Making Housing Happen 2nd Edition Faith Based Affordable Housing Models:

Making Housing Happen, 2nd Edition Jill Suzanne Shook, 2012-09-19 The growing housing crisis cries out for solutions that work As many as 3 5 million Americans experience homelessness each year half of them women and children One in four renters spends more than half of their income on rent and utilities more than 30 percent is considered unaffordable With record foreclosures and 28 percent of homes underwater middle and low income homeowners are suffering Many congregations want to address this daunting problem yet feel powerless and uncertain about what to do The good news is that churches are effectively addressing the housing crisis from Washington State to New York City where an alliance of sixty churches has built five thousand homes for low income homeowners with virtually no government funding or foreclosures This book not only presents solid theological thinking about housing but also offers workable solutions to the current crisis true stories by those who have made housing happen Each story features a different Christian denomination geographic area and model adaptive reuse cohousing cooperative housing mixed income mixed use inclusionary zoning second units community land trusts sweat equity and more Making Housing Happen is about vision and faith relationships and persistence Its remarkable stories will inspire and challenge you to action This new edition includes significant new material especially in light of the ongoing mortgage crisis

Gone for Good? Mark Elsdon, 2024-01-09 Is your church facing the difficult decision to sell property Consider using church buildings and land to further the gospel mission Mark Elsdon author of We Aren't Broke Uncovering Hidden Resources for Mission and Ministry revisits questions of church resources with a team of pastors scholars developers and urban planners This collection of essays sheds light on how church communities can transform their properties to serve their neighborhoods Essays explore spiritual sociological and practical aspects of church property transition including assessing the impacts of churches on their neighborhoods and the gaps they will leave behind developing church property into affordable housing transforming ministry in rural churches partnering with Indigenous peoples to return land fostering cooperation between congregations developers and city planners navigating zoning laws working with foundations and funders Thousands of church properties worth billions of dollars are being sold or repurposed each year Nothing can stop the currents of change But congregations and cities can take steps now to ensure a legacy directed toward communal good rather than private interests Gone for Good will be an invaluable guide in navigating these radical shifts in church life and ministry Contributors Jennie Birkholz David Bowers Philip Burns Mark D Constantine Joseph W Daniels Jr Patrick Duggan Mark Elsdon Ashley Goff Jim Bear Jacobs A Robert Jaeger Willie James Jennings Tyler Krupp Qureshi Eileen Lindner Elizabeth Lynn Nadia Mian Kurt Paulsen Jill Shook Cot Soerens Rochelle A Stackhouse Keith Starkenburg Andre White

Bio-Inspired Materials Ulisses Targino Bezerra, Heber Sivini Ferreira, Normando Perazzo Barbosa, 2019-04-16 Nature has provided opportunities for scientists to observe patterns in biomaterials which can be imitated when designing construction materials Materials designed with natural elements can be robust and environment friendly at the same time

Advances in our understanding of biology and materials science coupled with the extensive observation of nature have stimulated the search for better accommodation compression of materials and the higher organization reduction of mechanical stress in man made structures Bio Inspired Materials is a collection of topics that explore frontiers in 3 sections of bio inspired design i bionics design ii bio inspired construction and iii bio materials Chapters in each section address the most recent advances in our knowledge about the desired and expected relationship between humans and nature and its use in bio inspired buildings Readers will also be introduced to new concepts relevant to bionics biomimicry and biomimetics Section i presents research concepts based on information gained from the direct observation of nature and its applications for human living Section ii is devoted to artificial construction of the Earth This section addresses issues on geopolymers materials that resemble the structure of soils and natural rocks procedures that reduce damage caused by earthquakes in natural construction the development of products from vegetable resins and construction principles using bamboo The last section takes a look into the future towards the improvement of human living conditions Bio Inspired Materials offers readers having a background in architecture civil engineering and systems biology a new perspective about sustainable building which is a key part of addressing the environmental concerns of current times Understanding the Culture Jeff Myers, 2017-03-01 Addressing issues such as gender identity abortion technology and poverty Dr Myers challenges readers to ask How can an authentic Christian worldview provide a compassionate effective witness in culture today Dr Myers first shows readers what they can learn from Christian history and why today s issues might not be as new as they seem Then he takes them through the significant topics that affect them every day offering biblical ideas for conversing with others in an increasingly hostile culture This capstone book to a groundbreaking worldview trilogy equips readers to apply a bold Christian witness to their relationships with loved ones neighbors and colleagues Business Improvement Districts and the Contradictions of Placemaking Susanna F. Schaller, 2019-07-15 The livable city the creative city and more recently the pop up city have become pervasive monikers that identify a new type of urbanism that has sprung up globally produced and managed by the business improvement district and known colloquially by its acronym BID With this case study Susanna F Schaller draws on more than fifteen years of research to present a direct focused engagement with both the planning history that shaped Washington D C s landscape and the intricacies of everyday life politics and planning practice as they relate to BIDs Schaller offers a critical unpacking of the BID ethos which draws on the language of economic liberalism individual choice civic engagement localism and grassroots development to portray itself as color blind democratic and equitable Schaller reveals the contradictions embedded in the BID model For the last thirty years BID advocates have engaged in effective and persuasive storytelling as a result many policy makers and planners perpetuate the BID narrative without examining the institution and the inequities it has wrought Schaller sheds light on these oversights thus fostering a critical discussion of BIDs and their collective influence on future urban landscapes The Poor Side of Town Howard A.

