute's reputation for quality training research and innovation had been greatly enhanced and is now a leader in police training
