When working with a bilingual child, assessment and intervention may appear to be even more complicated. In this book, Sean Pert provides the reader with the tools needed to overcome this perception and develop skills in working in a language that they don't share with the client. By adopting a home language first approach, the book discusses how to identify diversity from disorder, introduce effective approaches in line with the best clinical practice, work successfully alongside interpreters, make assessments and plan interventions, set goals for therapy. At the heart of the text is the therapist creating essential partnerships with parents and truly valuing the bilingualism, culture and identity of the child. This leads to better outcomes not only in speech, language and communication but also in self-esteem, mental health, social participation and educational and employment success. The book concludes with a handy toolkit of resources including quizzes, case studies and printable extras, making it the perfect resource for both experienced and newly qualified practitioners with bilingual and multilingual children in their care.

Foundations of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism Colin Baker, 2006-01-01 Written as an introductory text from a cross-disciplinary perspective, this book covers individual and societal concepts in minority and majority languages.

Language Strategies for Bilingual Families Suzanne Barron-Hauwaert, 2004-05-27 Lots of new parents these days have the opportunity to bring up their child with two or more languages because of increasing job mobility and the global community. The benefits of bilingualism and biculturalism, such as higher cognitive skills, an awareness of language and sensitivity to other cultures, are being increasingly recognised. However, many parents don't know how to start, what methods to use or where to seek help when facing problems. Now Suzanne Barron-Hauwaert, a mother of three trilingual children, teacher and linguist who has lived and worked all over the world, has written a book which provides an inspiring approach to passing on two or more languages to your children. In Language Strategies for Bilingual Families, she considers several methods of bilingualism and focuses on the one person, one language approach in which each parent speaks his or her native language and is responsible for passing on his or her culture. Suzanne questioned over a hundred bilingual families about their experiences and she interviewed thirty families in depth. The results of her study are linked to current academic research, but the book is both readable and relevant to non-academics and provides fascinating insights into being a multilingual family. It will prove an exciting and stimulating read for potential and current mixed language families.

Contemporary Applied Linguistics Volume 2 Li Wei, Vivian Cook, 2009-08-23 A comprehensive survey of the ways in which linguistics is being used by researchers in a wide range of interdisciplinary areas.

World Class Initiatives and Practices in Early Education Louise Boyle Swiniarski, 2013-12-11 This book offers current international initiatives developed for working with children from Birth to Eight by a diverse group of noted professional authors Their readings present an overview of early education as it evolved from the Froebelian kindergarten to today's practices in various Early Education settings around the globe. The international voices of the authors represent a balanced perspective of happenings in various nations and lend a conversational approach to each chapter. The chapters analyze the Universal Preschool Education movement promoted by various countries, states, and agencies; examine model curriculum programs in a variety of teaching/learning settings; and identify directions the community can take in promoting effective early education programs. Particular attention is given to key issues and concerns faced by practitioners and families worldwide. Studies reveal successful approaches to bilingual education in a Chilean kindergarten; research findings on gender differences in primary school girls for learning science in Wales; literacy development strategies for teaching in UK multicultural classrooms and childhood centres; the process of integration; special education with early childhood practices in China; and exemplars of community outreach to improve the well-being of children through advocacy for governmental changes in early education policies and professional development. This book is for everyone interested in the well-being of young children moving forward in a global age to meet the challenges of early citizenship in their world. Bilingualism in International Schools Maurice Carder, 2007-01-10

International Schools have developed since their inception from a largely native English-speaking student body to schools such as the author's the Vienna International School (VIS) where there are students of 90 nationalities with 65 mother tongues. Maurice Carder proposes a three-programme model for addressing the language and curricula needs of these students: a content-based second language programme; a programme of cultural and linguistic training for all staff; and a mother tongue programme for minority students. The model is based on research findings and practice at the VIS every year approximately 1/3 of the graduating students gain an IB Diploma International Baccalaureate because they are able to take their mother tongue other than English or German as Language A1. The book contains insightful chapters not only for school leaders, programme designers, and teachers but also for parents. Inserted boxes of student responses give an authentic voice to the needs of second language learners and many useful resources and websites are given. Bilingual Literacy Development at Home Yang Wang, 2025-09-30 This book explores pedagogical implications for how children read, write, respond to literature, and begin to learn an additional language in the home context. Using a longitudinal ethnographic study, it explores a bilingual child's literacy development over a span of four years from kindergarten to the third grade in a real-life home context in the United States. Written from a parent-researcher's perspective, it illustrates the child's Mandarin Chinese and English language support at home and in the community during the pandemic and charts the development in bilingual reading and writing. Multimodal reading responses to children's literature and learning Spanish as a third language. Through rich and detailed descriptions, the case study methodology allows a clear articulation of the project's focus and foregrounds the exploration of reading as a sociopsycholinguistic process, as well as highlighting multimodality in reading and writing responses, translanguaging, and bilingual and bicultural identities to study and teach culturally and linguistically diverse children It will be a valuable resource for literacy researchers scholars and bilingual educators with interests in sociolinguistics literacy education bilingualism and translanguaging
