

EXERCISES: INTERNAL CONTROLS OVER CASH

1. (BANK DEPOSITS) Serrano Company's policy for store sales collections requires that the cashier must deposit its available cash on hand at the end of the day. Cutoff time is 4pm, meaning to say, all cash collections received for the day UNTIL 4pm will be deposited in its depository bank. The store office hours run from 8am to 5pm. Any cash collected after the cutoff until 5pm will be deposited the following day together with its cash collection for that day.

The following details relate to November 5:

Cash sales, per tape receipts (in coins and currencies) – 13,455

Petty cash fund – 3,000

Change fund – 1,000

Cash stored in the store vault collected after 4pm on November 4 – 540

Cash collections after cutoff, November 5 – 730

What is the amount of cash deposited in the bank on November 5?

2. (CASH VAULT) A store office keeps all its cash funds, undeposited collections, including checks collected and checks for issuance, bank deposit slips, tape receipts, check booklets and O.R. booklets in a cash vault for safekeeping. During the weekend when the store office was closed, the store was robbed and the cash vault was opened and the money stored in the vault was stolen.

After a thorough investigation was made by the company's internal auditor, it was found out that:

- ✓ October 30 cash sales per POS terminal amounted to P24,000
- ✓ Checking of bank statement revealed that a deposit from the store office was made on October 30 amounted to P22,100
- ✓ October 29 cash sales per POS terminal amounted to P17,800 and it was identified that P3,100 (out of this P17,800) was cash sales after cutoff and was not included in its October 29 bank deposit.
- ✓ Per ledger, there is a store petty cash fund of P5,000 assigned for petty items purchases.
- ✓ 2 check booklets were also missing.

What is the total amount of cash in the safe vault that was stolen?