Husock,2021-09-21 This book combines a critique of more than a century of housing reform policies including public and other subsidized housing as well as exclusionary zoning with the idea that simple low cost housing a poor side of town helps those of modest means build financial assets and join in the local democratic process It is more of a historical narrative than a straight policy book however telling stories of Jacob Riis zoning reformer Lawrence Veiller anti reformer Jane Jacobs housing developer William Levitt and African American small homes advocate Rev Johnny Ray Youngblood as well as first person accounts of onetime residents of neighborhoods such as Detroit s Black Bottom who lost their homes and businesses to housing reform and urban renewal This is a book with important policy implications built on powerful personal stories

Funding Forward Grace Duddy Pomroy,2024-09-17 Many congregations across the country are coming to two seemingly unrelated realizations First the Sunday morning offering may not be enough to sustain their mission Second their ministry has been so internally focused that they are almost entirely disconnected from the community they are called to serve Funding Forward provides a path to help a congregation discern God s mission reconnect with the neighborhood and find a new more economically sustainable model for ministry Drawing on years of teaching research and field work Pomroy shows there are no one size fits all solutions for church and nonprofit finances There is no single model that will work for every ministry Each economic model has a distinct shape because each ministry has a distinct mission and community However common tools span these ministry models repurposing church property social enterprise impact investing grants multi vocational ministry and more While the tools and models can spark creativity congregational leaders often wonder what process they might use to discern God s mission which tools will work best in their context and how they might get other congregational leaders on board Discernment and execution are much more challenging than the ideation process Funding Forward can help ministers and ministries move through the funding forward process from start to finish paying special attention to the leadership challenges and pitfalls they might encounter along the way Hurtin' Words Ted

Ownby,2018-10-31 When Tammy Wynette sang D I V O R C E she famously said she spelled out the hurtin words to spare her child the pain of family breakup In this innovative work Ted Ownby considers how a wide range of writers thinkers activists and others defined family problems in the twentieth century American South Ownby shows that it was common for both African Americans and whites to discuss family life in terms of crisis but they reached very different conclusions about causes and solutions In the civil rights period many embraced an ideal of Christian brotherhood as a way of transcending divisions Opponents of civil rights denounced brotherhoodism as a movement that undercut parental and religious authority Others especially in the African American community rejected the idea of family crisis altogether working to redefine family adaptability as a source of strength Rather than attempting to define the experience of an archetypal southern family Ownby looks broadly at contexts such as political and religious debates about divorce and family values southern rock music autobiographies and more to reveal how people in the South used the concept of the family as a proxy for imagining a better future or happier past Making Housing Happen, 2nd Edition Jill Suzanne Shook, 2012-09-19 The growing housing crisis cries out for solutions that work As many as 3 5 million Americans experience homelessness each year half of them women and children One in four renters spends more than half of their income on rent and utilities more than 30 percent is considered unaffordable With record foreclosures and 28 percent of homes underwater middle and low income homeowners are suffering Many congregations want to address this daunting problem yet feel powerless and uncertain about what to do The good news is that churches are effectively addressing the housing crisis from Washington State to New York City where an alliance of sixty churches has built five thousand homes for low income homeowners with virtually no government funding or foreclosures This book not only presents solid theological thinking about housing but also offers workable solutions to the current crisis true stories by those who have made housing happen Each story features a different Christian denomination geographic area and model adaptive reuse cohousing cooperative housing mixed income mixed use inclusionary zoning second units community land trusts sweat equity and more Making Housing Happen is about vision and faith relationships and persistence Its remarkable stories will inspire and challenge you to action This new edition includes significant new material especially in light of the ongoing mortgage crisis Shook and her colleagues powerfully blend inspiration and practical reality weaving together the need for affordable housing the teachings of the prophetic tradition and the tangible accomplishments of churches and other faith based organizations around the country This book should be read by any person of faith ready to put that faith into practice Alan Mallach Senior Fellow of the National Housing Institute and Brookings Institution Making Housing Happen brings hope and delivers it to the non expert in a clear digestible and comprehensive way Drawing on the experience of housing providers all over the country Shook blends inspiration and practicality in just the right proportions Tim Iglesias University of San Francisco School of Law Making Housing Happen captures the diversity of faithful approaches to addressing the wide range of housing needs in our nation Jill s brings these stories together with a policy lens and a theological narrative that is unparalleled Before reading the book I struggled with how to address the deep wounds of the housing crisis in a faithful way After reading the book I was moved and inspired to work with communities of faith to find solutions to homelessness Making Housing Happen is an incredible resource and reference tool for me as I mobilize congregations to create and advocate for housing with dignity in my community It s stories and examples are full of inspiration hard earned wisdom and hope Allison Johnson Plymouth Church Neighborhood Foundation Making Housing Happen gives students inspiring examples of how they can participate in making a difference in the lives of people throughout the community It is real practical and personal Making Housing Happen brings the dry statistics of America s affordable housing crisis to life with moving stories of struggle and triumph Dr Russell James III University of Georgia Shook has collected wise and astute commentary from the experts in the field of housing Together they offer the theological and biblical insights we need to motivate us to address a crisis in America Church people need to do something about this crisis
